LOCAL IMPROVEMENT BONDS TO BE SOLD AT THE BEST PRICE.

Why Orillia and Millbrook Debentures Sold High—Mill-st. Residents Want a Sewer—Other Business.

Our town fathers met in regular session Monday night at 7.30, Mayor Sootheran and all members present. The minutes of last meeting were read by Town Clerk Knowlson, and were duly confirmed.

Communications.

From C. E. Grant, Clerk and Treasurer of Orillia, stating that they sold an issue of $52,000 4 per cent. debentures to Hanson Bros. Montreal, at $99.05.—Tyled.

From B. F. Reesor, L. H. & P. Co., drawing the attention of Council to the fact that their street light globes were being broken apparently by boys throwing stones. Between 30 or 40 globes had been destroyed, as well as several lamps damaged. A reward offered by Council might stop the trouble, and he asked that some action be taken. A reward of $5 will be offered.

From Hugh O'Leary, on behalf of Mr. F. Connell, asking for a remission of taxes on brewery property to cover the time his brewery was idle in 1903, from date of fire in March.

Finance committee, respecting Local Improvement taxes on Convent property.—Tyled.

From Tax Collector Nicholls, respecting same, and stating that Archdeacon Casey had refused to accept the settlement arrived at in committee.

From Stewart & O'Connor, with reference to the same matter, and suggesting that it be referred to the County Judge.—To this Mayor Sootheran objected on the then we could get, and learned that the debentures, which sold at 99 5-100, ran for 20 years, with interest payable half-yearly, and were guaranteed by the County of Simcoe. The Watchman-Warrior also commented some time ago on the fact that Millbrook had sold debentures at a better rate than Lindsay could secure, but the fact was that a private investor paid a special price for a $5000 lot needed for a particular purpose.

Ald. McCrea—"What is the best offer?"

Clerk Knowlson—"The Dominion Securities Co. offered 96 1-4 on Sept. 18th, but the bid may not hold good now."

Mayor Sootheran—"We have to get rid of the present lot of bonds—we're losing money every day, having to pay the bank 5 per cent, and they're not anxious to accommodate us even at that figure. The price of debentures is falling—we could have got 97 early in the spring, but we've sold them, but you thought we ought to get more and held back. Now I'm prepared to move that we dispose of the debentures at the best figure possible."

Ald. Cinnamon—"That will mean a deficit, sure."

Ald. Maunders—"I'll second the Mayor's resolution."

Ald. Storor—"I would like to hear from Ald. O'Reilly, as he blocked the sale before."

Mayor Sootheran—"Ald. O'Reilly was like some others and thought the offer of 97 was too low. He cannot be blamed for trying to get more."

Ald. O'Reilly—"Ald. Storor has no doubt sold money high one year and found the price rule lower the next. I said at the time of the first offer that I was not in favor of selling the town debentures at less than par, but apparently in this instance it cannot be helped. In future cases I would be willing to make the interest 4 1-2 per cent, or even 5 per cent, if necessary to avoid any loss."

Mayor Sootheran's resolution was then put to a vote, a 1 was adopted.

A petition was read from John Carew, W. Hungeford, Dr. F. A. Walters and others, asking that an electric light be placed at the junction of William and Colborne-sts.

CORRESPONDENTS' LETTERS

LITTLE BRITAIN.

(From Our Own Correspondent.) Married at the residence of Mr. G. Irwin, in Little Britain, on Sept. 28th, by Elder A. N. Henry, of the Christian church, Mr. Henry White, of Toronto, to Miss Eva J. Brown, daughter of Edwin Brown, Valencia.

The bride and groom both have attended the Deaf and Dumb School and can talk in their language as well as any of us can in our language. Both the bride and bridegroom are very clever and well respected by all who know them. They departed on the evening train for their wedding tour with the best wishes of not only their friends and acquaintances, but the community at large.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Eck, of Lindsay, paid a short visit to Mrs. F. H. Wallis on Tuesday, Oct. 4th.

Elder Henry, who had the task of performing a marriage ceremony at Oshawa on the 21st, when Mr. Cory DeGuerre, of Toronto, formerly of Woodville, and Miss Artie McGill, of Oshawa, were united in holy bonds of matrimony.

The revival meetings which have been taking place in our Methodist church during the past two weeks have been very successful and helpful. The different appointments on the circuit were well represented at nearly all the meetings, and every one seemed interested in the revival.

Mrs. Ann Rodman has been improving her now commodious dwelling by erecting a cement wall under it.

Mr. E. E. Dillman, Mr. J. J. Glass, and Mr. L. Rodgers, were in Lindsay on Friday last to get information regarding the forming of a Rifle Club at Little Britain. The above named and Dr. Hall and Messrs. V. and Leslie Poggie, joined the Lindsay Rifle Association. We understand Mr. E. E. Dillman is going to contest for some of the prizes given at the rifle matches held in Lindsay on Thursday of this week. We might say it would add considerably to the sport if our village if the Club is formed, which we think can be done if any move whatever is made toward the organization of one.

Another addition has been made to the already large number of monuments in our Christian cemetery. Mr. Alex. Smith, of Glandine, has erected a fine monument in memory of his beloved wife. It was supplied by R. Chambers, of Lindsay.

We notice Mr. Lye, who was appointed as temporary agent at Mariposa Station after the very sudden death of Mr. Murray, former agent, has lately been given the appointment as a permanent position. He has brought his wife and family with him. We give Mr. Lye and family a hearty welcome as one of our community.

The Rev. Mr. Brown, of Kingston, paid a flying visit to several of his friends in our village on Friday last. We notice he has failed considerably since he gave the lecture on the Mammoth Cave of Kentucky some few years ago, but he still has the same old smile in the same old way.

Mrs. R. Roach and son have departed from our village for their home in Windsor.

The work of repairing and enlarging our town hall is advancing rapidly. It is expected it will be completed in about another week or two, when we will have a hall that we can boast of as far as the inside part, at least is concerned, which is receiving the attention.

Miss Annie Rodman, who is employed in the service of the Hon. Sydney Fisher, Minister of Agriculture at Ottawa, spent a few days under the parental roof last week.

Miss E. Cornish, of Toronto, spent a few days at her sister's, Mrs. S. Irwin, last week.

Mrs. Smith, of Toronto, was the guest of Mrs. J. Dushane last week. Saturday morning Mrs. J. Blevett and son departed for Toronto from whence, after a short stay, they will return to their home in Chicago.

Mrs. T. H. Wallis, our enterprising stock buyer, returned from Haliburton Friday morning, 30th, where he had been buying stock.

Miss Mabel Shaver, of Toronto, paid a flying visit to her home last week.

On Sunday morning and evening, Oct. 1st, Rev. Mr. J. J. Rae, of Oshawa, delivered two very fine sermons in our Methodist church. The best of attention was given by the large congregations which filled the body of the church and everyone seemed to drink in a good many of the good things which were said.

Mrs. J. Jenkins, Miss Louie Jenkins and Mr. Charlie Jenkins, attended the Black Watch Band concert held in Lindsay last week. They report it as being something grand.

Mr. Augustus Shaver, and Mr. Newton Shaver, who were home to spend their vacation, have returned to Victoria University to resume their studies.

Mr. F. Rooks and Mr. Howard Wickett, two of our young men, have gone to Manitoba, Mr. Rooks going for his health partly, and Mr. Wickett going to take a position as railway telegraph operator.

Dr. E. Greenaway, of Toronto, was home to spend a few days under the parental roof, but has again returned to resume his practice at the Brompton Hospital, of Toronto.

Miss Louie Jenkins and Miss Edna Greenaway, two of our young ladies have gone to Toronto to put in a term at the Conservatory of Music. They were both in our choir, and Miss Greenaway being organist of the choir, they will be missed very much from our midst. However, Mrs. R. Oliver is taking the position of organist, and it is to be hoped our choir will hold its well earned reputation.

Mr. Revel, carriage trimmer for D. Sinclair, carriage manufacturer, of Lindsay, was at Mr. R. S. Robertson's on Tuesday, Oct. 4th, doing some trimming on Mr. Robertson's show figs.

"JUST BEEN TO TOWN TO GET THE SEASON'S SUPPLY OF THE THINGS I'M GOING TO NEED IN MY BUSINESS AS A CANADIAN FARMER."

score of expense, and the Finance committee will again consider the matter.

From the Town Solicitor, in reference to the unused gas lamps on the street. He advised that the Co. be notified to move them at once, and if not complied with Council should have the work done and sell or store the lamp posts.—Police and Lighting committee, with power to act.

From Jas. Roach, Road Commissioner, Ops, urging that a second grant of $15 be made for the repair of the western boundary road.—Ald. Robinson—"Eyle it, we have no money."

Mayor Sootheran—"That would not be fair or courteous; we can't expect the township to keep up the boundary roads. We should at least give our reasons for refusing."—Board of Works, with power to act.

From the Captain and Secretary of the Fire Brigade, asking for six suits of rubber clothing.—Town Property committee.—Chairman McWaters—"What's the use—it's been before us a dozen times and you refused to grant it."

From Jas. M. Chambers, asking that the cement walk petitioned for by the property owners on the south side of Wellington-st., between Sussex and Albert-sts., be proceeded with at once, as he wished to erect several houses on his lot in that vicinity.—Referred to North Ward committee on new walks.

From Mrs. Noddo, asking exemption from dog tax.—Tyled.

From W. C. Way, Town Engineer, protesting against a decision of committee to make him pay for the cost of typewriting duplicates of his reports to Council.—Mayor Sootheran—"It would not be right—Mr. Way submits a written report, and that is all we can expect."—Referred to Board of Works.

Sale of Town Bonds.

Town Clerk Knowlson called attention to a pile of correspondence in connection with offers for the town's unsold Local Improvement debentures, and pointed out that late bids were lower than those previously refused.

Mayor Sootheran—"In connection with this sale of bonds I wish to make an explanation in reference to a paragraph which recently appeared in The Post concerning a sale of bonds by Orillia Council. I wrote to the Town Treasurer in order to find out the reason why they obtained a better offer for 4 per cent. bonds fees and market tolls during September.—Tyled.

Clerk Knowlson read a Local Improvement petition, signed by A. O. Loughlin and others, asking that a sanitary sewer be constructed on Mill-st., between Glencliff and Melbourne-sts.

Ald. Storor—"I'm not going to vote for any more sewers this year, and I intend to move that the one on Glencliff-st. be not proceeded with this year. My reason for this is that the sewer on Durland-st. has been neglected—a dozen old women with teaspoons could have thrown back more earth than has been shovelled into the sewer since the pipes were laid a couple of weeks ago."

It looked as if the petition would be rejected, whereupon Ald. O'Reilly remarked that it was strange that some people could get sewers while others could not. Every property-owner but two had signed the petition because their cellars were full of water and their houses damp whenever a rainy spell prevailed. If Council turned the petition down they would have to appeal to the Board of Health.

Mayor Sootheran—"I can't understand why there should be any hesitation about granting the petition—the town will only have to pay for the street intersection, 33 feet."

The engineer's report on the sewer was then endorsed. The sewer will be 264 feet in length, with six laterals 38 feet long, and the estimated cost is $875, of which the town will pay $80. Clerk Knowlson was authorized to advertise the Board of Revision and call for tenders.

Reports of the standing committees on Police and Lighting, Board of Works, Town Property and Finance were read and adopted.

He Wants a Rebate.

On motion Mr. Thos. Robson was heard in connection with the taxes on his tannery for 1903. The agreement under which he secured partial exemption obliged him to employ a certain number of hands for ten months in each year, and he had sold out at the end of eight months in the neighborhood. The yield he expects to be somewhere around forty bushels to the acre.

Mr. Eph. McGill is the owner of a three-year-old Canadian Star, and those who pretend to know something about the qualities that go to constitute a good trotting horse claim that Eph. has one with all the points required by a winner in the ring. He will be heard from in next year's fall fair events.

A number of our citizens complain of the conduct of some of the young boys who annoy the old lady in charge of the north end store in the evenings. Whilst it may be fun for the boys it shows very bad taste on their part, and besides is very annoying to the patrons of the store. Who go there to do their shopping in the evenings. Shame, boys, you should be above anything so low as playing tricks on a poor, defenceless old woman.

LEVER BROTHERS LIMITED, TORONTO

There's easy, good washing ahead for the Sunlight Maids trusted that the gold hunger of our lookout would let nothing of value escape us on the road to Spain.

For 15 long days did we patrol the seas on narrow sloop, without sighting a sail. On one night a mermaid was reported by Job Trehallon as having sung to him as he hung over the tiller, and he told us with a shamefaced chuckle that it must have been the comeliness of his features which attracted her. Another afternoon we hailed a monster shark aboard and ate him, with the greater relish when we remembered that he would doubtless have done the same by us had the tables been turned.

On the fifteenth night we watched, with no little uneasiness, a pale, flickering flame passing along the waters in coiling curves some two leagues off toward the north-northwest. The knowing ones said it was the breath of the great sea serpent prowling in search of prey and would have tried to scare it away with a shot from our big gun had not Alce flatly forbidden it. Now, though at the time I thought this vote of his ill judged and foolhardy, as tending to make the men careless in guarding against the common dangers of the deep, yet, as the issue showed, it was the luckiest thing for us that the men did not have their way; for had the noise of firing gone abroad just then the reward of our patient search would have slipped away ere we could pluck it, and we should never have known the rich prize we had lost.

Scarcely had the last flicker of the sea serpent's trail died into the night when Job Trehallon, who as the keenest sighted man on board was jockeying the fore-crosstree, hailed that another light was shining out now.

"What kind of light?" cried Alce.

"A clear, steady glow, sir, though it isn't a light at all."

"Where away?"

"Down to lo'ard. Square ahead."

At the welcome news we slackened our sheets, put the helm up and ran off before the wind to see what manner of company that light promised us.

When we had run half a league, Job sang out that there were three lights now and that he could make out that they were the poop lanterns of a large ship hove to end on to us.

In an instant all was preparation. Our numbers were small, but the 32 men who assembled without needing a drum to beat them to quarters were tough as whiptoad and wiry as gamecocks. There were no pretence hands to hinder matters by overwilling hurry and bustle, nor were there any cowards who would duck to flying bullets. Each man knew his place and his work and went to it. Guns were cast loose and loaded, pikes unslashed from the booms, axes and small arms taken from their racks, livestock tubs arranged along the decks, the powder room thrown open and everything cleared for action. Yet all this was done with the greatest quietness, so that if possible we might creep up within range of the enemy undiscovered.

The night was dark and suited our purpose well. The Scourge's course was down the wake of the few rays of moonlight that crept through the cranied clouds, but the side of her clothes which faced the Spaniard was shrouded in heavy shadow. The galleon, on the other hand, was plainly visible to the eager eyes which peered over our bulwarks. She was hove to, as is the cautious habit of the dons during even the finest night, and her heavy bow now thrashed down into the swell and now shot off a cataract of foaming water as the break rose again into the salt laden air. She was riding very dead, and many were the congratulatory rib nudges when the men saw how low she lay in the water.

"An 800 ton galleon," rumbled out Willie Trehallon in a growling whisper. "Eight hundred ton, never a less, if my eye hasn't lost its trick of measuring, an laden that deeply her waist's 'most flush w' the wave tops. There'll be tidy pickings behind those stout ribs of hers, very tidy pickings."

"Oh, ho, ho!" chuckled the old man softly. "Counting the moldores and forgetting the caballeros that—"

Then, smacking your lips over the tidy pickings like my burly Jack here, whose soul thrills after plunder more than his belly does after drink. But, Bontswain Willie and Lieutenant Jack, there's going to be a bloody fight first, eh?

"Ah, ha! It's a blissfully growsome time I see ahead for the galleon yonder. Sleek sides hacked through and through with shot, carvings splintered and gildings blackened, her pilons plucked, her fabric dismantled, and her scrappers will bleed till the sea around glows like an autumn sunset. Oh, ho, Captain Ireland! You're like to choke our good friends, the sharks, with very surfeit before this world is a night and a day older."

"Think of it! Scarce a shot will leave your guns that does not dull its speed on human flesh. That galleon has not spare housing for a fly. She's crammed down with men close as peas in a pod, soldiers and servants, passengers and cooks, marines and officers. There should be nearly 600 pairs of ears aboard her. Saints! What a merry conceit it would be to shred off those same ears and carry 'em home like a string of dried figs as a present to her most gracious majesty! What say you, Jack Topp, shall we do it?"

I was about to make a sharp answer, for the old dotard's savagery sickened me, when Alce sternly called for silence for fear that our voices should give the alarm. And so I held my tongue, and the old man subsided into smothered gurglings.

Save for the creaking of the gear and the gentle splash of the water against the bows we crept as quietly as a craft full of specters. But the noises inseparable from the working of a vessel or case the men or danger in the air, which, they say, a Spaniard is especially quick to scent, at length stirred the drowsy sentinels to their duty, and presently the noise of great confusion came to us over the water.

On board the Spaniard terror and tremulous preparation were everywhere. The portholes opened, and brass cannon grinned through them and gleamed evilly in the moonlight. A swarm of battle lanterns flew aloft and perched like fireflies in the rigging. An attempt was made to get the galleon under way so that she might answer her helm and thus be easier to fight. But her people were a more disorganized mob, each trying to be useful, but entirely without order or discipline, and so crowded as they were they succeeded best in getting into each other's way. Some drew to the sheets and braces, some merely hurried about bawling orders and directions to whoever would listen, and some loaded ordnance and small arms with frantic haste. These last, as soon as the charges were rammed home, were fired. Bow chaser, stern chaser and broadside pieces were fired as fast as the gunners could load them, but as they did not trouble themselves to take any special aim the volleys may perhaps have disturbed the fishes, but from us, the enemy, they drew not groans, but grins.

There the great galleon lay helpless, like some wooden island, spitting innocuous fire from every point. But the Scourge drew on under perfect command and in perfect silence.

When we were almost aboard of the enemy, Alce put down his helm and, running across her bows, poured in a heavy raking fire as each gun bore and then, getting before the wind again, came back under her stern and repeated the dose from the same places. While they were still lying helplessly head to wind he went about once more and, sending his starboard broadside into her poop windows as he shot past, ran away to northward and engaged at long range.

Hitherto, save for a few shot holes in the sails, a trailing rope or two and here and there a white jagged splinter, we had suffered nothing. But Alce had noted that the don's fire was steady down as discipline began to assert itself, and knowing that one well aimed broadside must either dismantle or sink us, remembered that in a fight against heavy odds brains and not brute force should be the watchword. So, confident in the powers of his long gun, he sheered off to a distance and began pelting the Spaniard with single shots as fast as the piece could be loaded.

The don, on his part, after a quarter of an hour's furious cannonade, grew tired of firing at a mark which was obviously beyond the range of his guns and, setting his sail trimmers to work, got the galleon on the larboard tack. She was headed for Margherita, and it was plain to us that she intended to run for shelter under the batteries of El Pueblo del Norte.

By one of fate's revenges these Spaniards were hoist by their own mine, for on the old man's advice we crammed each gun to the muzzle with the very shackles and wrist cuffs that had chained some of us to a galley's bank and, taking the quoins from the gun carriages, let fly a cloud of inquisitorial engines that brought everything down by the run about their ears. Fetters were never put to finer use.

A cheer went up as we saw the galleon with foremost gone below the round top, mainyard cut through in the slings and rigging all in hopeless blights, full head to wind, lying an unmanageable hulk on the water.

But rejoicing came too soon. In answer to Alce's summons to surrender a tall armored figure sprang on to the poop and, halting us, swore he'd fight the ship while two planks of her held together.

The cheer died on our lips. The armored Spaniard was Don Miguel del Cassanoro.

CHAPTER XXVII.

"Hello!" cried Alce, somewhat taken back at this unexpected meeting. "By all the wickedness in Spain, Don Miguel del Cassanoro in the flesh!"

"As you'll soon find to your cost, sea robber. You've overshot your mark this time, Senior Captain Ireland."

"Perhaps so," said Alce unconcernedly. "But pardon my surprise, senior. I hoped you were a ghost long ago. Too wicked to be drowned, eh?"

The Spaniard whipped out a venomous oath and yelled to his men to fire again. A broadside crashed over our deck, too high fortunately to do much injury to the low lying hull, but our long gun was dismantled and our bowsprit snapped off short just outside the gunnery.

Then indeed for awhile the battle raged in grim, red earnest. With the forestay carried away we could do nothing but lie head to wind parallel to our antagonist until a ruse necessary was rigged. Had it been blowing fresh we might have had her round before the wind and so run to a distance to refit. But the firing had flattened down the light breeze almost to a dead calm, so we had perforce to stay where we were.

In a strait like this we had counted upon being able to row the Scourge out of danger, as we had already rowed her up alongside a prize in a calm, but now, as fortune would have it, an unlucky round shot entering in at an open port had hit the six sweeps as they lay lashed on the deck and had broken every one of them into two. And so, with the decks becoming more of a shambles every minute, we stood our ground and fought the guns like furies, and though our pieces were outnumbered by more than two to one we hoped by serving them twice as quickly to return as good or even better than we got. Besides, every shot of ours found a billet somewhere in the Spaniard's hull, while many of his, through the greater elevation of his guns, flew harmlessly over the little Scourge. Had it been otherwise we could never have hoped to keep her afloat.

While we were still at a cable's length from the enemy's stern a strange thing happened. A sailor ran to the poop, leaped overboard and swam as though for his life toward us. Spanish shot pitted the water round him like thunder drops in a pond, but as he held up his hand as if appealing to us for assistance we engaged his assailants and made them think rather of their own skins.

The swimmer meanwhile came up alongside and, getting his fingers into the main chains, scrambled on board. Though vastly changed by the hard-

The Love of Eating.

IS THE AMERICAN BECOMING A GOURMAND?

In our largest centers of population, such as New York and Chicago, we daily see more attention given to the inner man. Cafes and lunch-rooms are filled with men and women who seem to give all their time and attention to thoughts of property or improperly feeding their stomachs. "It is of course best to eat slowly, but not too much," says Dr. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. "In this 20th century people devote so much time to head work that their brain is lagged and there isn't sufficient blood left to properly take care of the other organs of the body. The stomach must be assisted in its hard work—the liver started into action—by the use of a good stomach tonic, which should be entirely of vegetable ingredients and without alcohol. After years of experience in an active practice, Dr. Pierce discovered a remedy that suited these conditions in a blood-maker and tissue-builder. He called it Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—an alternative extract that assists in the digestion and assimilation of the food in the stomach—so that the blood gets what it needs for food and oxidation, the liver is at the same time started into activity and there is perfect elimination of waste matter. When the blood is pure and rich, all the organs work without effort, and the body is like a perfect machine."

GOOD PUMPS

The day of iron pipes and cast iron cylinders is past, as the public know from experience what you want when you buy a pump is galvanized iron pipe, brass cylinder and steel rods, which do not rot or taint the water.

We are making a large bore brass cylinder and steel rod pump which will outwear and throw more water than any pump on the market.

to nothing. His duty, he said, was to war against Spain. His conscience was satisfied that by destroying her shipping he wounded her mortally, but his conscience would never consent to killing men other than in fair fight.

On deck I was loyal to my captain, as was my duty, but in the cabin I spoke my thoughts freely, as was a sworn shipmate's privilege.

"The crew is getting surly," I told him one day, "with this long continued ill success, and it will take little to make their muffled grumblings break out into open mutiny."

"What will they have?" he answered impatiently. "But sailors are the same all the world over. I make not the slightest doubt that Shem, Ham and Japheth growled against themselves on deck whenever Captain Noah was in his state cabin. But let our lads say what they want, and I am ready to listen. It is not as if they were hired for a set trading voyage to a certain port and back again, with thumb marks and crosses duly set against an agreement and bounty money pocketed and guzzled before the anchor was tripped. I am their captain only by election and hence to a certain degree their servant."

"How if they depose you?"

"Then I shall serve under the new captain. Who is it to be—yourself?"

"You know me better than to think that," said I warmly.

"Yes, Jack, I do. But who else is there?"

"Willie Trehallon."

"Willie Trehallon would never take the cross staff from my hands. Besides, he does not know how to use it. But what about the old man? He had the ear of many of the crew, and from what I hear was a shipmaster before he fell into the hands of the Spaniards."

"I can well believe that," said I.

"It was only the other day he took the cross staff in those twisted fingers of his, shot the sun, ciphered out his reckoning on the slate and, turning round, 'Oh, ho, oh, Master Topp!' he chuckled. 'He's a lubberly navigator who cannot find his position to a matter of three minutes.' And then when I had gone over the work afresh and found that he seemed to be right, 'Ah, ha, ha, Master Topp, you're a better scholar with cudgel than with pencil. More weight in the forearm than in the head, eh? Stick to the sea long enough and you'll blunder a stout ship ashore yet before you're hanged.' And he would have added more in the same strain, but I didn't wait to hear it."

"Ah," laughed Alce, "the old man's infirmities protect his skin from the frowning of John Topp's fist, and the old man's wit is too sharp pointed to take a frowning from John Topp's tongue."

"Maybe," said I slyly, "but I have no fancy to be taught by a daff man."

"Why not, if he knows something you don't? Put your pride in the powder room, Jack, along with the other touchy explosives, and remember that every man on this earth has something to teach. At least, so I have found. The mummer chap from Stratford says that there are sermons in stocks and stones and good in everything."

"Where's the good in a Spaniard?" I asked slyly.

"To fill land and build towns for her majesty's illegs some time to occupy and for the present to gather gold for you to plunder."

"Right!" said I. "Then let us set about the plundering. I tell you this profligate cruise must cease or there'll be powder burning within the walls of the fortress. The men's souls will come shortly if you don't give them—" and paced red

The crew is getting surly, I told him one day.

Jack. If you and the other rascals are so greedy for gold, you can put the Scourge about whenever you please. And I—I'll fight her for you down to the last plank when the time comes."

Without another word I sprang up the ladder.

The men were idling about the hot decks in surly knots of threes and fours, but the news brightened up their sullen faces as rain does a parched prairie. They jumped to their stations like a parcel of holiday school-boys. Up went the stowed forestall, the headsails sprang aloft like larks, and driven by eager arms the windlass heaved us up to the stream anchor at which we were riding.

"Flatten in the starboard jib sheet there and cant her head off! Hand-somely, now! There she comes round, the beauty! Forward there, let draw and sheet home! Now, helmsman, set her head north-northeast and by north and keep her so till we are clear of the island!"

A good whole sail breeze was coming from the east by south, which tempered the sun's bracing rays to a pleasant warmth and sent us swooping along through the smooth Caribbean sea on one of our best points of sailing. The hands were in high good humor at the thought of a full dressed prize. A cask of rich alecane had been brought on deck and broached, and thus with most cheerful augury we began our new quest.

Patriotism might wait. It was plunder's turn now.

CHAPTER XXVII.

As long as we were within sight of Margherita we held on though making for some of the Windward group, for we knew that there would be watchers on the cliffs, to say nothing of the pearl fishers in their canoes, who would at once spread the news of our neighborhood, and so spoil our chance of making a capture, unless we could manage to baffle them. But when the highest peaks of the islands were just visible as dots on the horizon from our mastheads, we hauled our wind and began making short boards under easy canvas to north and south alternately. By this means we kept our position as far as possible unchanged, just out of sight of Margherita, and GRAVE DANGER AHEAD FOR MR. BORDEN.

THE COUNTRY.—"Don't want to discourage yeh from takin' an interest in this here railway of ours, Mr. Borden, but I'd just like to intimate that ef yeh don't gee up a bit an' git off the track yeh're goin' t' git knocked hig her'n a kite before long."

A FALLACIOUS ARGUMENT.

A Conservative argument claims that in 1902-3 "Americans bought from Canada 62 cents' worth of merchandise per head of population, whereas Canadians per head of population bought from the United States about $21.46." Further "per head of population the Americans bought only about ten cents' worth of Canadian farm products, while Canada bought from the United States about $2.90 worth of the same kind of farm products per head of population." The Conservative contention seeks by this argument to show the necessity for increasing the Canadian tariff on imports from the States. The reader will at once note the fallacy involved in reducing imports and exports to a per capita basis when of the two countries interested one contains about six, the other eighty million of people. But let us meet this "reasoner" on his own ground by reversing the process and dealing not with purchases but with sales.

Our exports (sales) of all kinds of goods to the United States in 1903, came to $72,400,000. That is to say if there are six million Canadians, each Canadian sold $12 worth of stuff to our neighbours.

Their exports (sales) of all kinds of goods to Canada in 1903, amounted to $138,000,000. In other words, if there are $80,000,000 Americans, each American sold to Canada $170 worth of merchandise.

Coming to agricultural products alone, including animals and their produce, our exports (sales) of these commodities to the United States last year were $9,000,000 or $1.50 per capita. Their exports (sales) of like commodities to us were valued at $16,000,000 or 20 cents per head of their population.

Consequently each Canadian sells seven times more agricultural products to the United States than each American sells to Canada, and the same result works out in the case of exports at large, that is to say, each Canadian sells seven times more to them than they sell per head to us. The Conservative argument turns out, therefore, to be a kicking gun.

Of course, the per capita basis is not a sound basis; it can be made to prove anything. It suited the Conservative writers' purpose to employ it in the case of sales, where, upon he is at once driven up a tree.

SIR WILFRID'S GREAT SPEECH AT SOREL.

As we reproduce some of the chief points of the Premier's magnificent opening address at Sorel, Que., the other day:

"I thank Providence that He has made us His instrument to give these favors to the people. But I ask especially those Conservatives who may be here if the fact that Providence is with us in any reason why the people should be against me?"

"This policy of amity, of conciliation, I put into practice as soon as I had in my hands the destinies of the country. If the country is prosperous to-day it is due to the adoption of this policy."

"When we reformed the tariff in 1895 it was done after a preliminary investigation, and it is the intention of the Government to have another investigation to find what are the needs of the country, and to prepare legislation in accordance therewith."

"I introduced the preference policy, and I am ready to defend it; you have already secured the profits of it. We gave the British preference because we want British trade. Great Britain is our best market."

"Are you going to continue that policy? On that point the answer is easy. It has been before the country for two years. It was given, not in Ottawa or in Canada, but in the heart of the Empire at London, at the Colonial Conference, when I declared to the Empire that I and my colleagues of the Government were ready to make a trade treaty."

"These thousands of settlers (in the Northwest), must have all the supplies of modern civilization as well as the materials for their work. Who is to supply all this? We naturally wish that it should be the manufacturers of Canada and not the manufacturers of the United States. We want them to buy their supplies here, to ship their products out through our country, and get their supplies in the same way."

"I am getting old at the rate of twelve months every year, but I believe I will live long enough to see that railway built and to see the merchandise of Asia and Europe passing and repassing along it, as well as the trade of Canada."

"The future of our country is immense. If ever I had confidence in my country, and God knows I always did, if ever I had faith in my own country, it is since I began to study this plan for the new railway."

"It (the G.T.P.) will, of course, cost money, but I will show you that we have made such a bargain with the Grand Trunk that it will really not cost the country anything. We will borrow this money at three per cent., build the road, and lease it to the Grand Trunk for three per cent., practically taking the money out of one pocket and putting it into the other."

"I admit that a part of this road should be built by the Government, but I am opposed to its operation by the Government, as experience has shown that a railway administered by the Government is neither satisfactory nor able to make proper returns."

A ONE HORSE ISSUE.

The Montreal Gazette will have nothing to do with Government ownership of railways, the chief dish offered by Mr. Borden, and even girds at municipal ownership of minor utilities. The issue which the Gazette has introduced into the campaign in place of Government ownership and which it is handling with rare skill and pathos, is a piebald horse, six, ten years old, that draws a mail cart in Montreal. It appears that the work of collecting letters from the boxes and branch offices in Montreal is performed by a contractor, who employs horses, one of which is said to be but a sorry remnant of a horse, a mere shadow, of its pristine glory. The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals got after this base contractor the other day, and with Sir William Mulock's hearty approval, haled him to the police court, where justice was done in the premises. Yet the Gazette gravely accuses Sir William of being responsible for the shattered condition of that horse—no connection of the male sheep Dan that once constituted the Tory platform in Ontario politics—and calls upon all respectable people to punish him by voting him and his colleagues out of office. It is not a thesis calculated to elevate our political ideals to any great extent, but an organ that is fighting shy of its party's principal plank must needs do something to make amends. The piebald's name, by the way, is Sir Charles and there is a suspicion that the P.M.G. is shamefully using him out of hatred for the robbust war-horse of Cumberland.

But there is another side to the story. Rumor says the contractor bought Sir Charles from Colonel Sam Hughes, M.P., who rode him in his South African campaigns with My Servant Turpin clinging on behind and waving aloft the flag that used to flabbergast De Wet—a banner bearing the legend "The Old Flag, the Old Man, the Old Policy." If this be true, and it is not denied by the Gazette, then it is obvious that Colonel Hughes must share the responsibility with Sir William. Did the Duke of Wellington sell his Waterloo charger to a P. O. contractor?

The fact that Government ownership exists elsewhere proves nothing—certainly does not prove that it is adapted to our social, political and moral climate. In Germany and other European countries the State owns and operates the railways in part for military reasons. In Australia the States own and operate them in order to ensure the speedy development of the country, but, though the official reports are satisfactory enough, the tor or Napoleon Bonaparte his while Marengo to a sausage maker? By no means. Every school boy knows that, when the war drums ceased to throb for them, those historic animals were carefully put away in clover and lived to a green old age. Why, then did Sam allow Sir Charles to fall into Grit hands and thus doom him to serve Sir William Mulock in this menial capacity?

The Gazette grades this side of the question. Speaking with all respect, the least Colonel Hughes could have done when he had sheathed his gory blade was to dedicate Sir Charles to the Orange lodge at Lindsay for service on each recurring Twelfth. Almost any lot in life would have been preferable to that of dragging a red cart for a Rouge P.M.G. through the streets of a town most of whose inhabitants live and die without getting the "annual" and probably without being aware that this gallant steed once carried the two heroes who by their own unaided efforts saved the Empire many a time and oft in the Boer War, and alas! got nothing for the job.

In days of old, when one Arthur Wellesley was winning his spurs in India, an Irish ballad-maker chanted the deeds of Private Mulock of the Mayo corps that was in the forefront at Bhurnigur. The two armies were standing in battle array about sunrise on that eventful day when this remarkable occurrence took place before the eyes of all: The Hindoo King he climbed a tree, a spy-glass in his eye, To see his murdering pagans our British valor try; But soon he gasped, grew pale and shook, and cried in tones of woe—"Pa jukurs, let me out of this—there's Andy Mulroe."

And the campaign thereupon terminated. (Wellington obtained the credit, Andy got sixpence a day, So in South Africa, Sam and Servant Turpin and Sir Charles snatched British victory from British defeat several times a week—at any rate as often as was necessary—yet what is their reward? Servant Turpin has retired to his humble home at Fenelon Falls, Sir Charles is dying by inches far from home and kindred under Mulock's intolerable regime, Sam is about to be overwhelmed by the Grits in Victoria, and the Canadian House of Parliament shall know him no more! Vanities of vanities, this is a chilly world for loyal men and beasts under Laurier rule.

A BITTER PILL.

The high and dry Tories, those who still proudly speak of their party as the "party of gentlemen" are incensed at Mr. Borden's bidding for the Socialist vote in Manitoba and British Columbia. What is the mission of Toryism, they ask, if not to combat the radical and revolutionary doctrines preached by these people; and how can he justify his action in practically making an alliance with them that is bound some day to prove exceedingly embarrassing? Government ownership and operation of railways is about the last thing that would have occurred to the Tory party under its former leaders; in fact these leaders repeatedly went out of their way to denounce it, and spoke with the authority of men who had had experience of the Intercolonial.

The fact that Government ownership exists elsewhere proves nothing—certainly does not prove that it is adapted to our social, political and moral climate. In Germany and other European countries the State owns and operates the railways in part for military reasons. In Australia the States own and operate them in order to ensure the speedy development of the country, but, though the official reports are satisfactory enough, the brought out by outsiders show that the policy conduces to extravagance, inefficiency and corruption—to a condition of things, in short, familiar to ourselves in connection with the Intercolonial. Sixty years ago the British parliament took power to purchase all the railways after a period of 21 years, but no one seriously advocates such a step to-day, the results of State operation on the Continent having demonstrated, that, allowing for all its imperfections, company ownership and operation is preferable in the public interest. In the United States our Socialist friends desire to see the railways and everything else nationalized, so that society may be resolved in the end into a vast pooling arrangement whereby the strong shall maintain the weak and the thrifty support the improvident. But as in England, so in the States, the temper of the Anglo-Saxon race is not favorable to such experiments and the acquisition of the railways by Government is advocated by few outside the diminishing Populist party and the Socialists proper.

How many Canadians familiar with the history of the Intercolonial would care to see that road carried to the Pacific? What would be the consequence to the farmers and others constituting the bulk of the population, who are and would continue to be served by company lines? Would they not have to pay commercial rates on their own produce together with extra taxes to make up the loss arising from the political or electioneering rates granted to the settlers along this transcontinental road? Mr. Borden ignored the interests of this multitude and listened only to the shrill cry of Mr. Maclean of the Toronto World, whose mission is to save mankind by patent cure-alls that come to him in his dreams.

Above all, Mr. Borden is flying in the face of the traditions and present temper of his party, which accounts in the main for the striking apathy and want of enthusiasm reported by disinterested persons who have attended his meetings.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Polling Thursday, Nov. 3rd.

Canada can stand four more years of prosperity.

Victoria and Haliburton should get in line with the Party of Progress.

On Tuesday, Oct. 11th, the Liberals of Victoria and Haliburton will meet in the Academy, Lindsay, to select their candidate.

Hamilton Times: "The Dundas Star does not like our alliteration, 'Laurier, Liberty, Loyalty, Liberalism.' Perhaps it prefers 'Borden, Burden, Boredom, Bluster.'"

Sir Richard goes to the Senate. Liberalism will still profit by the Grand Old Man's ability, although his bodily vigor is not as of yore. Long may he serve his grateful country!

As announced in our telegraphic despatches elsewhere, Parliament is dissolved. Nominations will take place on Oct. 27, and voting on Nov. 3rd. As predicted yesterday, the campaign will be short and sharp.

Toronto Star: Notwithstanding Mr. Borden's threat in which he warned the Grand Trunk shareholders against going on with the present contract, the Manufacturers' Association thankfully concludes that "the Grand Trunk Pacific is now assured."

At a political meeting held at Bowmanville last evening in the interest of Col. Ward, the Conservative candidate for that riding, Col. Sam Hughes in his speech endorsed Lord Dufferin and his military bill, in which he upheld compulsory service and drill.

The customs receipts in Regina for the year ending June 13, 1904, totalled $241,700, an increase of $91,700 over the previous year's receipts. This return is eminently satisfactory, and is a striking illustration of the rapidly growing prosperity of all portions of the Northwest.

In the last three years of the McKinley tariff the United States consumption of wool was 1,257,449,293 lbs. In the three years of the Wilson moderate tariff it was 1,090,879,588 lbs. In the three Dingley years, 1898 to 1900, it declined to 1,167,764,567—a falling off of over 433,000,000. The people use more shoddy under the Dingley tariff.

The outdoor treatment of consumptives is becoming very general, and is regarded no longer as an experiment. The Surgeon-General of the U. S. navy proposes that men of the navy affected with consumption shall not be discharged or become pensioners, but shall be subjected to treatment under conditions that shall be most favorable to their recovery. The purpose is to have a farm near the coast at an elevation of about 2,000 feet. Dr. Frederick Schöen has a floating sanitarium to test the advantages of salt air and

No wonder the wise ones marvel at the Tory leader's attitude toward the new trans-continental railway. The day of small things and small-minded political leaders in Canada is past.

Peterboro Examiner: Mr. R. L. Peden leader of the Conservative Opposition, on his Ontario tour doesn't find very encouraging signs of the desirability of changing the government of the country. He meets everywhere a wave of prosperity, which makes for him hard swimming against the stream. If he strikes a town at the right hour in the morning he sees the streets alive with men carrying a full dinner pail, hastening to the factories ready to take on the hum of industry when seven o'clock strikes. Let well enough alone. Men working full time, or over-time, at good, round wages, won't feel much like harking back to the days of stagnation before the present Government took the tiller.

Somebody who is alive to the tendencies of the times in the United States, and who sees the influences that control the legislative and executive bodies, has called attention to this forecast made by Abraham Lincoln in 1865, and invites its consideration by public-spirited citizens:

I see in the near future a crisis approaching that unnerves me, and causes me to tremble for the safety of my country. As a result of the war, corporations have been enthroned and an era of corruption in high places, will follow, and the money power of the country will endeavor to prolong its right by working upon the prejudices of the people, until all wealth is aggregated in a few hands and the Republic destroyed. I feel at this moment more anxious for the safety of the country than ever before, even in the midst of war.

The Orillia Times refers to the Borden meeting in that town on Monday day evening last as follows:

Mr. Borden's meeting was disappointing. Mr. Borden himself was a disappointment. He has been heralded as a speaker of rare qualities, ranking with Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. G. W. Ross, and a statesman with a wonderful grasp of Canadian public questions, but he certainly did not manifest any of these qualities in Orillia. He was courteous and gentlemanly, and used good English, but these qualities should not be considered exceptional even in a Conservative leader, more the pity that they are so. Not only is he lacking in personal magnetism, but he lacks the happy faculty of adapting himself to his audience. On Monday evening one third of his audience were ladies, and he cared nothing for a dry dissertation on the Grand Trunk Pacific, and as a consequence Mr. Borden's remarks were seldom punctuated by applause, and then only of a feeble kind.

HONEY

Extra Fine Flavored.

Order at Once.

Most people like Honey—the sweet pure product of the busy bee. We have made a large purchase of COMB HONEY of exceptionally fine flavor, and can recommend it to our customers and the general public.

During the last week we have shipped many cases of this Honey to Toronto and elsewhere, the visitors to our Central Fair having tasted and admired its unusual quality.

We have Superior EXTRACTED HONEY also, put up in neat packages, and are having a big demand for it. Better order some of one or both kinds.

LINDSAY FRIDAY, OCTOBER 7.

VICTORIA AND HALIBURTON.

As announced last week, the date of the Federal elections has been fixed for Thursday, Nov. 2nd, and the time being short, the Liberals of Victoria and Haliburton have not a minute to throw away. Their motto should be "Work, Work!" If they wish to realize the desired aim—the return of a supporter of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and progressive government. No time should be lost by the workers in completing organization in the various sub-divisions. The finishing touches should be given to the work between now and next Tuesday, the date of the convention called in Lindsay to select a candidate to enter the field against Col. Sam. Hughes. That a candidate—a strong and popular man—will be nominated, is a certainty. There is no lack of material, but it will rest with the convention to choose the better man, and for that reason it is important that every part of the large riding shall send the full number of delegates or alternates to the convention in order that the selection may be unanimous and indicative of the best thought of all. It must be borne in mind that the Liberal candidate will have only three weeks in which to visit every portion of the large riding, and upon his friends and supporters of the Liberal cause will devolve the responsibility of looking after the work of organization. Upon the thoroughness with which this task is performed will depend in no small measure the success of the Liberal cause locally, and nothing should be left undone to perfect the work.

There is cause for enthusiasm. With a strong candidate, who is bound to no corporation, who has no axe to grind or private end to serve, but who will be proud to carry the Liberal banner to victory, the chances will be in our favor. There never was a better or more hopeful feeling among the Reformers of the United Counties, and all feel that victory is not only possible but probable. But there must be hard, persistent, well-directed work, and every Liberal must do his share.

POUNDER THESE FACTS.

Here are a few facts that should be pondered by every Canadian who loves his country and strives for her welfare. In the 18 years that the Conservatives were in office, their surplus amounted to $27,862,000, or an average of a little more than $2,500,000 per year. In the 8 years that the Liberals were in office their surplus amounted to $37,850,000, or an average of $7,235,000 per annum, and this with a lower tariff than during the Conservative regime.

Every year of the 18 the Conservatives were in power the debt of Canada was increased $6,700,000.

Every year of the 8 years the Liberals have been in power the debt has been reduced $185,624—a total of $1,084,993.

The last year of Tory rule the net debt was $50.61 a head of our population. In 1904 it is but $49.69, or nearly $4 a head less.

OLD MAN ONTARIO (reading the day's supply of campaign news)—"Adequate Protection"! Well, now, that's a curious expression, ain't it? Sounds just like Hank Stubbins when he tells yeh the fish he caught wuz 'bout 's long 's a piece o' string!

And compare the quality of the Government and the conditions of the country in 1836 and to-day. Why shouldn't Canada like Liberal rule? Why wouldn't Victoria and Haliburton send a supporter to Laurier?

EDITORIAL NOTES

Mr. Hugh Waddell, the Tory candidate in West Peterboro, has backed out and no one can be got to take his place. Tally one for Laurier.

Montreal Herald: Honest Injun how can anybody conscientiously explain a vote against Laurier in the present conditions, and still claim to be a patriotic Canadian?

Globe: The News asks what has become of the full dinner pail. Clearly it is no longer an issue. It is taken for granted under Lib. government. By the way, does the News remember the black flag demonstrations and hunger parades of 1894 and 1895?

The secretary of the Chicago Federation of Labor says that the fight waged against the open shop for the past two years by the Chicago labor unions has cost the organization 100,000 members and resulted in a loss to the unions. The employer's association has been too much for the men. Two years ago the Chicago Federation of Labor had a membership of 240,000 men; now it has dwindled down to 140,000. The Pullman company, the International Harvester works and the Mechanical Rubber company have opened their shops this week after several weeks of idleness, and have notified their men to come back on individual engagements. The shops will be open to every capable workman.

Remember the Liberal Convention in Academy of Music, Lindsay, next Tuesday, Oct. 11th, at 11 a.m. Cheap fares on train and boats.

CORRESPONDENTS' LETTERS

NORTH MANVERS.

(From Our Own Correspondent.) Gladys Lindsay, a pupil of Miss R. Wilson, 4 S. B. No. 10, Manvers, whose name did not appear with the list of successful pupils at Janetville, has received her entrance certificate. Her marks were overlooked and upon a re-examination of her work the result was that she passed very successfully.

LITTLE BRITAIN.

(From Our Own Correspondent.) Miss Vera Robertson and a lady friend of hers, who are attending the L. C. I. at Lindsay, spent Saturday and Sunday at her home.

Several of our citizens attended the Sunderland Fair last week. Mr. S. Metherell displayed his sheep and poultry, and came back with the same old story in the same old way—some firsts, some seconds and a very few thirds.

Dr. Blawett, of Chicago, is home to spend a few days under the parental roof.

CAMBRAY.

(Special to The Post.)

One of those interesting events which arouse a tumult in the hearts of the ladies occurred on Wednesday afternoon last at 3 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. W. A. Fanning, one of our leading citizens, when his eldest daughter, Ethel Earl, a popular and charming young lady, was united in marriage with Mr. William Gilbert, our progressive and highly esteemed general merchant. Rev. A. J. Terrill officiated. The bride, who was given away by her father, was attended by her sister, Miss Bert Fanning, and Mr. Geo. Henderson, of Cambridge, was groomsmen. The wedding march was played by Miss Jeffers, daughter of Dr. Jeffers, Lindsay. The bride looked very charming in a rich gown of white silk crepe-de-chene, with veil, and the bridesmaid wore cream silk crepe-de-chene. The bride's travelling

A REMARKABLE RECORD.

Baby's Own Tablets have a remarkable record. All over the land you will find mothers who will tell you this medicine has saved the lives of their little ones. When you give Baby's Own Tablets to your children you have a guarantee that you are not stupefying them with poisonous soothing stuffs. No other medicine for children gives this guarantee, and no other medicine safely cures all such ills as colic, indigestion, constipation, diarrhoea, and teething troubles. The Tablets not only cure these troubles, but an occasional dose given to a well child prevents them. Mrs. G. A. Sawyer, Clareville, Que., says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for my little girl and find that they are the very best medicine I can give her." Try the Tablets for your children—they will not disappoint you. Sold by medicine dealers or sent by mail at 25 cents a box by writing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Departure of a Popular Young Lady

Miss Ella Gross left last week for New York to assume the duties of nurse-in-training at the Gilwille Hospital. Before leaving Miss Gross was entertained by the pastor, Rev. James Wallace, and the choir of St. Andrew's church, at the home of the former, when a most pleasant social evening was spent, the program including refreshments and the presentation of a purse containing some bright gold coins, for which the recipient returned thanks to all who had so kindly remembered her.

Mr. Wm. Cain, of Niles, Mich., left town last week for home, after a pleasant visit with his brothers, Andrew and James, whom he had not seen for the long period of 37 years. Mr. Cain left Lindsay about 40 years ago on the outbreak of the American Civil War, and enlisted in the Northern Army. After serving three years and taking part in many important battles he was wounded and secured his discharge. He returned to Lindsay for a few weeks and then left for Michigan, where he engaged in business and forgot his old town, which has improved so much since he last saw it that he was almost unable to distinguish any of the old landmarks. Mr. Cain is now in receipt of a pension of $12 per month.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

No one who is acquainted with its good qualities can be surprised at the great and wide-spread popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only cures colds and grip effectively and permanently, but prevents these diseases from resulting in pneumonia. It is also a certain cure for croup. Whooping cough is not dangerous when this remedy is given in connection with no opium or harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. It is also pleasant to take. When all of these facts are taken into consideration it is not surprising that people in foreign lands, as well as at home, esteem this remedy very highly and very few are willing to take any other after having once used it. For sale by all druggists.

INQUEST WAS ADJOURNED.

DEATH OF AN OLD MAN AT THE GAOL MONDAY.

He was Arrested Saturday and Sent up as a Vagrant.—Inquest Held.

(From Tuesday's Evening Post.) Everyone who witnessed the races here on the second and third days of our Central Fair will be able to recall to mind an old man, white-haired, and clad in blue jeans, who looked after one of the horses and handled the reins in several of the heats. His name was Cicero Ogden, and he hailed from Kincardine. The owner of the horse, who called him, self Cassidy, remained in town the week after the Fair, and quarrelled with Ogden, who had been drinking heavily. The old man was destitute and could not get away to his home in Kincardine, but he managed to get more liquor than was good for him.

On Saturday he was arrested by Chief Nevison and brought before Magistrate Jackson, who sent him to gaol for a term to sober up. On Sunday he complained of being ill and Dr. Joffers, Gaol Surgeon, was called in to see him about 2 p.m. and wrote out a prescription, which was filled at one of the drug stores. About 5 o'clock the patient took a weak spell and expired.

Dr. Burrows, Coroner, held an inquest at the Gaol this morning, and after taking all the evidence the enquiry was adjourned for one week, with the Council chamber as the place of meeting, in order that the Kincardine friends of deceased may be represented by counsel if they so desire.

The jurors summoned are: John Duck, A. C. Babcock, Robt. Nugent, B. F. Reesor (foreman), D. O'Keefe, Jos. Parkin, M. Cole, J. E. Adams, F. Crandell, Geo. Little, A. B. Terry, Geo. Spenceley, Wm. Simpson, J. P. Niell.

PRETTY SEPTEMBER WEDDING.

Menzies—Williams.

The following from the Peterboro Examiner will interest many of our young people, the principal in the happy event described having event described having been a member of Mr. M. J. Carter's staff a couple of years ago:

A very pleasant event took place last evening at the residence of Mr. John Williams, when his daughter, Maud Helen, was united in the bonds of matrimony to John J. Menzies, of town. The brides wedding gown was of white tulle, trimmed with white tulle, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and asters. The bridesmaid was Miss Edith Williams, sister of the bride, and she wore a dress of white organdy trimmed with Valenciennes lace and insertion, and carried a bouquet of white carnations and asters. The groom was supported by his cousin, Mr. Albert Menzies, of Fenelon Falls. Miss Estelle Cunningham and Miss Victoria Allen acted as flower girls, they were dressed in white organdy. Miss Estelle carried the ring in a basket of sweet peas. The wedding march was very beautifully played by Miss Nellie Allen, cousin of the bride. The house was decorated with autumn foliage and flowers. The groom's gift to the bride was a silver tea service, to the bride a gold ring, to the bridesmaid a gold tiepin set with pearls, and to the flower girls gold brooches. Among the many hand, some presents received by the bride was a clock and fruit dish from the employees of the C. G. E. Company, and a cheque from her father. The bride's travelling suit was of navy blue puffed hop-acking and she wore a white beaver hat. After the wedding ceremony, which was performed by Rev. W. J. Joffile, about sixty guests gathered at a sumptuous wedding dinner, after which the happy couple left the nine o'clock train, for two weeks' wedding trip to Toronto, Niagara and Buffalo, followed by the good wishes of a host of friends.

OBITUARY.

William Copeland, Helena, Ark.

News was received last week of the death of William Copeland, formerly of this town, at Helena, Ark. Since then a number of particulars have come to hand. The following from the city's paper will be read with interest by old friends:

"William Copeland, who was formerly of Canada, but lately of this city, died yesterday afternoon at 4:35 at the home of his sister, Mrs. J. M. Hudson, on West-st. Deceased was stricken last Tuesday with a congestive cold, from the effects of which he never rallied, and his death was not unexpected. He had lived in Helena for the past year and was regarded as a good citizen. He served on the police force for several months and made an excellent officer. His many friends will regret to hear of his almost sudden death, and will sympathize with his bereaved relatives.

The funeral took place this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from the residence of his sister, Mrs. J. M. Hudson.

The deceased will be remembered by many citizens around town, having been employed in connection with the Electric Works. He was of a pleasant, genial disposition, and his death is much regretted. Deceased was brother to Mrs. Jas. A. McWilliams Williams.

POLITICS IN A NUTSHELL.

All but 17 of the returning officers for Ontario have been appointed.

Mr. Peter Ryan of Toronto, has declined to contest any constituency.

Mr. Hugh Waddell, the Conservative candidate nominated on Saturday at Peterboro, has withdrawn from the contest.

Quebec, Oct. 4.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Prime Minister of the Dominion of Canada, will arrive in this city to-day on business connected with the general election.

About 40 M.P.'s have already accepted the invitation to the Temiskaming Railway trip. About half the members at least are expected to go next Monday. The excursionists will return the following Thursday.

Hon. W. S. Fielding opened his campaign at Amherst, N.S., Monday night, where he, Hon. H. R. Emmerson, Messrs. Charles Macell and H. J. Logan addressed one of the largest and most enthusiastic meetings ever held in that town.

Pate It Island.

Montreal, Oct. 4.—In view of the immense strategic importance of wireless telegraphy at all times between Canada and Great Britain, the Marconi Company has decided that the station near Glace Bay should be located in a less exposed position than is at present the case, was the statement made yesterday by J. D. Oppe, vice-president of the Marconi Company, on his arrival in the city of New York. A site some distance inland, he added, has already been secured and Mr. Marconi will take the opportunity offered by the removal of the station for incorporating a number of improvements.

Wong Bing Deported.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., Oct. 4.—U. S. Commissioner Gray yesterday ordered the deportation of Wong Bing, a Chinaman, unlawfully residing in the United States, it is alleged. Wong Bing conducted a store at Brockville, Ont., for many years, and it is said is a naturalized British subject. Representations were made to the Commissioner that the Dominion Government would permit Wong Bing to re-enter Canada on his certificate, but the Commissioner finds no authority for deporting Chinamen to Canada, and rules that he must go back to China. Appeal will be taken on the point of the Chinaman's British citizenship.

Chinaman Captured Alive.

Cincinnati, Oct. 4.—The organization of the Canadian Club of Cincinnati, which was begun last Sunday, was completed yesterday by the election of the following officers: President, Allen Bishopric; vice-president, Alexander Macdonald; secretary, Robert A. Black; treasurer, Ernest Rodde; directors, W. T. McLean, S. G. Terrill, Charles F. Clark, James Mitchell and Robert Franklin.

Won $2,050 in Prices.

Ottawa, Oct. 4.—J. G. Clarke of Westboro, who carried off the honors at St. Louis in cattle and swapt everything with his Ayshire herd, has arrived home. He won $2,050.

Sick Headache

If troubled with this distressing ailment, watch for the first indication of an attack; as soon as you feel it coming on take three of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the attack may be warded off.

Mr. Geo. E. Wright, of New London, New York, says: "For several years my wife was troubled with what physicians called sick headaches of a very severe character. She doctor'd with several eminent physicians and at a great expense, only to grow worse until she was unable to do any kind of work. About a year ago she began taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and today weighs more than she ever did before and is as well as well." He has since recommended these Tablets to several of his neighbors, who are enthusiastic in their praise of the remedy. Sold by druggists at 35c. per box.

Home Rule Not Dead.

London, Oct. 4.—(C. A. P.)—John Dillon, M. P., in addressing a gathering of Nationalists at Sligo, said, "nobody in England thinks home rule is dead; if they did I should advise them to turn their eyes across the Atlantic and watch the triumphant progress of the leader of the Irish party, courted and welcomed by all the leaders of the great political parties in the United States. When he passed on into loyal Canada, which used to be quoted by Chamberlain when she sent a contingent to fight the Boers, yet we saw in Montreal last week the Attorney-General of Canada, a good Irishman, coming to the meeting and taking his seat on the platform at the side of Mr. Redmond and telling Mr. Redmond he had been charged by the Cabinet of Sir Wilfrid Laurier to convey to the Irish party the full sympathy of the Canadian Cabinet in our demand for Irish liberty—(applause)—that did not look very much like a dying cause."

A Change of Route.

Winnipeg, Oct. 4.—The party of locating engineers on the G.T.P. survey, who were running a line about 160 miles north of Lake Nepigon, found it necessary owing to the physical and topographical condition to throw their line one hundred miles south of the route they desired. The height of land between Lake Superior and James Bay takes a sharp bend to the north, as it passes by Lake Nepigon and it looks as if the G.T.P. line must cross this summit twice in a short distance.

Expense of N.W.T. Government.

Regina, Oct. 4.—At the session of the Legislature yesterday afternoon the Premier moved that hereafter night sessions be held, and accordingly the House will commence sitting at nights to-day. This will render possible an early prorogation, enabling the members to take part in the Federal campaign. The estimates for the year were presented. An expenditure of $101,540 is provided for as against $89,965 last year.

Would Have Been a Peer.

London, Oct. 4.—The St. James' Gazette says it is understood that the late Sir William Vernon-Harcourt, who twice refused a peerage, eventually accepted the honor and would have been gazetted Baron Malwood in the next birthday honor list. "Fate," the paper adds, "has rendered the event impossible, but it is deemed probable that a barony following the procedure on the death of W. H. Smith (who was Minister of War in Lord Salisbury's Cabinets of 1885 and 1886), will nevertheless be conferred on Lady Harcourt."

$100 Went Astray.

London, Oct. 4.—On Friday evening last a certain young lady who holds a position as clerk in one of the stores here, deposited a roll of bills under a pillow in her bedroom at her boarding house, for safe keeping. Her precaution had not escaped the attention of some person evidently in want of her possession of the money, and when she awakened in the morning the money was gone. It contained over $100. The theft was reported to the police, who are now working on the case.

Lad Did Thieving.

Galt, Oct. 4.—Within the last six weeks there has been much petty thieving done in and around Galt. As a result the police have been working overtime in an effort to locate the thief. Chief German quietly took up the cases, and that he worked effectively, is demonstrated by the fact that on Saturday night he arrested a 16-year-old boy named Lawrence Smith, who lives on Bruce street, and has been remanded for sentence.

Huntsville, Oct. 4.—The Huntsville, Lake of Bays and Lake Simcoe Navigation Company's steamer Empress Victoria, having about fifteen passengers and out-going tourists on board, ran aground at Grassmere, eight miles from this town, on her return trip Saturday evening, unshipping and injuring her rudder. Some days will be needed to make necessary repairs.

Baby Badly Burned.

Toronto, Oct. 3.—On Saturday Baby Florence Dill of 3 Drummond place came to the front doorstep of her home, and sat down clad only in her flannel nightdress, to pull on her shoe. A little lad living next door was playing with matches, and having ignited one, he threw it at the little girl. It stuck to the night gown and in an instant the child was enveloped in flames. Her mother wrapped her in a rug and the flames were extinguished, but not before severe burns had been inflicted. She may die.

Twelve Persons Drown.

Las Vegas, N.M., Oct. 3.—Half of Watrous has been destroyed by a flood, and at least twelve persons have been drowned, including three children of J. H. Stevens, Felix Williams, his wife, two boys, and a couple of children and his wife escaped, but they are in a critical condition. Many persons were rescued from trees and house-tops.

May Be Charged With Murder.

Winnipeg, Oct. 3.—F. W. Wallis, arrested at Moosejaw for robbery, may be charged with the murder of Alex. Taffen, whose body was found mangled in the railway yard of this town two weeks ago.

Died in Jail.

Lindsay, Ont., Oct. 4.—A man named Cicero Ogden, who had been attending the races at the time of the Fair, died in jail here yesterday. It is understood he has friends at Kincardine, Ont., and at Galt, Mich.

Barque Sunk; Crew Saved.

Fredrickstad, Norway, Oct. 4.—The Norwegian barque Sir John Lawrence (from London) has struck on sunken rocks outside this harbor and has broken up. The crew were rescued.

Koch Goes to Africa.

Berlin, Oct. 4.—Prof. Robert Koch will continue his work of research in the service of the State. He will go to German East Africa this winter for bacteriological study.

BREAKFAST FOODS.

WHILE PHYSICIANS AGREE that ordinary oatmeal porridge is too strong a food for delicate stomachs, and too heating for others, they are a unit in declaring that the systematic eating of some form of grain or fruit food at the morning meal builds up the young and strengthens and preserves the vigor of elderly people.

Fortunately science has stepped in and evolved a series of Breakfast Foods from which the most delicate person may make a suitable and beneficial selection, and as up-to-date Grocers we handle all of them. The list comprises:—

IN PACKAGES—Shredded Wheat Biscuits, Grape Nuts, Orange Nuts, Malt Breakfast Food, Cream of Wheat, "Force," Quaker Oats, Granose Flakes, Farina.

IN BULK—Rolled Oats, Rolled Wheat Wheatlets, Flaked Peas, etc.

MR. GRAHAM'S APPOINTMENT

Dr. Benjamin Russell Appointed a Palace
Judge of the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia—Hon. D. A. MacKinnon Appointed to Succeed Hon. F. A.
McIntyre As Lieutenant-Governor of P.E.I.

Ottawa, Oct. 8.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier leaves this morning for Quebec, and will be in that city for a couple of days. Sir Wilfrid will address his constituents in Quebec East on the evening of Wednesday next. There is a probability that he will proceed afterwards to Ontario, leaving on Friday. It is said Hon. W. S. Fielding may accompany him. Hon. Chas. Hyman left Saturday night for London to arrange for the conduct of the campaign in Western Ontario.

Returning Officers.
The list of returning officers for Ontario had not been completed Saturday night, but the returning officers in the other Provinces have been selected and the writs are going out rapidly.

Mr. Graham's Appointment.
Mr. George F. Graham, M.P.P., Brockville, has been appointed to take charge of the eastern district comprising all the constituencies in eastern Ontario as far west as the Peterborough and Northumberland inclusive, and as far north as the Ottawa river. To-day he will establish his headquarters at 45 Sparks street, where he will be located until the close of the election. Mr. A. G. Farrell of Smith's Falls, will act as his secretary. Liberal candidates and officers of Liberal associations throughout the Province of Ontario desiring political literature or speakers should apply to the Central Liberal Bureau, 24 Victoria street, Toronto.

Dr. Benjamin Russell, K.C., D.C.L., ex-M.P., has been appointed a puisne Judge of the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia. Dr. Russell sat for two terms in the Federal Parliament first as member for Halifax, and afterwards as representative for Hants. He was very popular with his fellow members, who greatly admired his acumen and skill as a speaker. His criticism of Lieut-Colonel Sam Hughes towards the end of the last session of Parliament is regarded as a masterpiece of nature;

A New Governor.
Prince Edward Island has been given a new Governor. Hon. P. A. McIntyre has occupied the position ever since May 23rd, 1899, but is now succeeded by Hon. Donald Alexander MacKinnon, who represented Queen's County in the last Parliament. The new Governor is a man of genial disposition, and aided by his charming wife will make Government House, Charlottetown, even more popular than it was under the late incumbent, Mr. MacKinnon did not often speak in the Dominion House, but whenever he took the floor was heard to advantage. He was an untiring worker on behalf of his constituency, and will be greatly missed from the House of Commons. Hon. Mr. MacKinnon is the youngest of the Provincial Governors, being only in his 42nd year.

The ages of the other heads of Provincial Executives are as follows: Hon. Wm. Mortimer Clark, Ontario, 68; Sir Louis A. Jetté, Quebec, 68; Hon. A. G. Jones, Nova Scotia, 80; Hon. Jabez B. Snowball, New Brunswick, 67; Sir Henri Joly, British Columbia, 75; Sir D. H. McMillan, Manitoba, 58; Hon. A. E. Forget, N. W. Territories, 52.

VICTORIA STATUE AT WINNIPEG.
Unveiled By Premier Roblin On Saturday
In Presence of Large Crowd.

Winnipeg, Oct. 3.—The unveiling of the statue of her late Majesty Queen Victoria was an impressive ceremony Saturday afternoon. The whole garrison of Winnipeg turned out and formed three sides of a square around the memorial in front of the main entrance to the Parliament Building.

Promptly at 4 p. m. Lieut.-Governor MacMillan, with Lady MacMillan and members of the Provincial Government, took their place on the platform. Sir Daniel made a short and fitting address, setting forth the great qualities of the Queen and the debt that the Empire as a whole owes Canada in particular owed to her wisdom and sound judgment in her

GREAT MISSION CONFERENCE. ACCIDENT NEAR JANETVILLE

EMINENT METHODIST CLERGYMEN AND LAYMEN HERE.

Interesting Open Meetings—Names of Delegates Present.

(From Evening Post, Sept. 30.)

Many of the most prominent of the clerical and lay members of Canadian Methodism are now assembled daily in the Cambridge-st. Methodist Church. They are in attendance at the 81st anniversary meeting of the Missionary Society of the Methodist Church. The convention has not attracted a great deal of attention locally, but a good audience attended the first open meeting, held last evening, and no doubt many will flock to hear the experiences of the several missionaries from Japan, China and other foreign fields, as such an opportunity may not again present itself to our townspeople for some time to come.

The following gentlemen, hailing from different parts of the Dominion are here: Rev. A. Carman, D. D., Rev. A. Sutherland, D. D., Rev. Jas. Henderson, D. D., Harris H. Fudge, Esq., Rev. Wm. Briggs, D. D., F. C. Stephenson, M. D., Chester D. Massey, Esq., Newton W. Rowell, Esq., Hon. Geo. A. Cox, J. W. Flavell, Esq., Hon. Justice MacLaren, LL. D., Rev. J. A. Rankin, A. D. Watson, Esq., M. D., Toronto, Rev. E. B. Ryckman, D. D., Cornwall; Rev. W. R. Young, D. D., St. Thomas; Rev. G. F. Hustis, D. D., Halifax; Rev. Jas. Woodworth, D. D., Brandon; Rev. D. A. Moir, St. Catharines; Rev. Jasper Wilson, M. A., Ridgeway; Rev. J. J. Rae, Pictou; Rev. Manly Benson, D. D., Pembroke; Rev. W. H. Hearst, D. L., Yarmouth, N. S.; Rev. E. Evans, D. D., Hampton, N. S.; Rev. Wm. Swann, Newfoundland; Rev. J. A. Wood, British Columbia; Rev. D. Macdonald, M. D., Japan; Rev. E. B. Ewan, M. D., China; Thos. Hillard, Esq., Waterloo; W. J. Ferguson, Esq., Stratford; W. H. Lambly, St. John; Judge S. A. Chesley, Lunenburg; J. Hunter White, Esq., St. John.

At last night's meeting Mr. H. H. Fudge, Esq., of Toronto, the Treasurer of the Society, occupied the chair and opened the meeting with a short and appropriate address. The abstract of the general report of the Society was presented by Dr. Henderson in a most interesting shape, and the General Secretary, Rev. Dr. Sutherland, presented the financial report in a concise form and devoid of the usual dryness which accompanies such statements. Rev. Dr. Ryckman gave a thoughtful address from the text: "Laborers together with God." Mr. N. W. Rowell, K.C., spoke on "Our Home Missions," with an earnestness and knowledge of his subject that proved most convincing. Dr. Briggs spoke of our "Present Demands," and dispelled any sense of weariness in the audience by the very witty manner in which he handled the subject.

Hunts for Big Game.

The season is fast approaching, when the hunter will be getting ready for his annual outing to the woods in search of big game, and the present time is opportune for making the necessary arrangement for a successful hunt. From reports received by the Grand Trunk Railway System, deer are plentiful in several districts of the Highlands of Ontario, and moose abound in the Temagami region. In one day twenty-eight individual moose were seen by a canoeing party at different points in this region. The open season for deer and moose in the Highlands is from November 1st until November 15th, and from October 10th to November 15th in the Temagami country. Hunting parties are pleased to go into the woods in search of game, and the proper localities. Reliable information regarding camp equipment, experienced guides and all requisites for a successful trip can be had on application to J. D. McDonald, District Passenger Agent, Toronto.

EASTWOOD'S WRECK

Four Railway Men Killed and Burned Past Identification.

STATION DESTROYED BY FIRE

Grand Trunk Engine and Cars Piled in a Heap—Twenty Cars Burned—Live Stock and General Freight Consumed in the Fire—Fireman Cameron Not Expected to Recover.

Eastwood, Sept. 29.—As a result of one of the most disastrous freight wrecks in the history of the Grand Trunk Railway, through a rear-end collision at this village, five miles from Woodstock, at 4 o'clock yesterday morning, four men are dead and possibly five, and one injured so severely that he could not survive the night.

The dead: Thomas Heron of Toronto, engineer; Harry Fallis of Hamilton, conductor; O. B. Donnelly of Hamilton, brakeman; Alexander Kirkland of Hamilton, engineer.

Late last night it was learned on good authority that a Buffalo driver, who was riding in the caboose of the through freight, is missing, and is believed to have perished. His name could not be ascertained. Cameron Will Likely Die.

Simon Cameron of Parkhill, living at 413 West King street, Toronto, fireman, was severely scalded and burned and injured internally and will likely die.

About twenty cars of meat, stock and general freight were consumed by fire, together with Eastwood Station, which was wrecked by the collision and afterwards destroyed by the burning of the wreckage. One new locomotive of the "900" class is a complete loss. Three hundred yards of track were torn up and rendered useless. Auxiliaries with a force of 200 men labored since early morning until late last night, and the track was not clear till 10 o'clock.

Inquest Opens and Adjourns.

Dr. McClary, coroner, opened the inquest at 5 o'clock last evening. He empaneled a jury who viewed the wreck and discovered that the switch had been left open. As the conductor and brakeman of the freight on the siding, and as Engineer Heron of the second freight are dead and his fireman is dying there is little hope of accurately determining who was responsible for the disaster. The inquest now stands adjourned until Monday.

Station Agent's Escape.

One of the remarkable features of the disaster is the escape of Thomas Dunn, the station agent, and his family. They were stopping in the east room of the building, and this fact alone saved them from the fate of their lives. As it was they had to rush out in their night attire to avoid the fire. The collision threw freight cars right into the side of the western half of the station building and it was one of the first things to fall a prey to the flames. All the books, tickets, fixtures and furniture, together with some freight, was destroyed.

The remains of the dead were only a few charred bones and ashes, the first being recovered about ten o'clock.

Collision on the C.N.R.

Winnipeg, Sept. 29.—Four men were injured in a collision at Oak Point, on Lake Manitoba, yesterday morning on the C.N.R. A couple of work cars, a boarding and sleeping car were standing on the track when a work train coming down the line backed into them, doing considerable damage to the train and injuring William Green, Thomas Marks, Ernest Green and Joseph Richardson. The injuries of the two former are internal and may prove serious. The accident occurred about 6 o'clock in the morning.

Killed to Meet Train.

Sault Ste. Marie, Sept. 29.—A Canadian Pacific work train coming into the Soo from the east struck and killed an unknown man a couple of miles from town about 6 o'clock last evening. Deceased, accompanied by two other men, named O'Reilly and Banister, all drinking considerably, was walking along the track. When first seen by the engineer they were to one side, but when the train came near the deceased stepped between the rails and got down on his hands and knees.

Ten Cars Derailed.

Toronto, Sept. 29.—An accident resulting in the derailing of ten freight cars occurred on the C. P. R. line, just east of the old Streetsville Station, at about 6 o'clock yesterday morning. The cause was the breaking of a defective wheel. The loss will run to several thousands of dollars.

M.C.B. Censured By Jury.

Niagara Falls, Sept. 29.—The coroner's jury, investigating the death of J. W. Mill, a Michigan Central engineer, who was killed on Sunday, found a verdict censuring the railway company for the defective condition of the siding where the accident occurred, and for the lack of wrecking appliances by means of which Mill might have been rescued.

Blame For Wreck Fixed.

Chicago, Sept. 29.—Responsibility for the wreck of the Sunday school excursion train on the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad at Glenwood, Ill., July 31, when 18 persons were killed and more than 100 others injured, has been fixed by the grand jury. It indicated for manslaughter Frank E. Hoxie, engineer; Frank Casper, conductor, and Chas. H. Wright, brakeman of the train which caused the accident. Frederick Whitman, train dispatcher, and Patrick Costello, fireman of the freight train, were exonerated. Disobedience of orders was given as the cause for the incident.

Brighton, Sept. 29.—Fire broke out on 10 last night in the pressing department of W. N. Davidson's tailor shop, but was quickly extinguished. A panic was narrowly averted at the opera house, where some one foolishly gave the alarm during the progress of an entertainment. The crowd rushed out without any serious injuries though.

A RECORD REVIEWED

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Opens the Campaign at Sorel, Que.

A MAGNIFICENT GATHERING

Premier Displayed Remarkable Strength and Buoyancy During the Delivery of His Speech—An Impressive Moment in the Course of His Address—Contrast Between Papineau's Mission and Sir Wilfrid's.

Sorel, Que., Sept. 29.—The first Liberal gathering of the general election campaign of 1904 was fired by Sir Wilfrid Laurier here yesterday. The Premier addressed a magnificent gathering of the electors of the county of Richelieu, speaking for a full hour, and although he did not announce the actual date of the elections, he said that the question that was foremost in the minds of his hearers at the moment would be answered in a few days. The gratifying part of the Premier's address was the remarkable strength and buoyancy that he displayed throughout its delivery. His voice had the old vigorous ring that 40 characterized the campaign of 1896, and his general bearing under the heavy task was excellent. It had been asserted that Sir Wilfrid would not speak for more than half an hour, as he was not physically able to do so, but by actual count he was on his feet more than an hour, and he spoke for fifty-eight minutes.

A Splendid Audience.

The crowd that greeted him was one of the most gratifying and enthusiastic urban gatherings ever seen in the Province of Quebec. The entire market square in front of the main street, and a portion of the mass reached down into the main street. Every available window and gallery in the vicinity was crowded, and even though it was impossible for any but the most vigorous speakers to throw their voices as far as the outskirts of the crowd the great gathering remained intact, standing in a block intensely interested from 2 o'clock until 5.30, three full hours and a half. Line after line of flags and bunting were here and there stretched across the principal streets and the docks and railway station were similarly decorated.

Reception of the Premier.

The Premier, accompanied by Hon. Raymond Prefontaine, Hon. L. P. Brodeur, and Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, arrived by the R. & O. steamers "Three Rivers," a crowd of several hundred persons came from Montreal. When the steamer came into view around the curve in the river a cannon announced its arrival, and immediately the whistles of every steam craft in this busy little shipping port sent forth a stirring welcome. An immense crowd that packed the approaches to the wharves and hung upon the sheds and every available elevation gave a great cheer to the accompaniment of a band aboard the boat. Mayor Paradis extended a civic welcome to the distinguished visitors.

Long before the Premier arrived at the market hall platform the square was crowded. Balloons bearing inscriptions such as "Long Live Laurier," "Liberalism and Liberty," "Prosperity and Progress," ascended over the heads of the people, and a brass band discoursed music. As Sir Wilfrid was driven through the streets the crowds on both sides greeted him with cheer after cheer, and many pressed to the side of the carriage to shake his hand.

The Premier's Speech.

The Premier's speech was a review of the work of the Liberal Government since coming into power in 1896, telling criticism of the Opposition's program, a reiteration of his sympathy with all dignified efforts to bring about treaties of commerce with Great Britain, an avowal of his intention to maintain the British preference, to revise the tariff wherever revision should be found to be advisable, and a glowing assurance of his loyalty to Canada, to British institutions and to the Motherland. It was an impressive moment when the Premier bared his head and spoke of his attachment to his native country, and to all that made for the advancement and prosperity of the whole Dominion.

The Other Speakers.

Other prominent speakers, were Hon. L. P. Brodeur, Minister of Internal Revenue; Hon. R. Prefontaine, Minister of Marine and Fisheries; Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, Solicitor-General, and Mr. Brodeur, the local member. Mr. Brodeur practically sent down a defiance to the trusts and monopolies, and Mr. Lemieux drew a contrast between the mission of Hon. Louis Joseph Papineau in 1837-38, and the mission of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. He asked the people of Richelieu not to buy British goods, so that they might avenge the injustice done by British bureaucrats, but Sir Wilfrid now asked the children of the same people to encourage their trade relations with the people of Great Britain by keeping in power a Government that would maintain the British preference.

Among those on the platform were: Hon. Raymond Prefontaine, Minister of Marine and Fisheries; Hon. L. P. Brodeur, Minister of Internal Revenue; Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, Solicitor-General; Senator Casgrain, Senator Cloran, Robert Bickerdike, M.P.; L. A. Rivet, M.P.; S. Cherrier, M.P.; Hector Champagne, M.P.; A. Bergevin, M.P.; G. A. Lacombe, M.P.

PAIRS OPENED.

Chatham, Sept. 29.—Yesterday Hon. Sydney Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, opened the Peninsular Fair here. He made some suggestions to the farmers present, and was well received.

Sunderland, Sept. 29.—Mr. R. P. Ganey, M.P., opened the Brook Fair here yesterday. He delivered an address on New Ontario, 4,000 people listened to him.

WON THE PENNANT

Lindsay B.B.C. Champions of the Midland League.

BOWMANVILLE 7, LINDSAY 10, "HOW ABOUT IT, PETERBORO?"

A Large Crowd Witnessed the Game—Bowmanville People Well Represented—The Grounds in Poor Condition Owing to the Rain—Both Teams Made Errors, but the Locals Outplayed Their Opponents.

"And the blow nearly killed father."

LINDSAY 10—BOWMANVILLE 7. As a result of last week's great game Lindsay has now landed the championship of the Midland Baseball, in spite of mistakes were to be the best team in the League. Peterboro's good wishes for Bowmanville, and disastrous wishes for Lindsay, are dashed to the ground. Peterboro won't feel cheap after all their hot air talk!

When the Bowmanville boys came to town yesterday they were overconfident of winning. "Oh, certainly we can win, we did it before." But the Lindsay bunch were to win, and soon developed the game in their favor. The visitors are a good, jolly bunch of players, and took their defeat in good part. "It's no disgrace to be in second place, is it, Maggie?" They played good ball at times, but the errors were numerous on both sides, at times, and it looked dark for the visitors when Bowmanville batted out two runs on just errors, but our boys did not get discouraged and hit the ball all over the lot for seven. "Curly" was in first class condition, but had to work hard; he fielded his position well and also did some hitting. Hooper, Bowmanville's "much tooled" twirler, was batted out of the box, after the second innings, and Osborne was hit in the same way, but kept the hits pretty well scattered and pulled out in some tight places, with men on base. Wilcox, their second baseman, is a star and figured quite often. The locals all played good ball and were in the game all the way, but the work of McGill was especially noticeable on 1st base. He got every thing in his reach, high, low, wide, or otherwise, his pickups being numerous. A baseball team in Lindsay would not be complete without "Norm" on the initial bag.

NOW FOR THE GAME.

1st Innings—Lindsay stepped to the bat with McGill as a leader. "Norm" hit a liner to Osborne at 3rd, who made a neat pickup up and retired the runner at 1st. Workman popped up a high fly to the same player, who held it fast and Cinnamon hit to Wilcox at 2nd, but was retired at 1st. Wilcox, for Bowmanville, drew a fly to Mark in right field and took his seat. Manager Morris singled over short-stop and reached 1st; Wilcox, tipped the third strike into Cinnamon's mitt, where it landed; two strikes were called on Osborne, when "Cim" caught Morris trying to steal 2nd. It was a pretty throw.

2nd Innings—Miller bunted to pitcher, who retired runner at 1st; Menzies hit a grounder to 3rd and landed on 1st. "Curly" poked a slow one out to Hooper, who tried to catch Menzies at 2nd, was called safe, but "Curly" was out at 1st; Marks advanced Menzies to 3rd by hitting to Hooper, who became excited and fumbled the ball. Mark landing on 1st; with two on bases, Stalker hit a liner to Wilcox, who retired the batter at 1st, leaving two on bases; Osborne bunted a slow one to Menzies, but was beaten on his throw to 1st; Williams, the big man of the team, bunted and now the roofers held their breath, for "Cim" threw two feet over McGill's

Mrs. Fairbanks tells how neglect of warning symptoms will soon prostrate a woman. She thinks woman's safeguard is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I ignore and neglect are the cause of untold female suffering, not only with the laws of health but with the chance of a cure. I did not heed the warnings of headaches, organic pains, and general weakness, until I was well nigh prostrated. I knew I had to do something. Happily I did the right thing. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound faithfully, according to directions, and was rewarded in a few weeks to find that my aches and pains disappeared, and I again felt the glow of health through my body. Since I have been well I have been more careful. I have also advised a number of my sick friends to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and they have never had reason to be sorry. Yours very truly, Mrs. MAY FAIRBANKS, 216 South 7th St., Minneapolis, Minn." (Mrs. Fairbanks is one of the most successful and highest salaried traveling saleswomen in the West.)—5000 profits (if original above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced). Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

head, the runner getting to 3rd; Martyn fanned the air; Hooper hit a liner to Menzies, who made an overthrow to 1st. Williams coming in and Hooper getting to 3rd; Edick bunted to "Curly," who tossed the ball to "Cim" to cut off the runner, but "Cim" dropped the ball. Edick was put out trying to steal 2nd. Bowmanville scored both runs on errors.

3rd Innings—Little singled to the left garden foul line and got to 1st; McGill hit a neat liner between 1st and 2nd advancing Little to 2nd; Workman advanced both runners a base on a jab to Hooper, Workman reaching 1st. With the bases full Cinnamon made up for his two errors by slashing the ball into left garden for a two-bagger, bringing Little and McGill in. Miller singled to right field and Workman trod on Menzies' hit a safe one over the short stop's head and Cinnamon scored; Now Bowmanville became scared and made a shift, as Hooper was pounded out of the box. Osborne was put in to pitch. Hooper playing left field and Martyn took his stand on 3rd base. "Now what is going to happen?" was the question. Osborne let "Curly" walk to 1st, but "Mark" fanned the atmosphere, and with three on bases Stalker got in the way of the ball (accidentally hit), and trotted to 1st, forcing Little. Little put a small one at the pitcher and Menzies was retired while sliding for the home plate; McGill brought the next two in on a beautiful low drive to left field, and Workman lined one out to Wilcox and was retired at 1st. Well, now that was playing ball—seven runs in one innings. The roofers went wild. Just listen. "1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, Oh, OH, O-O-H-H!" Now the visitors determined to land a run or two somehow. Gates bunted and was retired at 1st; Workman pulled in Wilcox's high fly and "Cim" clung to the third strike called on Morris. 2-7.

4th Innings—"Cim" stepped to the bat and the fans yelled, "Another touch, Cinnamon." The ball hit him and he got to 1st; Miller did the bunt act and "Cim" was advanced to 2nd; Menzies managed things in the same manner; "Curly" was retired at 1st by Wilcox. "That's more like it," was the crowd's comment. Workman and McGill handled Edick's liner; "Curly" and McGill were at the spot and look Osborne's bunt into camp. Williams bunted and was caught at 1st. 5th Innings—Mark pounded a lucky one down the third base line and got to 2nd on a pass ball, but was put out at 3rd on Stalker's hit to Hooper. Stalker was put out at 2nd on Little's hit to short. "Give it a 'Cim' touch, old boy!" greeted McGill when he came to bat, but his liner was captured at 1st. Menzies took Martyn's slow one; Hooper was hit by thrown ball; Edick hit to Workman, who put runner out at 2nd, and threw a difficult one to catch the batter at 1st. "Norm" stopped it, but Edick was called safe. Gates hit a fly over 1st base and Mark sprinted, made a running one-hand pick-up and stopped the runner at 1st, retiring the side.

6th Innings—Weeks and Williams headed Workman's bunt. "Cim" was treated likewise and Miller fanned on a trio of shots. Now "Curly" retired the side on five deliveries, which was a good feat. Weeks hit to "Curly" and died at 1st; Martyn tried to do the same trick, but met with the same result and Wilcox fanned on a foul tip to Cinnamon.

7th Innings—Menzies singled over short and reached 3rd on a low throw to 1st and to 2nd bases; "Curly" retired at 1st; Mark brought Menzies in and Stalker was again hit by the ball and travelled to 1st. Little then brought Mark in on a beautiful hit. McGill came forward, and connecting with the ball brought Stalker in; Herb Workman advanced all a base, and with bases occupied "Cim" hit to Wilcox, who retired Little at the home plate; Miller's infield fly was captured by Martyn, leaving three on bases; Osborne was put out on a low one; McGill retired Williams at 1st; Martyn was ducked at the same bag on Menzies' pick up and sure throw to McGill.

8th Innings—Menzies hit a neat one to short-stop, but was put out at 1st, on "Curly's" bunt fly into Osborne's glove, who then gave it to Williams. Mark evidently did not see the twist, and was called out on strike. Bowmanville now scored a few lucky runs. Hooper started the ball rolling by reaching 1st on a hit to centre garden; Edick got the first walk on balls; Gates fanned on a trio of twisters; Weeks hit to "Curly" and Hooper came in; Morris hit to Workman, and Edick scored; Morris stole 2nd; Wilcox bunted to "Curly," who tried to catch the runner at 3rd but the ball went away (through Menzies) hands, he being mixed up with the runner, and two more come in. Osborne hit to Menzies and Gates came in; Williams fanned; Martyn's high fly was captured by Menzies. 7-10. Fine run in one inning. Not too bad. Bowmanville men were now whispering good things as to how they always finish strong, but the Redskins scalped them in the next innings. 9th Innings—Stalker out on an infield fly to 3rd; Little was again put out at the home plate on a hot ball in the sawdust; McGill went out on a hit to third. "Now, boys," said the manager of the Bowmanville team, "three to tie and four to win." Hooper reached 1st; Edick got to 1st on a hit by pitcher; Gates hit to McGill, who doubled it to Workman and Weeks fled to Stalker. 7-10. The roofers now hopped out of the stand and one could not hear what was what, on account of the yells, such as, "How do you like the protests?" "Now for Osborne's $100!" "Wonder how Peterboro feels," etc.

NOTES ON THE GAME.

—Doesn't the flag look good?
—Isn't Jack Rose a peach?
—A good crowd greeted the boys.
—How about that Cobourg wad of $100?
—Bowmanville did not hit the ball very frequently.
—Perhaps "Curly's" new hat and sweater helped some.
—There was a high wind, but sky-scrappers, were scarce.
—"Toot your horn," was heard from in the grand stand.
—Don't cry, Peterboro, you did all you could to put Lindsay down.
—Cinnamon redeemed himself in grand style. That was a beautiful two-bagger.
—Capt. Cinnamon played a good game, and his two-bagger was well received by the crowd.
—McGill received many a pat; his work yesterday—especially the low pickups—was great.
—The Bowmanville roofers did remarkably well, and cheered for their pets, but 'twas useless.
—It was a little bit difficult for Little to get started in the sawdust, but he got there all the same.
—Geo. Little, "the old reliable," who has played ball since he was a small boy, and has been figuring in fast company for over 20 years, says he took part in his last game Thursday. During his career as a baseball player, Geo. has won a number of medals, and has always been the forward line. (His baseball friends will miss him on the diamond, but hope to see him help out when it comes down to a tight pinch.

Cause of Lockjaw.

Lockjaw, or tetanus, is caused by a bacillus or germ which exists plentifully in street dirt. It is inactive so long as exposed to the air, but when carried beneath the skin, as in the wounds caused by percussion caps or by rusty nails, and when the air is excluded the germ is aroused to activity and produces the most virulent poison known. These germs may be destroyed and all danger of lockjaw avoided by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely as soon as the injury is received. Pain Balm is an antiseptic and causes such injuries to heal without maturation, and in one-third the time required by the usual treatment. It is for sale by all druggists.

Peterboro Fair Notes.

—Mr. Tilos McKiver, town, exhibited a mare in the roadster class at Peterboro Fair.

—In the carriage fully or gelding class, Mr. A. Kennedy, town, showed a beauty.

A gentleman who lives near the Exhibition grounds had a number of choice melons stolen from his garden on Sunday night.

—An Otonabee farmer at Peterboro Fair was "done" for the amount of $36. Lindsay Fair was entirely free from confidence men.

—Mr. Isaac Deyell, the Lindsay Celery King, showed a general purpose horse at the Peterboro Fair, and a mare or gelding in the same class.

—Mr. Steve Oliver, who attends all the surrounding fairs had two entries in the Jersey class, showing a bull, one year or over. Oliver also was an exhibitor in the poultry line.

—The agent for the Sylvester Manufacturing Co., of Lindsay, had a busy time Tuesday at the Peterboro Fair, distributing pocket mirrors and other advertising matter.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

Scott's Emulsion is the means of life and of the enjoyment of life of thousands of men, women and children.

To the men Scott's Emulsion gives the flesh and strength so necessary for the cure of consumption and the repairing of body losses from any wasting disease.

For women Scott's Emulsion does this and more. It is a most sustaining food and tonic for the special trials that women have to bear.

To children Scott's Emulsion gives food and strength for growth of flesh and bone and blood. For pale girls, for thin and sickly boys Scott's Emulsion is a great help.

MINISTERS' PLANS

Meetings in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Quebec.

THE PREMIER MOVES LATER

Hon. W. S. Fielding, Hon. H. R. Emmerson, Hon. Mr. Brodeur, Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick and Hon. Mr. Fisher Already Booked For Meetings in the East—Two New Senators For the North West.

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier has not yet mapped out his plans of campaign, but several of his colleagues are starting out to take part in the fight. Hon. W. S. Fielding left last night for Halifax, where he will meet the Provincial leaders. Hon. H. R. Emmerson leaves tonight for New Brunswick. He will spend Tuesday night in St. John, and on Saturday, October 8th, will attend a convention of Westmoreland Liberals at Moncton. Hon. Mr. Brodeur leaves to-day for Rexton Falls, Shefford County, where he speaks in the evening. On Sunday he will address meetings at St. Valerian and Ste. Coele D'Amboise. On Monday night Mr. Brodeur and Messrs. Fitzpatrick and Fisher will address a mass meeting at Richmond. On Thursday Mr. Brodeur is booked for the convention of Nicolet Liberals at Beaucourt. The proclamation dissolving Parliament will appear in The Canada Gazette to-day.

A Conservative convention will be held in Harmony Hall next Friday. Messrs. Thomas Birkett and Napoleon Champagne will likely be chosen as the candidates.

Meetings of Registration Boards.

A circular will be sent out by the Secretary of State yesterday, pointing out the desirability of the registration boards meeting and giving effect to the provisions contained in the Ontario act. The Clerk of the Peace has been instructed to furnish the registration boards with forms of oaths and index books and such other information as may be necessary.

The rates of remuneration to registration officials will be the same as in the Provincial elections. The registration of manhood suffrage voters will take place in the cities and country towns of Ontario and also in Niagara Falls, Sault Ste. Marie and Deseronto.

Mr. Bronson May Accept.

Hon. E. H. Bronson has been approached with a view to his becoming a running mate to Hon. N. A. Peacock for the city of Ottawa in the coming election. Mr. Bronson has not given any definite answer, but there is some reason to believe that, although he determined some time ago to abandon politics, he will consent to run again if it is the unanimous wish of the party.

MR. BORDEN SENSITIVE.

Replies to Sir Wilfrid's Accusation That He Was Not Serious.

Bomanville, Oct. 1.—Sensitive to the criticism of Sir Wilfrid Laurier at Sorel, Mr. R. L. Borden last night replied to the accusation that he was not serious in his railway policy. The Opposition leader denied the allegation with vigor, and charged the Liberals with lack of seriousness, because, as he said, they had abandoned every plank in their platform of 1903. The remainder of the Opposition leader's speech was along the lines of those preceding. The Bowmanville meeting, like that at Port Hope, was in the interest of Lieut-Colonel H. A. Ward, Conservative candidate in Durham who evidently expects a keen fight with the popular Liberal member for the old riding of West Durham, Mr. Robert Belth. Contrary to expectations the announcement of the date of the elections made no appreciable change in the amount of enthusiasm at this as compared with other Conservative meetings.

POLITICS IN A NUTSHELL.

At a meeting of the Cabinet at Ottawa Friday, Hon. J. H. Ross, ex-Governor of the Yukon, and T. O. Davis, formerly member for Saskatchewan, were called to the Senate. They are appointed to the two new Senatorships created by Parliament last year.

Dr. Barr, M.P.P. for Dufferin, having received the nomination of the Conservatives for the Commons, will resign his seat in the Local Assembly to-day (Saturday).

Andrew McIsaac is again the choice for the Conservative party for the Legislature at Saint Ste. Marie. Should he decline another candidate will be chosen on the 13th inst.

Death Came Swiftly.

Harriston, Ont., Oct. 1.—Death came very suddenly to John McConnell, grocer, Thursday night. He was in his store until nine o'clock, went home and retired at eleven in apparently his usual good health. In a few minutes his wife heard him make a slight noise, and on investigation found he was dead. The cause was heart failure. He for years conducted a grocery business in Chesley and came home about nine years ago.

Opened An Artery in His Arm.

Toronto, Oct. 1.—On account, it is thought, of illness that preyed upon his mind, William McMillan, a man employed at 180 West Adelaide street, attempted suicide yesterday morning by opening an artery in his left arm. He was taken to the Emergency Hospital, but he has lost so much blood that the doctors have little hope of his recovery. McMillan hails from St. Thomas.

Crushed Between Couplings.

Toronto, Oct. 1.—Owing to an ill-judged attempt to pass between two cars which he was coupling at Port Hope yesterday, Thomas Williams, a York brakeman, was crushed between the couplings and so badly hurt that there is scarcely any hope of his recovery. Only recently his father, a section man, was killed by a train near York.

CONTROL THE STOCK

Steel Trust Purchases Cramp Works at Collingwood.

NOMINAL CAPITAL $2,500,000

Will Not Disclose, However, Its Definite Plans As to Canadian Trade Just Yet, But It Will Ultimately Be Used As the Canadian Subsidiary of the Steel Trust Corporation.

New York, Oct. 1.—Interests representing the United States Steel Corporation have purchased the controlling block of stock in the Steel and Iron Company, organized with a nominal capital of $2,500,000, to acquire and operate the Cramp Steel Works at Collingwood, Canada. The steel corporation will take over the Canadian firm at an early date. In this connection it is said that the new company, which is called the Northern Steel and Iron Company, Limited, will ultimately be used as the Canadian subsidiary of the steel corporation, and that the new plant may be in operation much sooner than if the corporation undertook to build an entire new plant at any point in Canada. Until there are further developments as to the ability of the steel companies now operating in Canada to meet the requirements of the new bounty laws there, the steel corporation will not disclose its definite plans as to Canadian trade.

KILLED THE GOVERNOR.

Moroccan Tribes Revenge Imprisonment of Rebels.

Tangier, Oct. 1.—The Governor of Arzila (a small seaport, 25 miles from Tangier), who was the father-in-law of the former War Minister, El Menehbi, has been murdered at Arzila by people of the surrounding tribes. The murder was committed out of revenge for the action of the Governor in imprisoning members of the tribes. The murderers released the prisoners at Arzila and killed many of the townspeople.

Great alarm prevails at Arzila, and the authorities there have appealed to Mohammed El Torras, representative at Tangier of the Sultan, to send them assistance.

British Commercial Bureau.

London, Oct. 1.—(C.A.P.)—Premier Seddon of New Zealand, speaking at a banquet to celebrate his silver jubilee as an M.P., urged the establishment of a British Commercial Bureau, with branches in all the British possessions, maintained by Great Britain and the self-governing colonies.

The president of the Board of Trade, at the head Board, should be affiliated with the Colonial Chamber of Commerce, with the special object of watching and reporting on trade requirements, manufactured goods, raw material and all other products. The Empire should assist in the extension of British colonial markets, keeping the mother country and colonies posted in respect to competition of other countries.

Threshers Narrow Escape.

Woodstock, Oct. 1.—The barns on the farm of William Scott, in East Zorra, were destroyed by fire from a spark from a threshing engine at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. All the grain and buildings were consumed. There is only a small insurance. David Malcolm, the owner of the threshing outfit, and several men, narrowly escaped death when trying to get the separator out of the barn. Flames caught their clothing but they escaped serious injury. The separator was saved. Loss about $10,000.

Drowned in Georgian Bay.

Parry Sound, Oct. 1.—Patrick O'Connell, watchman on the steamer City of Midland, was carried through a lower gangway and drowned during a heavy gale yesterday morning on the trip from Collingwood here. Nothing could be done to render assistance on account of the heavy sea running at the time. Considerable damage was done to the cargo of general freight and merchandise, and some cattle were injured. O'Connell came from Glenora, near Cobourg, Ont.

Fire Chief Croker Injured.

New York, Oct. 1.—Nearly a quarter of a million dollars' loss was caused early yesterday by a fire in the big block of meat-packing houses and refrigerating plants in Tenth avenue. Chief Croker was injured and narrowly escaped death in falling through a floor weakened by the flames into a cellar under the building.

Jury Awards $300 Damages.

Toronto, Oct. 1.—After an hour and ten minutes' consideration the jury in the case of Stickle v. Flick at 6.40 last night returned a verdict saying: "We find the defendant Flick guilty in the first charge, adultery, and damages $300."

Will Leave Canada Nov. 18.

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—The announcement of the day of the elections has caused the Governor-General to change his plans. Instead of sailing on Oct. 20, his Excellency will leave Canada Nov. 18.

Customs Receipts Grow.

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—The customs receipts for the whole Dominion for the month of September aggregated $3,902,449, being an increase of $145,743 over the same month of last year.

Decrease in British Revenue.

London, Oct. 1.—The return of the total revenue of the United Kingdom for the half year ending yesterday shows a decrease of $151,233,525, compared with corresponding period of 1903. The principal decrease is in the property and income tax, $12,000,000. The principal increase was in the customs receipts, $4,357,653. The total revenue was $306,851,640.

How About Your Hogs?

Are they doing well? Are they eating as they should? If not—why not? Perhaps their legs are sore and swollen—there may be danger of founder. Is their hair dry and brittle? If so the trouble may arise from their stomachs, and the swine are sick; they need Myers' Royal Hog Powders.

Myers' Royal Hog Powders positively cure Hog Cholera. No animal is more difficult to administer medicine to than the hog. The powders being mixed with their food are easily taken. They go to the root of the trouble, tone up the stomach, regulate the bowels and help the hogs to properly digest their food—will keep them well at all times—nothing like Myers' Royal Hog Powders. Why? They fatten the hogs quickly, insure choice hams, pork and bacon for the market, cures cholera and keeps them healthy. You ought to have our illustrated booklet about live stock. It is free. Remember, to get the best results from food fed to hogs, that they should have a daily ration of Myers' Royal Hog Powders and Cattle Spice.

SUNDAY AT OUR CHURCHES.

INTERESTING SERMONS YESTERDAY BY VISITING CLERGYMEN

Large Congregations at St. Andrew's, the Baptist and Methodist Churches.

The pulpits of most of the town churches were filled on Sunday by leading clergymen of the Methodist Church who are attending the Missionary Conference here, and our citizens heard some admirable discourses both morning and evening.

AT ST. ANDREW'S.

Yesterday morning St. Andrew's pulpit was occupied by the Rev. Geo. J. Bond, editor of the "Christian Guardian" and one of the more prominent delegates to the Methodist Missionary Conference at present being held here. Mr. Bond is only one of the many bright minds that the far East has given to the West, and will compare favorably with the best of them. He is a brother of the present premier of Newfoundland, and in appearance is not unlike Sir Louis Davies, one of our famous Eastern statesmen, at present a member of the Supreme Court Bench. Mr. Bond has a very musical voice, and does not spare himself in presenting his subject to his audience, so that his matter is both interesting and interestingly put from beginning to finish.

The speaker took as his text those intense words of Christ, "And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me," and divided his discourse into two lines of thought—first, the method of Christ's magnetism, and second, the magnetism of Christ's method. He went on to say that all men were drawn to him—the inner circle of his friends and the outer circle of his enemies—both from a very different point of view, but all by his magnetism. The High Priest, who had unwittingly prophesied that it was better that one man should die than that the whole nation perish, spoke a truth that he little dreamed of at the time, but millions since have experienced it. The speaker went on to describe how the uplifting of Christ would draw men of all ages, conditions and classes—the enlightened heathen of Asia and the most degraded of Africa, the scholar and the ploughman, the rich and the poor—all were drawn by the magnetism of Christ's teaching.

The church was fairly well filled, although with such a speaker it seems to us the edifice ought to have been crowded to the doors.

CAMBRIDGE-ST. METHODIST.

Rev. Dr. Carman, General Superintendent of the Methodist church, and well known to a host of Lindsay citizens, was the speaker at the Cambridge-st. Methodist church yesterday morning. Dr. Carman has a powerful, well-governed and pleasing voice, and his words were attentively listened to. He took his text from a number of verses of scripture.

Dr. Carman stated that the circuit (God's plan for the regeneration of mankind) was full and complete, the zone was clasped and fastened—the great zone of Divine purpose that stands for ages. In that zone or circuit you have your mission work, you have justification, fruitage and realization, and blessed are they that do this commandments. We are working in silence. You have here the story of that terrible catastrophe, the falling of man, his alienation from God, the early promise of hope, in Abraham. You have in this circuit the promise of the adorable Lord, the testimony that Jesus Christ has risen from the dead. You have the church, the holy apostles, divinely appointed messengers of God, the doctrine given out of the lips of the holy apostles, and of Christ. You have the course of the Christian church, which has thrown itself into the conflict; men sleeping in sin have come to her and have been lifted up into the joys of a Christian home, have been attested and strengthened, notwithstanding the powers of darkness. The Church of God is alive, it has given a nobler government, a nobler conception of honorable and noble womanhood, the glorious gospel whereby we enter the gates into the city. This has been done in a moment, and when we consider that man, once mighty of God failed in this work, I think it is a marvellous work. Of course many questions are asked, but look into your own soul. Let me challenge your best reason that you put yourself on spiritual grounds. You are not a judge of people anymore than a blind man of color. Let a man deal with his reason.

I believe the people in the Garden of Eden were in actual play. I know nothing about the peculiar climate or temperature, but he that said, "I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending," was their companion in that garden. I believe that all the institutions planted in that garden are with us to-day. Take, for instance, matrimony, which was instituted in that garden. Holy matrimony is a fact, not a question of emotion. If you could bring back God's idea of matrimony you would reform the earth. What God wants on up this world. What God wants is common relations. Holy worship came out of the Garden of Eden. There was no Canadian politics. There was a tree of knowledge of good and evil, and one thing is certain, that by partaking of it our first parents came to a knowledge of evil, which God never intended. Another institution in that garden of Eden was the holy Sabbath. There are also institutions back in the ancient scriptures. I believe God is the God of Truth, of Justice, of Righteousness. I would give you very little for some people's conception of the love of God. I want a government that gives you and me our rights. It's a moral impossibility that God should rush upon us. Do you want that kind of a God that would never allow you to be wrong? I believe in a God that gives you liberty.

What do we mean by the mission cause. You'll go out to China, India and other mission lands with philosophy and education, but you better stay at home. There is one essential thing, and only one—it is the gospel of Jesus Christ. Go out with that. "I am the way of life," said it by Him we enter through the gates into the city.

The Sunday school scholars had a rally in the afternoon and assembled in the body of the church, where they were addressed by two of the attending ministers—Rev. Mr. Wood, of British Columbia, and Rev. Mr. Rydman, Mr. Wood, impressed the pupils a great deal by his stories of his work in that far-off land, and Mr. Rydman gave out a number of useful thoughts to the scholars. The children were present in great force, and the sight convinced the visiting clergymen that Methodism in Lindsay is a growing and active force.

In the evening an immense congregation greeted Rev. Dr. Henderson, Associate Secretary of the Missionary Society. Dr. Henderson is a man of large frame, but has a soft and impressive voice which held his hearers' attention at all times. Dr. Henderson took a forcible text from the 20th chapter of the Acts of the Apostles, and expounded his beliefs in a way that all could understand, using many illustrations and comparing them with the real life of the human being. Mr. Henderson expressed very clearly his views as to the utility of wealth, and gave out many thoughtful suggestions as to how it should be used for the benefit of the owner and the extension of God's Kingdom. The whole sermon was of the clean cut type and was listened to with pleasure and profit.

The anthems and solos rendered at both services by the choir, under the direction of Prof. Hutchings, were grand and impressive and Mr. Hutchings' exceptional talent as an organist and choir leader were subjects for enthusiastic comment on the way home. Mr. Bishop and Mrs. Campbell were the soloists and their contributions were appreciated by all.

Many Mothers of a Like Opinion.

Mrs. Filmer, of Cordova, Iowa, says: "One of my children was subject to a cough of a severe type, and the giving of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy promptly always brought relief. MERRY WEDDING BELLS Irvine—Robinson.

A very pretty house wedding was quietly celebrated at the residence of Mr. John Robinson, Durham-st., on Wednesday, the 28th September, when he daughter, Miss Annie, was united in marriage to Mr. W. C. R. Irvine, of Valleyfield, Que. The Rev. Geo. W. Henderson, M.A., officiated.

The bride wore a pretty gown of cream silk granadine with borte of Cluny lace and trimmings of same. Miss Bess Robinson, sister of the bride, who acted as bridesmaid, wore white organdie, and Master Harold Robinson, the bride's little nephew, officiated as page. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Allen Irvine. The wedding march was played by Miss May Price.

After a dejeuner Mr. and Mrs. Irvine left for a short visit to friends in Janetville. On their return they will spend a few days in town before leaving for their future home in Valleyfield. Only the relatives and a few intimate friends witnessed the ceremony.

Finley—Bryans.

A pretty home wedding was solemnized on Wednesday afternoon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Bryans, Albert-st., when their daughter, Miss Lottie, was married to Mr. Burton J. Finley, Rev. C. H. Marsh officiated. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a handsome gown of white silk with a bertha of duchesse lace, and a beautiful veil of silk tulle. The groom wore a suit of grey flannel. The bride's maid, Miss Lydia Smart, of Toronto, cousin of the bride, wore grey voile over tulle, with a yoke of white point d'esprit and burnt velvet. The bridesmaid, Miss Lily McGabrey, wore cream voile over tulle with a train of chiffon and lace. The pretty little flower girl, Miss Stella Handley, niece of the groom, wore cream crepe de chene. The bride carried white carnations and ferns; the maid of honor pink carnations, the bridesmaid red carnations; the flower girl, white carnations and ferns. Mr. Everett Finley, of Peterboro, assisted the groom, and the usher was Mr. J. Gray.

The bridal party entered the drawing room while the wedding march was being played by Miss Neilson. The groom's favors to the maid of honor and bridesmaid, were pearl pins, and to the flower girl a sapphire ring. Mr. and Mrs. Finley left on the evening train, for Port Hope and Peterboro. The brides travelling suit was of castor brown, and hat to match. The brides presents were numerous and costly, showing the high esteem in which she was held by her many friends.

THE BLACK WATCH CONCERT.

A Great Audience Heard Scotland's Famous Band Tuesday Sept. 27th.

The engagement of the famous Black Watch Regimental Band, now touring Canada, for a concert in Lindsay was a bit of enterprise for which our curiers deserve credit, as well as for the excellent arrangements made for the accommodation of the many hundreds of people. The skating rink provided an ideal place for the concert, the weather being pleasantly warm.

The band arrived in town about 10 a.m. in their car, the concert beginning at 2 p.m. There was a large attendance of Scotchmen from country points, and the audience numbered about 1000—everyone an enthusiast. It may be true that the Randmen were not heard to good advantage amid the turmoil at Toronto Exhibition, but the music rendered by them under the favorable conditions met with in Lindsay was beyond description. The programme was a good one, and nearly every number was encored. The pipe band proved a great attraction, and made a pronounced impression on the audience. They marched around the rink and played, and enthusiastic sons of Auld Scotia manifested their delight in unmistakable fashion. Several Irish melodies were also rendered with grand effect.

One of the encore numbers, "The Colonials and the Flag," was specially announced by Conductor Murray as under the approval of His Majesty the King and Lord Minto. This splendid military march-song, written for the South African graves fund by a Canadian, A. H. Keane, was warmly applauded by the large audience, and is rapidly winning its place as a favorite song of the Empire.

"Or Till I Drop."

(Montreal Herald.)

Perhaps nothing so well illustrates the co-sidleness of the present campaign as the remark made by Mr. Borden yesterday to a friendly interviewer. "I shall have to be in Quebec," he said; "I shall have to be in Ontario, and I shall have to be in the Maritime Provinces." He would not have time to go to the West, but would "go right on till polling day, or 'till I drop."

It was said, evidently, in one of those moments when out of the fulness of the heart the mouth speaks. When Sir John Macdonald was Conqueror leader he could leave Quebec to Carleton, Langman or Campbell. New Brunswick to Talbot, Nova Scotia to Tupper. Sir John could afford to run around a bit, because he had men like Walton McCarthy to look after the local organization for him. Mr. Borden has to do it all himself. The Liberal organization is pretty much in the same condition that the Conservative used to be. Quebec takes care of itself, leaving Sir Wilfrid free to go where he pleases. Ontario is secure with Mulock, Patterson and Hyman. Mr. Sifton is trusted with the West. Mr. Fielding knows Nova Scotia to the last tidal meadow. Mr. Emmerson can devote his time to New Brunswick.

No wonder Mr. Borden talks of "till I drop." He is plucky, but the fates are against him. His party, ruined in 1895, has not yet recovered. He can only fight on in the hope that five years hence a brighter sun may shine.

CURE THAT GOLD OF YOURS.

If Your Know of Better Recipes You're Welcome to Try Them.

One of our citizens, who has been troubled with a severe cold on the lungs, effected his recovery in the following simple manner. He boiled a little boneset and horehound together, and drank freely of the tea before going to bed. The next day he took five pills, put one kind of plaster on his breast, another under his arms, and still another on his back. Under advice from an experienced old lady he took all off with an oyster knife, in the afternoon, and slapped on a mustard plaster instead. His mother put some onion drafts on his feet and gave him a lump of tar to swallow. Then he put hot bricks to his feet and went to bed. Next morning another old lady came in with a bottle of goose oil and gave him a dose of it on a quill, and an aunt arrived from Bethel with a bundle of sweet fern which she made into tea, and gave him every half hour until noon, when he took a big dose of salt.

After dinner his wife, who had been a fine old lady of great experience in doctoring, gave him two pills of her own make, about the size of an English walnut and of a similar shape, and two table-spoonfuls of home-made balsam to keep them down. Then he took a half-pint of hot rum, at the suggestion of an old gentleman in the next house, and steamed his legs with an alcohol bath. At this crisis two of the neighbors arrived, who saw at once that his blood was out of order, and gave him a half gallon of apartment gas and a big dose of castor oil. Before going to bed he took eight of a new kind of pill, wrapped about his neck a flannel soaked in hot vinegar and salt, and laid feathers burnt in a shovel in his room. He is now thoroughly cured, and full of gratitude. Scrapbook this for an emergency.

Hints for Our Council.

Provincial Road. Commissioner Campbell, while conversing with a representative of The Post on Kent-st. Wednesday, referred to the improved condition of the street and the general advancement noticeable throughout the town. While talking his attention was attracted to the man employed on the street, who was getting rid of scrapings and refuse by filling up a hole near a crossing, and he remarked that the Council would find it very profitable to provide a pile of gravel at some convenient point on the street, and where such a hole is found to remove the loose dirt, which only causes dust and mud, and fill the hole with gravel or broken stone. The only cost would be the material, and the result would be many times repay the expenditure. He also referred to the benefit resulting from use of the roller on streets, even when stone was not available. The covering up and rolling of the dirt roads to allow the water to escape, is money well invested.

Celebrated Their Golden Wedding.

The following item, taken from the Humphrey, (Plate Co., Neb.) Democrat of Sept. 23, refers to a gentleman well known in Ops and Lindsay many years ago, brother to Mr. David Walker, of South Ops. Last Sunday, September 18, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Walker celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage, which took place in Lindsay, Canada, September 18, 1854. Owing to recent bereavement the day was quietly spent, only relatives being present. Mr. and Mrs. Walker were among the first settlers in this part of Nebraska and though both are well advanced in years they are still hale and hearty with every assurance of seeing many more anniversaries. They were presented by their children with a number of gifts, commemorative of the day. It is a beautiful sight, and one rarely witnessed, to see an aged couple at half a century of married life, with its joys and sorrows, still faithfully continuing their journey through life, surrounded by their children and grandchildren.

Fish Planting.

The Ontario Government, in conjunction with the Grand Trunk Railway, inaugurated a vigorous policy of restocking with fish many of the lakes in northern Ontario, where there was any chance of depletion, and the success which has extended their efforts has been marked. During the summer season this year no less than 5,305 percent bass were captured and transported from Lake Erie to the several districts that they visited by the angler and the summer tourist. A special fish car was built by the Grand Trunk three years ago expressly for the transportation of live fish for this purpose and it has been used each summer in the propagation of this good work. This year three carloads of bass, none less than 12 inches in length, and many weighing two or three pounds, were planted in the Muskoka lakes, two carloads in Lake Simcoe and Couchiching one carload in the Lake of the Rays region, one carload in Balim Lake (one of the Kawartha group in Victoria County), and a carload in the lakes along the Canadian Atlantic Railway in Algonquin Park. These carloads contained in each instance, from 500 to 700 fish. In addition to the planting of the parent fish, several hundred black bass fingerlings were placed in the Lake of the Rays region. The results of each shipment have been most gratifying, and the summer tourist and angler have appreciated the movement and look forward to better sport in these waters, in the future.

OPS FARMER'S SERIOUS LOSS.

Barns, Outbuildings and Crops Destroyed by Fire Last Saturday.

On October 1, at 11:50 a.m. the barns outbuildings and contents belonging to Mr. Owen Traynor, of South Ops, were totally destroyed by fire. The fire originated through a spark from a threshing engine, which was at work there. The machine, which belonged to Mr. Traynor's son, was saved. The entire season's crop of grain was lost, in addition to some implements. We understand the insurance is small.

As Explained.

Gyer—"That young man across the way is an expert interior decorator." Myer—"Ah, an artist, eh?" Gyer—"No; he's a bartender."

Saturday's Market.

The market Saturday was well attended. Chickens were very numerous and eggs also were plentiful. Butter sold at 20c; eggs 18c; chickens from 50c to 75c; cream 20c; sage 5c per bunch. Outside Mr. Sisson, who lives in the vicinity of Bethany, had about a dozen bags of good fat apples, which he soon disposed of at 50c per bag.

Newspapers and Magazines

While the regular features are not neglected, the October Canadian Magazine is a Progress Number. A perusal of the articles specially bearing on the great advances made by the Canadian in recent years will rekindle enthusiasm in the breast of every patriotic reader. The facts are based upon the records of the thirty-seven years since confederation, with special reference to the growth during the census period 1891-1901. Among the general features of the issue Mr. Wilber's illuminating picture of Japanese social and religious life; Mr. Ewa's illustrated summary of Canadian Events Abroad; and short stories by Guy de Maupassant, William Hallowsay and Elsie Day. The coloured folding map and the colored tintypes add much to the value of this 140th issue of The Canadian Magazine.

CANADIAN DROWNED AT SEA.

Fell Overboard While On the Atlantic Ocean.

Halifax, N.S., Oct. 3.—Bright Sceptre, Capt. Burke, arrived at Lunenburg Sunday evening from the West Indies, with her flag at half mast, having lost Jas. Sampthier, seaman, who fell off the bowsprit of the vessel on Sept. 23, at 6:30 in the evening, during a heavy breeze. A life-line was thrown to him at once but although he was seen for a moment he was unable to grasp it and sank. Sampthier was 35 years old, belonged to Trenton, Ont., and shipped with Capt. Burke on Aug. 8, 1904, from Halifax. He has been employed by the Victoria Sealing Co., Victoria, B.C., for several years.

Drowns in a Cistern. London, Oct. 4.—A particularly sad accident occurred at the home of Mr. George Wells, Pearl street, East London, Sunday morning, when Harry, his 2-year-old son, fell into a cistern and was drowned. His mother, missing the child, found him in the cistern.

Powder Mill Explosion. Scranton, Pa., Oct. 4.—The coming mill of the Dupont Powder Co., near Treville, blew up and instantly killed Richard Halsey and Walter Allworth, two employees. Buildings near by were set on fire.

Six Buried in Mine. Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 4.—A special from Cartersville, this State, says six men have been buried in a mine near that place. The dead are R. P. Morgan, owner of the mine, and five of his employees.

Welsh Railway Fatality. London, Oct. 4.—Four persons were killed, and it is estimated nearly 50 were injured, one of them fatally, by the derailment of a train near Llanelli, Wales, yesterday.

Fortage la Prairie, Man., Oct. 1.—Roy Thompson, a son of I. W. Thompson, was shot and instantly killed near here Thursday evening. The unfortunate boy had been visiting with friends near Portage Creek and had been duck shooting. He tried to draw his loaded gun towards him from the boat, when he discharged.

Fear Fuel Play. Sandwich, Oct. 3.—Thomas Lafrance, a well-known butcher of this place, started from his shop last Tuesday afternoon to deliver an order to one of his customers. He has not been seen or heard of since. Provincial Detective Campaign of Windsor is unable to find any trace of him. It is not known that Lafrance had any money with him, but his wife and friends fear that he has met with foul play.

Toronto, Oct. 4.—The Right Hon. James Bryce, one of the most notable of the King's Privy Counsellors, now on his fifth visit to Canada, paid the Atlantic Club a marked honor in addressing it last night, and the club recognized the occasion with a record attendance of about 400.

INDEPENDENT EVIDENCE AS TO THE COLONEL'S EXPLOITS

In the interest of truth we have made a careful inquiry to see if we could find any other reference to Sam's wonderful exploits in South Africa than which proceeded from his own mouth. The following is all that we have been able to find. It appears in a Conservative paper at Ottawa:

There's the Boer that hides in the mountain. Awaiting the British to get, There's the rifle bore shooting o'er and o'er.

Till the Maxim gun is hot, But a bore far more terrible Has now appeared in the south, And we Boers must lose to Oom Sam Use.

With his smooth-bore long range mouth, This certainly corroborates Col. Hughes' own account of his achievements.

R. J. McLAUGHLIN NOMINATED

The Unanimous Choice of Tuesday's Grand Convention of Liberals.

POPULAR WITH ALL

Conservatives As Well As Reformers Will Work to Send Him to Ottawa as the Member for Victoria and Haliburton.

The convention of Liberals held Tuesday morning and afternoon in the Academy of Music was one of the most successful and best attended in many years, and the enthusiasm manifested at the meeting was a cheering evidence that the present contest will be fought with the greatest zeal.

In the absence of Dr. J. McKay, President of the Reform Association, Mr. C. E. Weeks, of Woodville, took the chair, and after some preliminary mills, taught school and practised law. Whatever progress he had made in the confidence of the public had been the result of honest effort. He was not going to blow his own horn—in a blowing contest Col. Sam would easily distance him. No good man blows his own horn. He does not have to—his works speak for him. The good work of the world was never done by boasting. He was sorry that the fight was with Col. Sam Hughes, as he (Hughes) was incapable of discussing politics, but always and only personalities. He had not intended to mention his opponent's name, but that evening he had received through the mail two great sheets of paper which were being sent broadcast among the electors—one full of false, bombastic and silly self-praise, the other chiefly a tirade of lying abuse against the Hon. Senator McLaughlin and R. J. McLaughlin, commencing with the statement that Senator McLaughlin and Mr. McLaughlin planned and schemed to deprive Victoria of one member—a deliberate falsehood manifest-business adjournment was made for dinner.

At 1:30 the meeting was called to order and nominations were asked for the office of Secretary. The office had been rendered vacant by the resignation of Mr. E. Musgrove. Mr. Thos. Junkin, of Fenelon Falls, was elected to the position by a unanimous vote.

Mr. Weeks expressed, on behalf of Dr. McKay, the latter's regret at being unable to be present. He wished to have conveyed to the convention his desire to assist, to the best of his ability, the candidate of the convention in the present contest, as he believed the electors were heartily tired of the present representative, Col. Hughes, with his flow and bluster, which has accomplished so little for the riding.

THE CANDIDATE.

Nominations were then called for a candidate to contest the riding when it was moved by Mr. John Austin, of Fenelon Falls, seconded by Mr. Wm. O'Hara, of South Mariposa, and further endorsed by Mr. Geo. Johnston, ex-Warden of the County, and J. T. Watkins, of Linton, that R. J. McLaughlin, K. C., be tendered the nomination of the convention. The name was cheered by the delegates, and the motion was carried unanimously by a standing vote.

Mr. McLaughlin was called to the platform in the midst of a great manifestation of enthusiasm and prolonged cheering, all feeling that the most popular man in the riding had been chosen. Mr. McLaughlin spoke as follows:

Mr. McLaughlin on rising was received with a tremendous ovation. He accepted the nomination, not that he desired office, but responded to the call of duty, believing that it was a true man's duty to take on the burden of public service at the call of his fellow electors. He had lived in the constituency from his early childhood, and had worked on the farm in the backwoods and six-

Could storage had been perfected. An active immigration policy was filling out West and making markets for the East.

The Grand Trunk Pacific will open up a country greater than any Mammoth for us to develop, with no battle but the battle with nature to fight.

Great as the resources of our country are, Justice, Truth and Liberty are greater still, and true men are the greatest asset—and false men the worst enemies—a country can have. If you find me tolling printing or circulating slanders and falsehoods by all means do not vote for me.

The battle is yours from now to the end of the campaign. Let no man say he has business at his own house, but let every man respond to his country's call. Fight as honest men—not falsehood, crookedness and corruption remain with the author of these circulars. A steady and honest effort—with the help of all others who place Truth and Honor above Party—will win the election. Flood and long continued applause.

Other Speeches.

Senator McHugh said it gave him pleasure to endorse the candidature of Mr. McLaughlin as a most able man and one who would, if elected, bring honor to the constituency. He believed the present contest had not a political significance, but was for right against wrong-doing, and in this battle many honest Conservatives were willing to join hands with their Reform friends to get rid of a dishonest politician who was ever ready to sacrifice principle, the interests of his constituents and everything else for his personal gain. In his manifesto Col. Hughes had enumerated 101 things he claimed to have done for the riding, but almost all of these claims could be refuted and proved to be utterly untrue. Hughes had stated that Mr. McLaughlin and himself were responsible for throwing North and South Victoria into one riding, when he knew he was lying. The British North American Act had made it compulsory on the Government to make the change. Both he and Mr. McLaughlin had written opposing it, but it had to be. Col. Hughes was a political assassin who did not hesi-

to see that Victoria has an honest, useful representative, as Mr. McLaughlin would prove to be if elected.

Mr. Newton Smith described the issue as being between honesty, truthfulness and every quality regarded as manly, and on the other side lying, deceit, and everything we look upon as unmanly. It was not a question of politics in this contest—the aim should be to rid our country of the worst type of politician—one who would not do the square thing.

Mr. Robert Kennedy varied the proceedings by reading an extract from one of Col. Hughes' famous South African letters, which fairly convulsed the audience, and followed it up with a bright speech.

A Resolution of Confidence.

Moved by W. L. Herriman, seconded by J. Austin, that this Convention desired to put on record our entire confidence in the Government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and his Cabinet. The unprecedented prosperity and national progress of the past, guarantee the undiminished glory of the future.—Carried unanimously.

The convention closed with three cheers and a "tiger" each for Mr. McLaughlin, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the King.

Some of Those Present.

Among those on the platform and in the audience, our reporter recognized the following gentlemen: J. J. Rich, John Stacey, John Martin, Ald. Robinson, Capt. John Carson, Geo. Graham, Ald. tate to stab either his own political friends or opponents who happened to oppose his personal schemes. Among his victims were the late John Cross, Dr. Vrooman and Chas. Fairbairn, and it is reported that he has his gun loaded for Sam Fox, M.P., whose political head must fall if he does not dance to the Colonel's music. The people of this riding are able to distinguish between humbug and brains, and would not accept gall for ability. No person in the House of Commons would work with Hughes as he was continually taking some mean advantage calculated to win for himself a little cheap glory. His influence in the House was therefore nil, and if the electors of Victoria and Haliburton wished to secure any advantage for the riding, on desired to get any bill through the House, they would find it to their advantage to place it in other hands than those of Col. Hughes. In confidence Senator McLaughlin urged the electors to go to work and conduct this campaign with a view to getting rid of the greatest political humbug the country was ever saddled with. [Cheers]

Thos. Stewart made a short but most convincing speech, urging close, careful organization and hard work until the campaign closed. It would not be possible for the candidate to visit each subdivision, or to hold meetings everywhere. All should be willing to make sacrifices.

Sketches of the Candidate's Life. R. J. McLaughlin, K. C., Liberal candidate for the Counties of Victoria and Haliburton, is a son of the late John McLaughlin, of the Township of Fenelon. He was born in 1860, and has lived in the constituency from his earliest childhood. His father dying when he was 17 years old, he has had to make his own way unaided. His early life was spent on the farm, and as a laborer in the woods and saw mill. He taught school in the Township of Linton and Mariposa.

snaps or warfare and captivity, we recognized him as Saul Dickory, one of the Bristol Merchant's crew, and hot though the fight raged around us we watched a moment to press the hand of a comrade of the old days.

He had, so he said, been serving in Spanish ships ever since his capture at the mountain ravine, leading a dog's life, while doing two men's work, and until now had never seen a chance of escape. Further, he had an offer to make us. Give him a light line, and he'd jump overboard again and make it fast to a ringbolt on the don's stern, and then we might warp ourselves up and board through the cabin window.

"But for the love of heaven," he implored us, "keep the Spanish sharpshooters busy while I swim. I can hear the splash of their bullets round my ears now."

Alec, however, refused to allow him to make this attempt for fear of the sharks, observing that we should be able to do as much for ourselves with the grappling iron in half an hour's time at our present rate of drifting.

"Don," he added, "I am afraid that Don Miguel has still too many men for any such venture to succeed."

"Aye, captain," replied Dickory, "that he has. There are nearly 800 men on board your galleon who can still hit a good heavy blow, though there's near as many besides 'em their toes turned up. But once get inside the big cabin, an you can clear it as bold it ag'in the lot o' 'em."

"But I want the whole ship, sirrah," Saul Dickory shook his head. "You can't do it, captain," he declared decidedly. "An if you try the big waves will be rolling over every man o' us tomorrow. But you do what's as good as you can lay your hands on the store o' dollars."

"Without taking the ship? How?"

"The batch of the treasury is in the cabin floor, an you can strike out the cargo into this queer craft of your'n without a blessed don o' 'em being able to stop you."

And this in the end was what we did. The mermen, or Neptune, or the current, or whatever agency had charge of our heels, swept the two vessels nearer and nearer together till at last a couple of cleverly thrown grappling caught hold and our bulwark ground against the galleon's square stern.

Her crew had no intention of letting us set foot in their stronghold without a tussle and did what they could with fireballs and grenades, cold shot and naked steel to stop us. But with a ladder of boarding axes driven into their timbers we scrambled up and soon had a footing in the cabin.

Hemmed in by the packed masses behind, the front rank had the alternative of fight or fall. They fought long and desperately, and then they fell, for they expected no quarter and asked none. We on our side fought as furiously as they, stabbing with short-edged weapons where there was no room to swing them and thrusting many a foe through the open portholes into the sea. It was a bloody conflict, for not until two-thirds of the cabin's defenders lay dead and dying did the Spaniards suffer themselves to be driven out into the waist.

We ourselves had lost Jan Pengony, his friend George and three others killed outright, and two more were so sorely wounded that they died there on the cabin floor. Scarcely a one of us 'but had his red flesh to show.

But it was no time to groan or lick our wounds. The two doors under the poop were closed and barred with furniture piled up against them, loaded paterances were thrust through the portholes to command the waist, and the batch of the treasure room was cleared of bodies and thrown open. The pieces of eight we found snugly stowed in trunk chests, and while half a dozen of us stood ready by the swivel gun the rest made all haste they could to hand up the treasure and lower it through the windows on to the Scourge's deck below.

But rapid as were our movements

Don Miguel had no notion of allowing us to spoil his ship unmolested.

Scarcely had we got into the swing of work than he and a strong party with him mounted the poop again and commenced annoying the little craft whose bulwarks were grinding against his ship far below. They hurled down everything weighty and unpleasant that came to hand, and finally they dropped a barrel of powder, which on bursting scorched several of our lads so severely that they cried to us in the galleon's cabin that the deck was too hot to hold any longer.

At this Alec, leaving me in charge of the cabin, returned to his own vessel and balled the poop above.

"Don Miguel, ahoy!"

The tall Spaniard appeared above, gritting his yellow teeth with rage.

"Don Miguel, if you do not cease from annoying my people you shall have something else to think about. I swear to you that if you do not permit me to finish your task unmolested I'll sweep your crowded waist with a hurricane of paterance balls, and that the survivors may not want employment to keep them out of mischief I'll fire your galleon's hold before I leave her. There's a keg of spirits under the table that will help her to burn."

"And if I permit you to carry off your robber's booty in peace?"

"Measure your words, Don Miguel! If you permit me to carry off my lawful prize!"

The Spaniard interrupted him with a harsh laugh of impotent rage. "My lawful prize, I say, taken from my country's enemy," went on Alec calmly, "and if you offer no further annoyance to my men, I, on my part, faithfully promise to do you and yours no further injury for the present. Fortune will, I hope, grant us another meeting on some future day, when accounts may be settled. Meanwhile, your answer is awaited."

Don Miguel, who seemed almost beside himself with suppressed fury, was evidently about to hurl a defiance at us and raised his hand to clutch his refusal with a pistol bullet. But his officers and underlings had had all the fighting they wanted. Though each might have a stake in the golden cargo below, each remembered that with another throw of the dice he would lose not only that, but life as well. And choosing, like wise men, the lesser of the two evils, they laid violent hands on their reckless commandant and dragged him down. Then one of them jumped up into his place and signified that they agreed to the armistice. They promised, he said, not to molest us further, and they looked to us to keep a like faith with them. With a ringing cheer our lads set to work again on the gold chests, but none the less we kept the swivel gun trained on the crowd in the galleon's waist, for he is a besotted fool who trusts a penny's worth to a Spaniard's word.

They dared not break faith with us, however, because of the gun, and so we were able to transship the golden harvest without further loss of life.

While the party in the galleon's cabin bustled merrily among the booty another party refted our damaged head-sails, and when the last chest of gold pieces had been dumped upon our deck we raised an ironical cheer for the wealth of Golden Spain, and as the rising breeze slowly belled her sails the little Scourge sheered slowly off from her whipped and sullen adversary.

Aye, we were victorious, and while the red blood still flowed from our wounds we reeked little of the heavy price we had paid. But when the mad frenzy of fighting is over gaping cuts throb and grow stiff, and then it is that men begin to count the cost and spare a thought for those who have fallen, comrades who were alive and full of hope a few short hours before. We had a dreary account taking. It was clear that the Scourge could no longer hold her own in these seas of the new world.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

The galleon's gold had cost us very dear. Out of our slender ship's company 13 had been killed outright, four had hurts that they would die under, and of the rest there was no man who could not show the color of his own blood.

When the excitement of the battle had passed away and the grim fever of slaying had become a memory, not one stood on our decks in whose body there was not some deadly throb or stinging ache—not one who was not sick at heart, rainbow colored bruises or faint from loss of blood. Our captain lay pale and helpless in his bunk, brought to death's very door by a bullet wound under the shoulder, which he had borne undressed through half the long fight. The back of the boatswain's bald pate was burned black with powder, and he had more ribs stove in than the pain would let him count. And of the others one allied this and another that; one by the blow of an ax had lost the fingers of his hand, another by the crack of a gunstock had lost the sense of his hand.

The active watch on deck consisted of two persons. There was Job Treballon, with the old scar on his face crossed by a fresher seam, and Job Topp, with a pike thrust through the calf of one leg and a dagger wound in the foot of the other.

We had remained in melancholy silence for I know not how long, when suddenly Job Treballon got up without a word and went down the companion. Returning presently, he gave me a handful of biscuit and a lordly dram of cordial, and these, being sent on their errand, revived me wonderfully. So, after adjusting the bloody bandages round my leg and fastening, I told Job that he and I must lay our heads together and consider where to steer to.

Job was all chuckles and grins in a moment. It was not often that he was called into council by any one save the old man, and him he affected to despise, and so he considered his confidence no compliment.

"One thing is sure," said I, looking at the battle raved round me, "we can't keep the seas in this plight."

"No, Master Topp," chuckled Job, "that we can't. Let alone having no crew to reef or bail the sails, the hull an spar has sich a-many wounds, 'em that the first good squall'll send us all to Davy Jones' locker double quick. No, no; we've winged, Master Topp, an winged birds has to lie quiet for awhile afore they tries to fly again."

"There should be abler heads than ours, Job, to settle matters in a plight like this, but the abler heads are all sadly battered just now, so you and I must do our best to decide a course without them."

A look of solemn importance struggled hard to drive the grin from Job's face. But habit was strong, and the grin conquered.

"We might go back to the old harbor on Cave Island, Master Topp. It were snug enough, an them buts on the bill above be a rare place for sick men to lie in."

"But the Spaniards, Job! You forget the Spaniards!"

"Asking pardon," replied Job, screwing up his face with such a grin that the wound across it began to trickle afresh, "but one o' them Spaniards that we left behind has got off. And if one, maybe all."

"What?" I cried. "One got off? Where did you hear of him?"

"Seed him no fear of him, Master Topp, which is better than hearing o' him. It was his iron as wrote this fresh mark across my face. That comes o' disregarding the old man's words an sparing Spaniards," he added sagely.

"Captain Ireland's whim, Job," said I, shrugging my shoulders. "But are you sure of your man?"

"Sure as I am o' you, Master Topp, or o' uncle, or o' Cantala Ireland, or o' any one else noticeable. This un was a short, cheery kind o' little chap, wif bandy legs an a bright steel basinet on's head. Now, sea armor is always blacked, so a man as wears his bright is nat'rally a man you notice."

"Why, I remember him," said I. "A merry, cowardly little wretch named Sancho something or other. Your uncle gave him a pretty scare in the Serpent's temple."

"That's him; Don Sancho! An if this blow he gave me had been driven home 'stead o' falling half hearted through the frightened trembling o' the don's arm I should have gone down sure enough. As it was, I stood an toppled him into the sea for cumbering my way. Saul Dickory maybe could tell us how bandy legs came to be on the galleon."

"Fetch him," said I. And Job went. If Job was right and the Spaniards

"You and I must do our best," had really succeeded in leaving Cave Island, nothing could be more fortunate for us in our present crippled state. There we could recruit our war weary bodies and refit our wounded ship at our leisure, and when our pulses beat full and strong again we would be ready for another throw with Don Miguel, for I, for one, felt sure that we had by no means seen the last of that yellow fanged grin of rage. But if our late slaves were still on the island it would be madness to attempt the landing. Heaven grant they and escape:

"Aye," said Saul Dickory when I eagerly questioned him, "they've got off, sure enough. I've seed a-many o' 'em, an, what's more, through them I've heard all about your doings on the island."

"How did they get away?"

"Sighted a trading snow the day after you left, signalled her wif a smoke from that 'ere Sarpint bill I've heard tell of, an got look off. The snow set some o' 'em took ship to Cartagena, where, as we was short handed, they joined our galleon."

"Then," said I cheerily, "our course is clear. We'll run to the old harbor to recruit and refit." And with the decision I felt more hopeful and light hearted than I had since first my wounded leg began to tingle.

When we rounded the bluffs at the harbor's mouth and the foreshore in front of the cave opened out to view, it was with anxious gaze that those of us who were hale enough to stand on deck or to lean against mast or bulwark scanned the beach and the heights above the cave for sign of human habitation. The island was a pleasant enough spot to dwell in, and some of the Spaniards might have elected to stay and plant a colony there.

But not a trace of man did we see. Our old fortifications lay ruined and decayed, and in places the quick growing tropical vegetation had almost hidden them from sight. The heavy door with which we had closed the cave's mouth lay half covered with sand, and the doorposts from which it had once hung had fallen shantwise across the opening.

No, there was nothing to fear. The island had returned to the possession of the pigs and the gulls and the parakeets, its original owners.

To reach the buts on the high ground above was for the most seriously wounded an impossibility, and so we had to turn the cave itself into our hospital. We regretted this, because we had hoped much from the healing virtues of the flower scented breeze of the uplands, but there was no help for it.

Ab, it was a time to make the greediest plunderer sicken of his trade! The angel of death was hovering round us and claiming now one good sailor and true comrade and now another as part payment of the price of plunder. Not that we were careless company, for the old man's caustic wit and Willie Treballon's cumbersome attempts to reply to him raised many a smile from the weaker ones and many a loud guffaw from the stronger. And Job Treballon's grin we had always with us.

But the summons of death came all too often, and the tale of sandy rounds on the yellow harbor grew sadly long in spite of all that the old man's skillful surging and John Topp's tireless nursing could do to shorten it. All that man could do we did, but our enemy was too strong for us.

The end of our nursing came at last. Some conquered their wounds, and some their wounds conquered, and when the last grave had been dug and filled there were but 12 men left out of the two and thirty who had been hale and strong when the fight for the galleon's gold began.

CHAPTER XXIX.

"Twelve men on their legs," said the boatswain, waving his hook toward the buts, "an that counts in the old man an Tinker Tom, which is both crippled."

"Twelve men," said I, "are more than every one would have got off the leeshore on which ten of them were lying."

"Credit where credit is due, Master Topp," replied the boatswain. "All praise to your surging. But for you an the old man an navy Job, which, though little better than natural in general, has unstowed a few grains o' sense for this time o' need, I don't say but we should have lost a hand or two more. But as it is we got 12, an what I say is 12 men bairn't able to take the Scourge to England."

"It could be done," interposed Alec in a half musing tone, "if we could keep off the scurvy."

"But you can't," replied the boatswain gruffly. "Might as well try to escape fens in a London tavern as scurvy on a long ocean voyage, an new-leaved men is particular liable to it. Mark me, Captain Ireland, if the Scourge sails from here with none but us 12 aboard, her she'll never work up Bristol river."

"But with the men Saul Dickory tells of," said I, "we could do it."

"Could we get them?" inquired Alec, turning to the man.

"Why, yes, captain, an easy. Los Roques is the name o' the islands they're on, an you'll find that down in your charts. The chap as told me was a half breed that got blown off there to a fishing cruise."

"How did they get there?"

"Well, you see, they're a scratch lot—English, Frenchers an Danes—that banded together at the mines to escape. They gets out, reaches the coast, seizes a boat an puts to sea. They meant to reach one o' the islands an live there till they could steal a ship that would carry them home, but the boat was knocked to splinters in the surf on landing, an having no tools to build another they found themselves safely jailed."

"See, Alec," said I, unrolling a chart and spreading it on the ground. "Give me a crew of six, and I'll take the Scourge round, leaving you others here. By keeping plenty of nothing we shall be out of the usual track and can be back here in ten days without sighting a sail."

But no—Alec would not hear it. If we went at all, it should be with all hands aboard, and himself in command. And finally, after much discussion, this was what we decided to do. Further, it was resolved to leave the treasure on Cave Island for the present. The repairs to the Scourge were soon finished, and the earliest possible day was fixed for the embarking.

But at the last moment an unexpected difficulty arose. The old man refused absolutely to quit the island. He had been ailing of late, and it seemed that he had never quite recovered from the wound he got in the battle with the galleon. His wits were queerer than usual, and he continually complained of the cold, though the hot summer sun drew streams of sweat from the rest of us.

We all felt great concern for the old man, and, though we knew he would never play us false, but would defend our treasure even with magic arts if need be, still we did not like to leave him behind, ailing as he was. But none of us dared to gainsay his wish except our captain. Fully an hour did Alec spend in useless argument trying to turn him from his purpose and seemed all the time to be strangely moved, though from what cause we could not tell. But he failed. And when at last the Scourge set sail and the old man was left on the beach my sworn shipmate covered him with his eyes till we had rounded the spit and run out of sight. Then with a heavy sigh he turned and went down to the cabin.

It was a strange affair, and perhaps we should have taken it as an omen of ill luck. Though I am myself singularly free from superstitions of all kinds, I must believe that the old man had some foreknowledge of misfortune to come, and yet I cannot think that he knew that the fire would break out in the Scourge's spirit room or surely he would have warned us. But perhaps, as Willie Treballon says, the seer can see, but cannot change, the decrees of fate. It may be so.

That, however, is neither here nor there. But the fact remains that a fire did break out, and that, too, on the second day out from Cave Island during the first watch of the glass while Alec held the deck.

I was in my bunk, but came up when the alarm was given and was soon passing buckets with the rest. But the dainty Scourge was doomed, and our puny efforts were without avail. The water seemed only to irritate the blaze to further fury, and where at first was pale, lambent flame, blue and transparent, soon there began to roll forth an avalanche of inky smoke, riven by greeds, shooting tongues of yellow fire.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cure, a remedy such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Protrusion, or Falling of Womb, which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

Very often a married woman or young girl does not know who to turn to for advice in circumstances where she dislikes to talk with the family physician about delicate matters. At such times write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., for free consultation and advice, and the same will be held as strictly confidential. It is foolish to consult women friends of persons without medical training.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription contains no alcohol, is entirely vegetable and was the first exclusively woman's tonic on the market—it has sold more largely in the past third of a century than any other medicine for women.

All other compounds intended for women only are made with alcohol, or alcohol is a large component—this alcohol injures the nerves. The little red corpuscles of the blood are shrunk by alcohol. All such compounds, therefore, do harm.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. Use them with the "Favorite Prescription" when a pill is required. One is a laxative, two, a mild cathartic.

LINDSAY

A DESPERATE STRUGGLE TO KEEP UP.

A WOBBLY RAILWAY POLICY.

In regard to the Grand Trunk Pacific, Mr. Borden, the Opposition leader, made a spasmodic plunge at the close of the session into the depths of Government ownership, but he failed to carry his party with him. The Toronto News, which favours state railway ownership, regretfully acknowledges this. And why should it not be true. Mr. Borden himself submitted three policies after having started, when the Government first submitted the Grand Trunk Pacific proposition to Parliament, with the initial declaration that a second transcontinental line was unnecessary. First, he advocated the extension of the Intercolonial to Georgian Bay, the leasing of the Canadian Pacific system to Winnipeg, and the subsidizing of the Grand Trunk to the Pacific; second, the extension of the Intercolonial to Winnipeg, the survey of the north country between Winnipeg and Quebec with a view to future lines of railway, and the construction and control of lines west of Winnipeg by the Dominion; and, third, Government ownership of the transcontinental railway by a route not definitely specified. When to this three-fold policy are added the schemes propounded by other members of the party and the party organs, of which the most simple is the plan of subsidizing the Grand Trunk from North Bay to the Pacific coast, it will excite little surprise that Mr. Borden cannot carry his party with him on his railway policy, not because they are unwilling to follow his lead, but they can't see where he would take them. If his first two policies were bad, what assurance have they that he will not have a new transcontinental railway policy before election day?

THE COAL QUESTION.

Legislation which diverts transportation from its natural channels into artificial ones does so at a loss and waste of capital proportionate to the effectiveness of the interference with natural laws. An illustration of this is afforded by the duties on coal. Originally imposed in Ottawa to enable the coal owners of Nova Scotia to supply the western market, they operate simply to enhance the price of coal to the Ontario consumer. Nova Scotia coal gets as far as Montreal but not beyond; from there to Windsor or rather to Fort William and Rat Portage, the Ontario consumer buys American coal with the duty added to the price. The aggregate amount paid by Ontario in duty during the last quarter of a century is well over $30,000,000, a vast sum to be taken from the working capital of the province. The case is even more serious in New England. Set a coal barge afloat on the Nova Scotia coast and it will drift to Massachusetts. The coal freight rates from Nova Scotia by water to Boston are about one-quarter of the all-rail or combined water and rail rates from West Virginia, which supplies the bulk of the bituminous coal used there. It is estimated that in the past thirty years the New England States have paid $100,000,000 on account of the duty against Nova Scotia coal, from which they have not received a dollar of direct benefit.

When the Presidential election is over in November a movement will be started on both sides of the line to bring about reciprocity in coal. If it succeeds, and there is every prospect that it will, Nova Scotia will supply New England to the advantage of both, while Ontario will get her coal free of duty from the mines of Ohio and Pennsylvania, and with the Trent Valley canal terminal at Port Hope, opposite a coal port, the question of cheaper fuel for manufacturing and all domestic purposes would be solved. Fortunately the question is not a party one in Canada. When the duties were imposed on American coal five and twenty years ago, Sir Charles Tupper said his aim was to bring about reciprocity; and Mr. Fielding has all along hoped for reciprocity as the true policy for both countries.

NO CHANCE FOR JOBBERY.

Doubtless with the making of the first Canadian Pacific contract in mind, and thinking that others would do as their party had done, some Conservative authorities are throwing out insinuations, or making direct assertion that the Transcontinental commissioners and the members of the Cabinet are "manipulating contracts" on the Eastern, or Government, Division of the Grand Trunk Pacific in order "to raise campaign funds and strengthen the Liberal party generally in Quebec and the Maritime Provinces."

That is maliciously, as well as absurdly false. Under the law, which is practically the act of 1867, governing the construction of the Intercolonial Railway, the line must be built by tender and contract after the plans and specifications have been duly advertised, and no contract involving an outlay of more than $10,000 can be concluded by the commissioners without the sanction of the Governor-in-Council.

And further as the Grand Trunk Pacific Company, has to pay an annual rental to the Government for the use of the Eastern Section, namely, three per cent. on the cost of construction, the company is deeply interested in seeing that the cost of construction shall be kept down to the lowest figure compatible with good workmanship. A high cost of construction entailing a high rental would, of course, involve high rates, so that the public is as much concerned as the company itself in an economical construction of the road. To ensure this, section 7 of the agreement of 1903, between the Government and the company, provides that the specifications shall be submitted to, and approved by, the company, before the work is begun, and secondly, that the work shall be subject to the "joint supervision, inspection and acceptance" of the chief engineer of the Government, and the chief engineer of the company, who, in case of dispute, shall call in a third man.

How are the contracts to be "manipulated" under such conditions? Every item of the work must be conducted in a manner that shall satisfy the Grand Trunk Pacific Company and its engineers, who are so profoundly interested in keeping down the expenditure. Values will be had for every dollar paid out, because the company has to pay rental on the basis of total cost.

But does anybody think a Conservative Government would insert such a protecting clause in a contract? Did it do so in the case of the Canadian Pacific?

A GOVERNMENT THAT DOES THINGS.

Critics think it smart to declare that the Government does not cause the sun to shine, the rain to fall or the fruit to ripen. That is true, but we need not concern ourselves about what the Government does not do.

The Government has established cold storage transportation from the farms in Canada to the British markets, making a complete chain from the refrigerator chambers in the creameries and the refrigerator cars service to the cold storage warehouses and the mechanical cold storage chambers on ocean-going steamships. This matter was neglected under Conservative rule, although Australia, New Zealand, and the United States had similar services before 1896.

The Government has secured the removal of the cattle quarantine of 90 days in the United States. This embargo put Canadian cattle raisers at a serious disadvantage, and its removal, after negotiations by Mr. Fisher at Washington, resulted in a large increase in Canada's exports of cattle to the United States. The Government has adopted practical methods in the distribution of agricultural information, so that every farmer can profit immediately by the knowledge gained through costly experiments.

The Government does not cause the fruit to ripen, but it protects the fruit from insect pests, gives information as to the best grades for various localities, provides for storage and transportation methods, which insure the highest prices, opens markets for all lines of farm products and relieves the farmer of unnecessary burden of taxation.

The farmers of Canada do not ask to be "coddled." They know that the man behind the plough is the arbiter of his own fortunes. There are things that the individual, no matter how industrious or far-sighted, cannot do for himself however, and the farmers recognize that since 1896 those things have been better done than ever before.

The condition of rural Canada was never more satisfactory. On every hand farm mortgages are being reduced or wiped off, better buildings are being erected, and modern conveniences provided that make the life of women on the farm far more comfortable than in the past. Why should not the farmers of Canada vote for the Laurier Government?

It is "up to" the farmers to decide between the Liberal policy which means a fair-play-to-all tariff policy—a revenue tariff with incidental protection or the Conservative policy which means a sky high protection policy in the interests of manufacturers and gives the farmers and general consumer the heavy end of the load? Keep both hands on Tariff Stability.

Which is the better, high prosperity with a moderate tariff, or high protection without prosperity? Hadn't we better hold what we have? Hadn't we better?

Mr. R. F. McWilliams, who was in the field for a few days as an Independent candidate in West Peterboro, has withdrawn from the contest. The fight will be between Mr. R. R. Hall, and Mr. Jas. Kendry.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, will address a mass meeting in Brook-st., Brook-st., Peterboro, Oct. 20, in the interest of Mr. R. R. Hall, Liberal candidate in West Peterboro. Many Lindsay admirers of Sir Wilfrid will invade Peterboro that evening.

Under Laurier the Courts of Revision in every town and city have not to wrestle with long lines of taxpayers seeking remission of taxes because they can't get tenants for their houses or stores. That was the rule when Tories were in power at Ottawa.

Mr. G. E. Foster, who has been seeking a constituency with a consistency that was met at all creditable to Mr. Borden's influence with the party workers, has been put up against Mayor Urquhart in North Toronto.

Hamilton Times: Mr. W. R. Brock, M. P., one of the great business men "behind Borden," has decided that he is too busy to go back to Ottawa. And Brock was slated for Mr. Borden's Cabinet, too! He sees the handwriting on the wall. Borden has no need of Cabinet timber yet.

Orillia Times: An increase in business of a hundred thousand dollars a day, seven days a week, year in and year out, is a record to be proud of, and facts and figures show that since the Liberals came into power, eight years ago, this has been an actual fact. Mr. D. L. White, of Midland, who is an authority on manners of trade and commerce, pointed this out at the Liberal convention.

Sir Wilfrid and Hon. Mr. Borden will be in Ontario from Oct. 9 to 15.

It is probable that Hon. Sydney Fisher will speak at several points in Ontario during the campaign. Mr. Fisher's great success as Minister of Agriculture has done much to popularize the Laurier administration.

Mr. A. B. Aylesworth, the eminent Toronto K. C., who has joined the Laurier Cabinet, will contest Durham County against Col. Ward, of Port Hope. Mr. Robt. Belth, the present representative of Edward Blake's old riding, having decided to drop out owing to ill-health.

The Montreal Gazette will have none of Mr. Borden's "T.P." policy. It refuses to swallow his G.T.P. vagaries. It declares that the main issue of the campaign is the tariff—higher taxation on the people—and not the railway question. Mr. Borden has not to go out of his party to seek trouble.

The Windsor Standard, the Essex Tory organ, was not favorably impressed with Mr. Borden's qualities as a leader. It declares that "one hour of Lewis Wigle and M. E. Cowan, on a public platform, with a mixed audience, would create more enthusiasm than Mr. Borden would do in a year."

"The main issue of the election campaign now on," says the Montreal Gazette, "is that of the tariff." But the organs are not a unit on that. The Woodstock Express protests that the tariff cannot be made an issue, and even Mr. Borden declares that the Grand Trunk Pacific is the chief issue. The Tories are a divided family.

If you are not a householder you must register. Even if you are a householder it behooves you to see that you are on the list, as errors are liable to occur. If you are a householder and have moved since the roll was compiled, you must register. You can get any necessary information at the Reform Committee Room, next to The Post printing office.

Mr. John Finlay, the Liberal candidate in East Peterboro, points out in his election address to the ratepayers that "never before since Confederation was a Dominion has there been so long an unbroken spell of good times as during the eight years the present Government has been in power." The point is well taken, and is one that his opponent, Mr. Henry A. Moore, a respectable young farmer of Dunsmuir township, will find it impossible to deny.

Mr. R. F. McWilliams, of Peterboro, who was a candidate for the Liberal nomination in West Peterboro in January last, and who moved that Mr. R. R. Hall's nomination be made unanimous, now announces himself as an independent candidate. If Mr. McWilliams remains in the field for a few weeks he will be afforded the most convincing proof that Liberal voters will not uphold a man capable of such treachery. Mr. R. R. Hall will sweep West Peterboro.

Mail and Empire, Oct. 6th, announces that "Mr. Kendry has yielded to the persuasions of his friends and has consented to stand once more for the constituency he so faithfully served the last eight years." Is this the Mr. Kendry, who publicly went back on his leader's tariff policy a few weeks ago? The Tory situation in West Peterboro must be desperate when Leader Borden is compelled to use "persuasion" to induce a follower of eight years' standing to remain in the firing line.

Under the Liberal Government, with a lowered customs tariff, the increased prosperity of the people resulted in an increase of revenue, the surplus revenue for seven years of Liberal rule reaching the enormous total of $68,400,072, the present years surplus being $18,500,000, of which $7,500,000 is applied to the reduction of the national debt. This year's surplus in fifty years, if placed at compound interest, will repay the country for its total outlay on the transcontinental railway.

Toronto News (Tory): The heavy expenditures of the Government have been made in a time of prosperity and surpluses, and therefore have excited no alarm in the country. The truth is that the necessary expenditures upon canals, railways, wharves, breakwaters, and public buildings are so enormous that the national outlay must be heavy for years to come, and the best we can hope is that there will be a minimum of waste and jobbery, and an intelligent application of the revenues to objects which make for national equipment and development. Altogether the Government in its administration of patronage, its handling of contracts, and its electoral methods, has disappointed public expectation, and fallen far below the standards set in opposition, while its national spirit, its appreciation of industrial conditions, its constructive capacity and general

We ought to capture two Toronto seats. Mr. Robbette and Mayor Urquhart are both clever and popular men, and hard workers.

Hamilton Times: We give figures to prove that Canada is prosperous, but the figures are really not needed. We all know it is prosperous. The manufacturer, the merchant, the professional man, and last but not least, the workmen and working-men, know it. They have more money in their pockets and live better than they did in the N. P. hard up times.

Talking about scandals, some of us remember the Langevin-McGreevey affair, the Curran bridge scandal, the Tay Canal etc., to say nothing of the great Pacific scandal. It was of this state of affairs that the London Times said: "Here in the mother country there can be only one feeling—that of deep regret for the wrong done to the fair fame of the eldest of her daughters."

Toronto News: Mr. A. B. Aylesworth, K. C., is to be welcomed to the Federal arena, and it is to be hoped that Durham will make him its member. The constituency which was represented by Edward Blake, now has the chance of sending to Ottawa a lawyer of exceptionally high attainments and standing and a man who in public affairs has shown power and coolness of judgment. Mr. Aylesworth's legal qualification are of the highest and rest upon that excellent basis, great powers of industry and application. A sound and brilliant lawyer of high character is a good man to send to Parliament. In addition there is the fact that Mr. Aylesworth already has figured in public life in a manner which aroused the enthusiastic support of the great majority of his fellow-Canadians.

MANHOOD SUFFRAGE VOTERS.

Where the Registrars Will Receive Names on Oct. 20th, 21st and 25th.

The Board of Registrars of Manhood Suffrage Voters in the Town of Lindsay for the approaching elections to the House of Commons met in the Court House on Saturday last, 8th inst. There were present His Honor Judge Dean, His Honor Judge Harding, D. R. Anderson, esq., Clerk County Court, and Alexander Jackson, esq., Police Magistrate, comprising the Board.

Judge Dean was elected chairman and Mr. G. S. Patrick clerk of the Board.

The following Registration districts and Registrars to preside therein were decided upon, viz:

No. 1.—Polling Sub-divisions Nos. 2 and 3, North Ward,—Judge Dean, at the Court House.

No. 2.—Polling Sub-division No. 1, North Ward, and Polling Sub-division No. 1, South Ward,—Mr. D. R. Anderson, in the Council chamber at the Town Hall.

No. 3.—Polling Sub-division Nos. 2 and 3, South Ward,—Mr. Alex. Jackson, at the building on Lindsay-st. formerly known as Brown's Hotel.

No. 4.—Polling Sub-division Nos. 1 and 2, East Ward,—Judge Harding, at the Kennedy & Davis Milling Company's office.

Sittings will be held on Thursday and Friday, 20th and 21st October, inst., with Supplementary sittings on Tuesday, the 25th.

The Board of Appeal will sit at the Court House on Friday, the 28th inst.

The Country Safely Liberal.

(Hamilton Herald, Tory.)

The fight waged by the local Conservatives in 1900 was an aggressive one, while in this campaign they are fighting on the defensive. It may also be due in part to a realization that, however Hamilton may go, the country is pretty sure to go Grit anyway. In 1900 it was generally believed that the Tories had a good fighting chance to win.

LINDSAY, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 14

A CAPABLE REPRESENTATIVE.

If Lindsay is going to be a live, active town, it ought to have an active and capable representative. The town and county will have such in Mr. McLaughlin. He is hardworking, energetic and able. He is closely associated with the business enterprise of the town and county. He has been actively associated with the organization of enterprises in this country that have nearly a million dollars of productive capital invested in the town and county. He has been the confidential legal advisor of many of the largest industrial enterprises in the county. His sound judgment and financial ability is recognized elsewhere. He is counsel for and director of some of the largest financial institutions in Canada, representing many millions of invested capital. The public have great confidence in his judgment, and absolute faith in his integrity. He has been looking to the future for this town, and is associated with both the water power enterprises that propose to bring cheap power to Lindsay.

There will be a revision of the tariff next session, in all probability. Why should this town not be represented by an accurate economic student, such as Mr. McLaughlin is known to be? The interests of our industries would be faithfully and well represented. The electing him to represent this constituency would add to his influence and greatly increase his power to promote the welfare of the town and community.

Is there a single enterprise or industry in the town or county that Col. Hughes has ever organized or brought here? Is there one brick upon another as the result of anything he has ever done for Lindsay? Would anyone invest a dollar on his judgment? His one specialty, and he has faithfully devoted himself to that, is booting his own horn—glorifying Sam Hughes and the whole community would be glad of a good long rest from that.

Business men, give their consideration. Give Mr. McLaughlin your votes. He will be an able representative, will give the town and county the full benefit of his energy, experience and ability.

WILL DO THE PARTY NO HARM

The Fenelon Falls Gazette in its last issue had the following to say concerning the contest in Victoria and Haliburton:

How the election in this constituency will "eventuate" neither we nor anybody else can predict with any degree of certainty. The fight will be between Col. Sam Hughes and Mr. R. J. McLaughlin, of Lindsay, the latter of whom will be chosen Liberal candidate at the convention to be held in Lindsay on Tuesday next. In North Victoria, in 1890, Sam Hughes beat Mr. McLaughlin by a majority of 251; in 1896 he beat Dr. McKay by a majority of 106, and a similar falling off at the coming election would result in his defeat. The decline in the Conservative vote was partly owing to the growing popularity of the Laurier Government, which in 1896 had been in power only four years, and partly to the growing unpopularity of Col. Sam, who would undoubtedly have been defeated but for the halo of glory he had acquired—or said he had acquired—in South Africa. Since then the history of the South African war has been written and printed, and Sam Hughes' alleged heroic feats are not recorded there; in the Laurier Government has been

TO THE ELECTORS OF VICTORIA AND HALIBURTON.

Gentlemen,—As a result of the unanimous nomination of the Liberal Convention and at the urgent request of many leading Conservatives, I am a candidate for the House of Commons for this constituency.

It will only be possible in the short time between my nomination and the election—only three weeks—for me to visit the more important centres of the constituency. I therefore desire to place my views before you in this way:

1. I believe in tariff based upon the necessities of the public revenue, so adjusted as to protect Canadian industries from unfair competition but not to enable exorbitant prices to be charged the consumer, with such preferences to the Mother Country and sister Colonies as will encourage trade within the Empire. The tariff to be revised from time to time in the interest of the whole people to suit changed conditions, and after careful investigation.

2. I believe in full Government control of all railways through the Railway Commission, which should exercise a general power over rates and service so that people in all parts of the country shall as far as possible have good railway service at reasonable rates.

3. The battle that Canadians have to fight is one with nature, to bring into subjection the rugged and inaccessible parts of our own country and to develop its magnificent resources, and I believe in an energetic and progressive policy with that end in view.

4. I believe that Public Works which have been undertaken by the Government, such as Grand Trunk Trunk Pacific and the Trent Valley Canal, should be pushed to completion with all possible speed, so that the country may have the benefit of the earliest possible time.

5. I condemn with all my heart, corruption and crookedness in politics and I urge every elector to avoid and condemn the very appearance of the same. I would much rather not be elected than that even one improper act should be done in my behalf. The true success and greatness of the country depends upon the maintenance of the liberties and character of the people and the willingness of the electors to place principle above party; and the worst enemies of the country are men who seek to pervert the liberties and rights of the people by securing

THE TRAIL OF THE GRAFTER.

We wish to direct the attention of all readers of The Post to page four of this issue, on which appears a letter from Mr. T. O. Irwin, of Glendene, a member of the township of MacPosa, and a prominent Conservative, who does not endorse Col. Hughes' unfair tactics in manipulating the recent Tory convention so as to secure his nomination. Mr. Irwin states facts that cannot be refuted, and only echoes the sentiments of hundreds of honest Conservatives throughout the riding who will not become tools to be made use of solely for Hughes' personal benefit, and who will not stoop to fight such dishonourable tactics. This letter should be read by every fair-minded Conservative, and if your neighbor of that political faith happens not to be a reader of The Post, see that he peruses Mr. Irwin's convincing letter and he cannot help but feel that the water states the truth. Then if he wishes to work for the welfare of the riding and his country he will cast his vote to rid the County of such a dishonourable politician.

A DELIGHTFUL EVENING

In Store for the Citizens of Lindsay.

The charming story of "Jean Valjean" will be told by the Rev. Solomon Cleaver, D.D., of Toronto, in the Cambridge-st. Methodist church, on Monday evening next, 17th October. Single admission will be 25c; family tickets only 50c. Crowded houses have greeted Dr. Cleaver's recital of this thrilling story whenever given. Our citizens will do well to be on time to secure a good seat, as the seats will be reserved.—W.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier:

(In a recent speech)
Gentlemen, I do not know how many years Providence has reserved for me. I am not as young as I was. My opponents say that I have many faults. I must admit that I have one which I would like to correct. I am getting old at the rate of twelve months every year, but I believe I will live long enough to see that railway built and to see the merchandise of Asia and Europe passing and repassing along it, as well as the trade of Canada. I hope Montreal loaded with the products of the Orient and returning again with cargoes for the west to be shipped via Port Simpson to the trading centres of the east. The future of our country is immense. If ever I had confidence in my country, and God knows I always did, if ever I had faith in my own country, it is since I began to study this plan for the new railway.

PREMIER ROSS AT MOUNT BRYDGES

He Deals With the Conservative Charges of Corruption.

In his speech at Mount Brydges, Ont., the other day, Premier Ross said that it was stated that the alleged corruption of the Government was the result of its long tenure of office. But what did the records of the courts show? Said Ross: MacDonald was only four years in office, not quite that—and in the general election of 1871 five of his supporters were unseated for corrupt practices, and only one member of the Opposition; whereas in the general election of 1902, after the Liberals were thirty-two years in office, only one supporter of the Government was unseated by the courts. If ten years of office meant the unseating of five seats by the Opposition party, what would have been the number of seats vacated if they had been in office over thirty years? He read the following comparison of the members unseated after the general election of 1902, with the previous elections since Confederation:

	Liberal	Conservative
1871	1	5
1875	10	10
1879	1	4
1883	3	3
1887	1	1
1891	1	4
1895	6	3
1902	1	4
Totals	26	37

In the election of 1902 the Hon. Mr. Davis resigned his seat, but even if this were treated as an election voided by the courts, the last general election, after 32 years of office, was better than the Sandfield Macdonald election after four years of office, and better than the election of 1876, when ten members of Parliament on each side were unseated (Appala).

either nomination or election by corrupt and crooked means.

6. With this statement as to my general views, I claim freedom of action and the right always to place what I may believe to be in the interests of the country before my party consideration.

7. It is the duty of a representative to devote himself solely to the interests of his country and constituency and not to attempt to serve two masters by representing for personal gain corporate or private interests at the same time.

8. I have lived among you from my earliest childhood and you have my record. If elected I will devote myself to the interest of the constituency and the country at large.

I ask the assistance of all persons irrespective of party who earnestly desire the welfare of our constituency and country.

If elected I will represent all parties and see that justice is done to all.

Yours truly,
R. J. McLAUGHLIN, K. C.

MARIPOSA TOWNSHIP FAIR.

Bad Weather Necessitated the Postponement of the Show.

Owing to the very unfavorable state of the weather, the Mariposa show was called off. The directors had no other alternative but to come to this decision, as the gate receipts would have been nil. It was unfortunate that the weather turned out so disagreeable, as the indications were bright for a good show. President O'Hara and Secretary Weldon had busied themselves very much the past few weeks in getting things in order, with a view to making the show eclipse anything hitherto attempted along these lines, but to no avail, as the weather man obtained otherwise. However, those who came, and were disappointed, took it good naturedly and will hope for better weather condition another year.

COUNCIL COMMITTEES MEET.

MEMBERS WERE IN A DISCURSIVE MOOD AT LAST MEETING.

Hence Three Hours Were Wasted Over a Little Business.

According to notice, our town fathers met in committee October 7th, in the Clerk's office, Mayor Sootheran and all members present.

Board of Works.

On motion Mr. Alex Horn was heard in connection with his firm's former request that Bond-st., from William-st. to the river, be graded in order that they might be able to unload wood and freight. The firm employs 47 hands, some of whom are paid as high as $15 per week, and the taxes amounted to about $300, hence they were entitled to some consideration. When the grade of the hill was being reduced it would be easy to construct a wharf, as recommended by the Town Engineer in a former report.

Mayor Sootheran and his colleagues expressed their willingness to expend $50, the amount estimated for the grading work, but said they could not spare $150 for a wharf this year. The Town Commissioner will proceed with the work at once.

A number of accounts were considered. In connection with a big bill from the Rathbun Co. for cement his Worship remarked, "There's a reduction of 75 for poor cement furnished for Wellington bridge, is there not?"

Clerk Knowlson—"No, the amount is only $10. I think Overseer McGeough found that eventually the cement set all right."

Mayor Sootheran—"That's not the point—using the slaked cement lost us the services of a gang of men, whom we had to pay, and I locked the work. You'll remember that at the time we decided that 75 would be a fair reduction, and Mr. McGeough agreed with us. Send the account back—$10 does not begin to represent our loss."

Ald. O'Reilly—"We did not lose the services of the men—they were put at other work."

The request of Mr. Jas. Roach, road commissioner, for an additional grant of $15 for the repair of the western boundary road was refused the appropriation for road work being exhausted. Chairman O'Reilly was instructed to look after a bad culvert on the road west of Central Park.

Tom Connors sent in an account of $27.50 for snowplowing work in the east ward last winter.

Mayor Sootheran—"We never would have had that demand if we had not paid the north ward man's unreasonable account."

Clerk Knowlson—"Connors assumed the contract, agreeing to accept the balance of the appropriation, but gave it up. The claim was allowed to stand over."

Chairman O'Reilly—"The plowmen in bad condition and must be repaired. What about making three year contracts, as mentioned early in the season?"

Mayor Sootheran—"Yes, we should carry out that plan and demand adequate security. It would be better for the contractors, because they would be certain to get at least one easy winter to make up for the hard ones."

Ald. Storer thought all property-owners should be compelled to clean the walks opposite their own premises.

As is the rule in Port Hope, Cobourg and elsewhere.

Mayor Sootheran—"I have a frontage of 100 feet and don't want that kind of exercise. People couldn't get men to do the work, and the old plan is much cheaper anyway."

On a vote being taken the three-year contract was turned down and one year adopted, each contractor to furnish $50 security for proper fulfilment.

The following accounts were passed:

Tom Connors sent in an account of $27.50 for snowplowing work in the east ward last winter.

Mayor Sootheran—"We never would have had that demand if we had not paid the north ward man's unreasonable account."

Clerk Knowlson—"Connors assumed the contract, agreeing to accept the balance of the appropriation, but gave it up. The claim was allowed to stand over."

Chairman O'Reilly—"The plowmen in bad condition and must be repaired. What about making three year contracts, as mentioned early in the season?"

Mayor Sootheran—"Yes, we should carry out that plan and demand adequate security. It would be better for the contractors, because they would be certain to get at least one easy winter to make up for the hard ones."

Ald. Storer thought all property-owners should be compelled to clean the walks opposite their own premises.

As is the rule in Port Hope, Cobourg and elsewhere.

Mayor Sootheran—"I have a frontage of 100 feet and don't want that kind of exercise. People couldn't get men to do the work, and the old plan is much cheaper anyway."

On a vote being taken the three-year contract was turned down and one year adopted, each contractor to furnish $50 security for proper fulfilment.

Ald. O'Reilly moved, seconded by Ald. Robinson, that the request be granted on condition that the work be done inside of three years. Ald. O'Reilly, in support of his motion, said Council should help the project in every way possible.

Ald. Cinnamon—"Yes, if anything can be done to get the power house we should do it."

Ald. O'Reilly—"It was suggested that we contract for 500 or 1000 h. p., but we couldn't do that. However, we can offer a five year contract for all street lights over 60 at $50 each, the price charged by the present company, and the two halls at 50 per 1000 watts, if you wish. They will have to deal with the Water Commissioners, if they want to get the pumping contract."

The resolution was adopted.

Mayor Sootheran—"I'm afraid the Morris gas business will not amount to anything. They have not started in Collingwood and I was shown a letter by a responsible citizen which led me to lose faith in the Lindsay deal."

Finance Committee.

Ald. Cinnamon presented the following accounts, most of which were passed:

G. N. W. Tel. Co.....	$.52
Charl. Committee.....	1.00
Jell Tel. Co.....	1.00
Wilson & Wilson.....	29.42
E. E. Sharpe.....	12.00

On motion two-thirds of the taxes on Cornelia Brewery for nine months of last year were remitted owing to fire loss, and Thos. Robinson was granted the exemption rate on rannery for eight months of last year.

Rev. Fr. Casey's protest against the Convent tax settlement was again considered and a charge of 5 per cent. interest while the matter was in dispute was stricken off.

The committees then adjourned.

A DELIGHTFUL SACRED CONCERT

At Cambridge-st. Methodist Church Last Week.

While the audience that assembled last week to greet the brilliant organist, Prof. W. J. Hutchins, and his well-trained choir, would have made a good showing at a theatre concert, in the vast area of the Cambridge-st. Methodist church the 300 music-lovers present were surrounded by many empty seats. But what was lacking in numbers was to some extent made up in the appreciation and recognition of very exceptional musical and artistic ability. The appearance was hearty and enthusiastic at the close of each piece.

Prof. Hutchins' initial appearance as a concert organist in this town had been awaited with keen interest, and last night's grand concert proved that the interest was justified.

The program given was exceptionally pleasing. Beginning with that beautiful creation of Handel's genius, "Let the Bright Seraphim," The Choir and his choir have been heard into the sea, and ending with one Prof. Hutchins' own sketches, "Scotch Fantasia," and "March Triumphant," the organist held the wraps of his hearers to the close, and enhanced his already high reputation. The choir, in their two well-sounding anthems were loudly encouraged in perfect time with the music. The members are to be congratulated on their success. As a contralto soloist Miss Cora Walters is widely known, and her voice was at its best in her selection, "O Rest in the Lord," and in the duet, "Come unto Me and Rest," in which Miss E. Brimble was also heard to advantage. Miss Brimble is a coming star in the soprano ranks, having a firm, well-trained, and pleasing voice.

One of the most attractive numbers on the program was the solo of Mr. E. H. H. of Toronto, who is fast becoming a pronounced favorite with Lindsay audiences. He has a rich, mellow voice, which gives out the base and baritone notes in a very pleasing and effective manner. His rendition of "Jerusalem" was heard and his solo in the anthems showed his great adaptability. It may truthfully be said that those who were fortunate enough to attend last night's recital were well repaid, and the next recital will be looked forward to with longing, by a majority of our citizens. The program ended with the national anthem.

A Steamboat Deal.

Capt. Edward Elliott, who was in command of the Str. Kenosha the last two seasons had purchased that trim little steamer, the Greyhound, from the Ontario Bank, and during the winter months will rebuild the vessel and increase the beam by three feet. She will then be able to accommodate about 150 passengers, and will be a welcome addition to Lindsay's excursion fleet.

W. C. T. U. Notes.

The annual meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union was held in the Y.M.C.A. parlour on Friday afternoon, Sept. 30, the President in the chair and a fairly good attendance. The meeting opened with devotional exercises led by Mrs. Wallace, after which the reports and treasurers reports were read and adopted. The secretary reported that during the year there had been two special and two parlor meetings, also four cottage meetings. The treasurer's report showed the amount raised for all purposes to be $327.50. The reports from all superintendents of work were then read and adopted, after which the election of officers took place. The advisability of sending delegates to our convention in Bowmanville was then discussed and three ladies were appointed. After a suitable program of singing was brought to a close by the singing of the hymn, "O God, our Father."

During the year the Union has sustained a loss through the death of one of its members—Mrs. Arch. Campbell, who was ever a ready helper and sympathizer in the work.

WEEKLY POST LETTER BOX

DID COLONEL SAM WALK THE VELDT? (To the Editor of The Post.)

Sir,—In your editorial the other day, regarding that Montreal horse, "Sir Charles," that the Gazette is kicking up such a dust about, it looked to me as if you were poking fun at our esteemed representative—were you? It just struck me, when reading your article, that it was possible that "me and Turpin" did not have a horse when working those famous roundups we used to read about. If I am mistaken and there was a horse, and it was dubbed "Sir Charles," then our gallant Colonel displayed one or two things when he sold it which do not redound to his credit. Either he was very parsimonious, not to say callous, in not following the example of the Iron Duke (and no one who knows our honest member would accuse him of either), or he did not exhibit that grasp of the situation that a clever politician generally does. Had he foregone the price of the horse and presented it to the "bryce" of L. O. L. No. 557, or better still, to the County Lodge, he would have had a grip on Victoria that all the sneering of unbellying Grits would never have loosened. How he could have stood on Kent-st. on the day of the glorious twelfth, his manly bosom swelling with honest pride as he pointed out Sir Charles, (and possibly "my man Turpin"), to the open-mouthed and interested bystanders? It would have been worth at least a dozen votes a year. I really have Sam more credit for long-headedness than he has displayed over this poor old horse.—Yours, etc.,

DELIGHTFUL SOCIAL FUNCTION.

MRS. HENRY TOUJOUSE, OF GALVESTON, TEXAS,

The Hostess of a Splendid Entertainment at the Benson House.

On Friday evening, Oct. 7th, a number of our citizens enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Henry Toujouse, of Galveston, Texas, who has been summering in our town for several seasons. Mrs. Toujouse is not only a charming hostess, but she is also a most generous one, and for her magnificent entertainment too much praise cannot be given.

The party was a progressive euchre and seven tables took part in the game. A large parlor of the hotel had been decorated for the occasion by Mrs. Toujouse and her young Southern friend, Mrs. DuFau. The color scheme was yellow with green throughout. From the chandelier in the centre were suspended ribbons of yellow and green, which were fastened at the end of the room with yellow caryatids, and down the chandelier from the ceiling smilax and yellow caryatids, and were entwined over the lights, while large yellow poppies hung also in clusters around and about. The mantle was draped in yellow silk, and banked with yellow flowers and smilax, also candelabra with yellow shades. Large palms stood in corners and on taborettes, and a soft glow was diffused from banquet lamps shaded in yellow.

The merry throng and the pretty decorations made a striking picture, and as we gazed on it we called to mind the words of Moore—

"Oh stay! oh stay! Joy so seldom weaves a chain Like this to-night, that oh! 'tis pain To break its links so soon."

After the games were finished, many beautiful prizes were presented to the lucky winners. The ladies' first prize was a handsome hand-painted chess board, which was won by Miss Knowlson. The 2nd was a fancy Dresden silk workbox, beautifully embroidered in pink wild roses, and won by Mrs. Richard Sylvester. The 3rd was a pair of cut-glass ink bottles on a gun-metal stand won by Mr. Loosmore. The 4th prize was a large cushion, won by Dr. Brown.

The prizes being distributed, each gentleman drew a ticket having the name of a lady he was to take to supper; then all repaired to the hotel dining-room, where Miss hostess O'Reilly had a feast worthy of the gods, spread for the company. The banquet hall presented a brilliant spectacle. Its many tables were decorated with pink carnations and smilax, and the same flowers were in profusion everywhere. The salad plates were hidden in pink poppy shades, and each lady and gentleman were presented with pink carnations on leaving the room. The bill-of-fare was an excellent one and did much credit to Mr. O'Reilly and his staff, who prepared it. Menu:

Oyster Stew, Salted Almonds, Chicken Salad, Olives, Duck, Brown Bread Sandwiches, Webb Home-made Bread Sandwiches, Neapolitan Ice Cream, Assorted Cakes, Tea.

Mrs. Toujouse, the charming hostess, was crowned in lavender silk mull over tulle silk with real valencienne lace, and wore diamond and pearl ornaments. She was assisted by Mrs. DuFau, who was beautifully gowned in black net and wore diamond ornaments; Mrs. McAlpine wore pale blue satin and guaze, also pearl ornaments; Mrs. Baker, white Indian silk with applique; Mrs. Hughes, mauve voile, with rich lace, diamonds; Mrs. Sylvester, black lace over silk; Mrs. Hopkins, black silk with applique and embroidery; pearls; Mrs. Hopkins, black silk with applique and embroidery; pearls; Mrs. McNabb, black satin and jet; Mrs. Michie, a black crepe-de-chene, with yoke of point d'esprit; Miss Armstrong, pink silk with Duchesse lace, pink flowers on corsage; Miss Knowlson, pigeon gray tulle and velvet, with pearl trimmings; Miss Kennedy, white voile over tulle; Miss Nora Kennedy, white silk with lace and fringe, red flowers in corsage; Miss Sylvester, blue silk over tulle; Miss Hughes, white point d'esprit and pink flowers and trimmings; Miss Rankin, white China silk.

The gentlemen present were Messrs. Hunt, Sylvester, Mills, Eglar, Grac, Johnson, Shelton, Gladman, Simpson, Mrs. McAlpine, Burrows, Brown, Messrs. Loosmore and Helms.

All left with the feeling that they had enjoyed one of the best evenings ever given in Lindsay.

Head About to Break from a Severe Bilious Attack.

"I had a severe bilious attack and felt like my head was about to burst when I got hold of a free sample of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. I took a dose of them after supper and the next day felt like a new man and have been feeling happy ever since," says Mr. J. W. Smith, of Joliff, Texas. For biliousness, stomach troubles and constipation these Tablets have no equal. Price 25 cents. For sale by all druggists.

Mild Winter Likely, No Says.

Mr. Stupart, chief of the Dominion Weather Bureau, referring to the prediction in Forest and Stream that a severe winter was in store for us on account of the pin feathers and the down on the body of the wild birds, says the idea is absurd. He thinks that the plumage on the birds is regulated to some extent by the preceding weather, as it is in the building of the nest of the muskrats, but there is nothing to indicate by what process of nature a heavy coat of feathers would be the precursor of a hard winter. Looking over the records, he finds that the most severe winters have invariably been followed by comparatively open ones, and last winter was sufficiently severe for the majority of the inhabitants of the country.

Pandora Range

Managed Like an Engine.

One-third of a housekeeper's life is spent in her kitchen. One-half the labor of housekeeping is at the cook stove. Your range can double or halve the cooking slavery of housekeeping. A poor range adds worry as well as work, and worry multiplies the housekeeper's care.

Get a range that reduces the work and eliminates the worry. The Pandora Range is as easily and accurately managed as an engine—it responds to the touch as quickly and certainly as the huge engine obeys the hand of the engineer.

The Pandora Range saves worry, and because worry kills, it prolongs life. Sold by enterprising dealers everywhere. Write for booklet.

HALIBURTON FALL SHOW

WHAT WAS SEEN AT THE FIRST FAIR THIRTY-NINE YEARS AGO

Small Attendance This Year Owing to Unfavorable Weather.

Thirty-nine years ago, on Thursday, 20th day of Sept., the first agricultural show was held in Haliburton. Our informant, Mr. James Erskine, the veteran village blacksmith, touches for the correctness of this statement. He says the front street was not then in very good condition for traffic—the roadway had been cut through, but not logged up and pedestrians who wended their way to the fair grounds were obliged to crawl over logs and dodge around trees and stumps to get to the building, which was not in very presentable shape when they arrived. The only building wherein to lodge the exhibits was Mr. Erskine's present blacksmithing shop. There was then no roof on it, and it was used exclusively for ladies' work. Roots and vegetables had to be placed on the tops of pine stumps along the street. There were two jokes of oxen shown—all that were in nine townships—and five cows. Last Thursday's Fair did not indicate as though this section of the country had made very rapid strides along fair lines since the first show, as only a dozen head of cattle were shown.

Owing to the day being broken in the early part by showers, the exhibitors were not as much in evidence as for the past few years. Fully one-half of the intending exhibitors were deterred from putting in an appearance by the unfavorable weather conditions and the gate receipts suffered very materially in consequence thereof. Mr. H. Bain, the secretary had been most assiduous in his attentions to the men who ventured out, and to his efforts were due largely the success of the day's work.

The horse exhibit was the chief outside attraction. Many teams were shown that would bear favorably comparison with those to be seen at fairs of more pretensions. In farm teams eight entries were made, they being of a class which rendered the task of the judges quite difficult in deciding points. Those who were successful in farm teams were—1st prize the Wm. Laking Co. S. Kettle, of Glamorgan, taking 2nd, whilst W. Duggan came in for 3rd. In carriage horses—J. Lucas, 1st, and J. L. Brown 2nd. Single carriage horses—F. Parish took first, G. Brown 2nd, Thos. Gould 3rd. Saddle horses—Mr. F. W. Lumley showed an animal that would do credit in the horse ring at the Industrial. Mr. Lumley is an expert rider and is capable of taking all out of a horse that is in him in the ring. John Brohm took 2nd in saddle. In stallions over 3 years old, the winner was a splendid horse entered by R. E. Southby. To him was awarded 1st prize, as well as a special prize donated by J. Lucas. Thos. S. Moon took 2nd prize in this class. Mare with foal by side—Peter Borden got first, John Moon 2nd and S. Walling 3rd. Foal of 1904—1st Peter Borden, 2nd Adam Bethard, and 3rd John Gray. Colt one year old, agricultural—1st R. J. Walling, 2nd J. Palmer, and J. Elston 3rd. Colt 2 years old, same class—1st John Brohm, 2nd F. Palmer, A. Watson 3rd. Colt same class, 3 years old—1st F. Palmer, 2nd J. Stothard, 3rd Thos. Gould. Colt one year old, roadster—1st F. Palmer, 2nd J. Barry, 3rd S. Walling. In two year olds, 1st prize went to J. Elston, 2nd to F. Palmer, and 3rd to S. Walling. Colts 2 years old—1st went to G. Barry, 2nd to S. Kettle, 3rd to P. Borden.

In cattle the entries were few and not in keeping with the horse show. Those shown were in most part grades with very few exceptions. A very fair animal in the aged bull class was shown by W. H. Warren, to which was awarded 1st prize. A nice two year old bull was shown by Jos. Paul, who secured the red ticket. In milking cows some fine specimens of the dairy class were shown, 1st prize going to J. Stothard, John Brohm taking 2nd, and E. Austin 3rd. The 1st prize went to E. Austin for grade heifer. In heifer calves John Moon took 1st and 3rd.

In sheep the showing was very good, mostly the long-wooled varieties. The chief exhibitors were Messrs. Erskine, Gould, F. W. Lumley, F. Palmer, J. Stothard and W. Dugan. Fairs were poorly represented, only nine entries of all kinds being shown. To gain the entries were also very light, when being represented by but two entries. In roots and vegetables the showing was good, potatoes being particularly fine. Mr. Southby took the honors.

Fruit was a most creditable feature of the fair, there being eighteen entries of apples.

A nice variety of house plants was shown by Mr. Hoxie.

The best genuine article was shown in maple sugar and maple syrup, and a fair sample of honey was there also. Mrs. G. Ingles was an easy winner in butter, capturing 1st in roll and 1st in tub, as well as a special prize given by Mr. B. Gorrin.

The ladies were to the fore with a dainty display of fancy work along the different lines, and critics announced the exhibits to be very good.

PETERBORO CHEESE BOARD.

Solemen Wanted 90, and Adjourned for One Week.

[From Evening Post, October 7.] At Wednesday's meeting of Peterboro Cheese Board the buyers present were Messrs. Kerr, Cook, Fitzgerald, Whitton, Gillespie, Grant, Rollins, Broadland and Wrighton. Forty factories boarded 5493 boxes.

Mr. Broadland opened the bidding at 5-8-8. Mr. Fitzgerald raised at 5-8-4. Mr. Whitton at 5-7-8 and Mr. Wrighton to 90. He took Warsaw, Fraseville, East Emily and Shearer. Mr. Whitton offered 5-7-8 but there was no additional taker.

It was moved that the Board adjourn for one week, provided the price did not reach 90. It was moved in amendment that the buying continue and it be left to the salesman as to whether or not they offered to accept the offer made. The amendment was lost and the Board adjourned for one week.

It is difficult to say whether the salemen will receive any better price than 5-7-8 next week, as the price has not been higher than this as a rule during the past week.

The privilege of selling off the Board was granted to Percy, Dartford, Shamrock and Brickley.—Evening.

Ode to the Winners.

Both hands on the flag,

It's ours, boys, at last.

A magnificent rag

To fly on our mast;

With elegant playing,

And protests a few,

The sports were all certain

That we'd pull her through.

The Fowmanville players,

A gentlemanly crowd,

With certain slayers

Port Huron weren't it.

And Oshawa, too,

Missed chances to win it.

By losing a few.

The quarrelsome Quakers

Went quick to the wall,

But Chabot, though losers,

Could still play some ball.

With a couple of hundred,

They'd wager or bet it,

Though they lost every game

They'd be certain to get it.

But Curly and Gimmie,

Bill Bunker and Ted,

And caps on their head,

Beck Menzies and Joe,

George Little and all—

They showed the whole bunch

How to play ball.

So here's to the red rag,

And long may she stay

Over the heads of the bunch

Who, to win it, did play.

Here's health to the losers

Who fought long and well,

And if any should happen to ask you if they play ball in Lindsay, say—“WELL, RATHER, SOME.”

IN SARNIA TUNNEL

Six Grand Trunk Railway Employees Suffocated.

FREIGHT TRAIN BROKE IN TWO

Crew Sent in After It Nearly All Perished—Brave Rescue Parties and Their Dangerous Work—Switchman Blake Brings Out An Engine and Several Men—Tunnel Filled With Gas.

Sarnia, Oct. 10.—One of the most terrible calamities in the history of Sarnia took place at an early hour yesterday morning when six Grand Trunk Railway employees were suffocated in the St. Clair Tunnel. It was the result of a minor accident exposing the men to the fumes of carbonic acid gas, which at times pervades the tunnel. A coupling having parted on a freight train, ten cars were allowed to remain in the tunnel, while the engine went out to slide-track those still attached. The conductor, J. B. Simpson, remained with the cars. The engine returned, but was only able to take out three of the cars, as the coupling had to be made with a chain and was not considered strong enough to bear the weight of the whole train of ten cars remaining. Simpson was still in the van when this trip was made.

Death of a Rescuer. After the engine came out some of the men engaged refused to return into the tunnel on account of the foul air. Others were, however, secured, and the engine went down the track. Two of the train crew, Conductor Richard Tinsley of Sarnia, and Alfred Short, brakeman of Port Huron, then started to the rear to look for Conductor Simpson. Short succeeded in making his way through to the Port Huron side, but Tinsley in trying to rescue Simpson was himself overcome. Both were found dead side by side in the van four hours later.

The details of what happened during the hour that the engine was in the tunnel will never be known, but it is assumed that the steam went low, and the remainder of the cars could not be moved. Meantime the gas grew worse, and the engineer, John Coleman, of Port Huron, died at his post. His fireman, Forster, of Port Huron, became unconscious and fell, evidently while trying to start the engine, while Dan Gillies of Sarnia, brakeman, fell beside the engine and died from the gas.

Brave Rescue Volunteers. When Short reached the American portal an alarm was sent out, and Yardmaster McKee of Sarnia called for volunteers to go with himself down the tunnel to rescue the missing men, whose fate was more than guessed from Short's condition. A number immediately volunteered, and the following men were picked: Conductor Fisher of Sarnia, Thomas McGrath of Sarnia, J. Hamilton of Sarnia, John Blake, switchman, and W. Cameron.

These men with several others who could not be restrained, went into the tunnel, and a short distance within found the pumpman, Alex. Forbes, overcome by gas. Some of the party returned with him, and the rest proceeded, found the engine about a quarter of a mile within, and the fireman unconscious, Engineer Coleman dead, and Tinsley, Short and Conductor Simpson missing.

While trying to uncouple the engine Walter Hawn, one of the rescue party, was overcome and fainted. Thos. McGrath, another of the rescuers, fell by the engine and died almost immediately, and Yardmaster McKee became ill and had to be assisted toward the portal. Switchman Blake carried Hawn to the engine, and though too weak to pick up McGrath or Gillies, who were evidently dead, yet he succeeded in starting the engine, and taking on McKee and the others made the portal successfully. He was the only conscious member of the crowd when the open air was reached. Medical aid was summoned, and after some hours the men recovered consciousness.

Superintendent Begg Dead. Meanwhile at the American end A. S. Begg, superintendent of terminals, was trying unsuccessfully to get volunteers to work, and finally started in alone. George Morden, a Canadian, from Wyoming, came up and followed Begg, taking with him the pumpman at the American portal, George Mollon. When only a short distance in they were affected by gas, but heard Begg's voice and kept on. They found Begg lying on the track, and after carrying him a few feet had to drop him. Both the men fainted a short distance farther on. Begg, Morden and Mollon were taken out later by a party from the Port Huron tunnel station, but the superintendent was found to be dead.

The town is in a state of great excitement, and the outcome of the tragedy is the subject of much interest. It is felt that in view of several cases of suffocation in the tunnel the company should have taken steps long ago to remove the risk. In the past six years three men have died, half a dozen have been made unconscious, and many have had to cease employment on account of the gas.

Suicide Unconscious. Those still unconscious are: Alexander Forbes, Sarnia, pumpman; Charles Fisher, Sarnia, conductor; Walter Hawn, Sarnia, brakeman; Fred. Forster, Port Huron, brakeman.

Better Explosion Kills Two. Galt, Oct. 10.—A horrible accident took place near here Saturday by which Elmer Fisher, a boy of 15 years, and Jas. VanEvery lost their lives. They were working at the saw mill on Adam Davidson's farm in Beverly and 9.30, an hour after work had begun, for the day, the boiler exploded.

Fisher, who was fireman, was instantly killed, the top of his head being blown off. VanEvery was measuring lumber close by, and was knocked below the saw and died from his injuries two hours later. George Bothwell, the sawyer, was standing only three feet from VanEvery at the time of the accident, and he escaped without a scratch. G. H. Raynard was knocked over a lumber pile, but was not seriously hurt.

The dome of the boiler, weighing 450 pounds, was carried 150 yards, and the mill was pretty much wrecked. The cause of the explosion is unknown.

Killed By a Train.

Ingersoll, Oct. 10.—William Boughten, aged 30, of Port Hope, a member of a Grand Trunk fence gang, was struck by passenger train No. 6 going west, opposite the rural cemetery Saturday morning, receiving injuries from which he died an hour later.

SHORT-CIRCUITED.

Three Killed and Eight Hurt in Prussian Ammunition Factory.

Stieburg, Prussia, Oct. 10.—Explosions occurred in an ammunition factory here Saturday, in which three persons were killed and eight others injured. It is supposed the explosions were due to a short circuit in a wire in an electric loader.

In the room where the explosions occurred were 60,000 loaded shells and 100 men were at work in the apartment. The detonations continued three hours.

Drowns At Virginia Beach. Norfolk, Va., Oct. 10.—Miss Bessie Wilson of Clarkburg, W. Va., niece of the late Postmaster-General, W. L. Wilson, was drowned while bathing at Virginia Beach yesterday afternoon. Her body was recovered.

C.P.R. Brakeman Injured.

Woodstock, Oct. 10.—Roy Dempsey of London, a brakeman, was seriously injured while coupling cars at the C.P.R. depot here at 7 o'clock yesterday morning. His foot was caught and severely crushed. In addition, he received bruises.

Breaks His Collar Bone.

Wallacetown, Oct. 10.—Messrs. Douglas and McGill employees in the oil territory, were working on scaffold 18 feet high the other day, when the structure fell, precipitating them to the ground. Douglas sustained a compound fracture of the collar bone, and serious injury to his back. McGill escaped with a bruised arm and bad shaking up.

Athlete's Jump to Death.

Collingwood, Oct. 10.—Yesterday afternoon some young men who were going through the town park on coming to the southeast corner of the park started to jump the fence between them and the railway track. One of their number, named Oscar Thomas, a stone cutter, cleared the fence, and on landing on the other side, stumbled and fell on his face. As he did not move one of his companions turned him over and found he had ceased to breathe. A doctor was sent for as soon as possible, but could do nothing, as Thomas had died instantly. The young man was only 20 years of age and unmarried.

Col. Farewell President.

London, Oct. 8.—The Canadian Charities Convention yesterday morning elected the following officers: President, Col. J. E. Farewell, K. C. Whitley.

Vice-Presidents, Mayor Beck (London), J. J. Kelso (Toronto), Alexander Shaw, K.C. (Walkerton).

Treasurer, Rev. James Ledyard, Owen Sound.

Secretary, Frank Walsh, Toronto.

Honorary secretary, Dr. A. M. Roseburg, Toronto.

Executive committee—Dr. Tray, Chatham; R. H. Lane, Montreal; S. M. Thompson, Brantford; John Keane, Ottawa; R. Massie, Toronto; O. Labelle, London; C. Ferriar, Hamilton; J. McMurphy, Toronto; Mrs. E. Yarker, London; Mrs. B. Urquhart, Hamilton, and Mrs. O. Sullivan, Toronto.

The next meeting will be held in Toronto on Sept. 27, 28 and 29, 1905.

Dropped Dead On Road.

Toronto, Oct. 8.—James Murphy, 60 years of age, dropped dead on the Lake Shore road near the Bolt Works, last night. The remains were taken to 370 Belsair avenue. He leaves a widow. Heart failure was the cause of death. There will be an inquest.

A Dominion Investigation.

Victoria, B.C., Oct. 10.—An investigation is to be held by the Dominion Government into the reason for the loss of two anchors and chain cable valued at $5,000, from the Dominion Government steamer Quadra, through it is alleged, sheer carelessness, also the reasons for the summary dismissal of Chief Officer Barnes of the same steamer, after 17 years' service, on the ground that he had ventured to protest against the unseamanlike conduct of the Quadra's commander recently, when the ship was taking President Hays and party of the Grand Trunk Railway from Vancouver to Port Simpson. The second officer, Mr. Pope, who was promoted to Barnes' place, was hooted and hissed off the ship when he came aboard in the capacity of chief officer, and had to hurry ashore to escape the attack of the Quadra's crew.

Dowager Empress Ill. London, Oct. 10.—The Daily Mail's Copenhagen correspondent telegraphs as follows: "Seriously broken down by her Red Cross labors, the Dowager Empress of Russia has been confined to her bed since her arrival here."

Killed By Insane Man. Hamilton, Oct. 10.—At the asylum for the insane Saturday, George Lingwood, a patient who belongs to Quilich, killed James Martin, the head baker, by striking him on the head with an axe. The insane man had been helping in the bakery for a year past and was looked upon as being harmless. Martin has been in the asylum employ for the past 23 years.

Mount Pelee in Eruption. Kingston, St. Vincent, Oct. 7.—The captain of the British steamer Sibun, which arrived here yesterday, reports that when the steamer passed the island of Martinique, on Sept. 30, Mount Pelee was in full eruption.

MARIPOSA AND GOOD ROADS

COUNCIL ENDORSED THE COUNTY SYSTEM AND SELECTED 40 MILES

Motion in Favor of Abolishing County Council Division.

The Council met in special session on the 28th Sept., when the following motion was passed:

Moved by Messrs. Taylor and Watson, that the Council of the Corporation of the Township of Mariposa request the County Council of the County of Victoria to submit to the vote of the electors of said County a by-law in conformity with the municipal amendment act of 1904, sec. 3, chapter 22, of the statutes of Ontario, 1904, declaring that thereafter the Council of said County shall be composed of the Reeves of townships, instead of representation by the County Council divisions as now existing.

On motion of Messrs. Watson and Michael, the Council then adjourned till the next regular meeting.

The Municipal Council of Mariposa met in regular session on Monday, the 10th of October, 1904.

The minutes of the last regular meeting and also the special meeting were read and confirmed.

The following communications were read:

From Messrs. McSweeney & Smith, relative to the Hill drain, in which the contractor finds it impossible to proceed with the work on account of the scarcity of labor.

Mr. Miller at 80 agrees to release the township from the contract in case they can get the work done otherwise.

A report of the standing committee on roads and bridges, in reference to the County Road System.

The report of the Engineer, in regard to putting in a culvert at lots 15 and 16, con. 8, on the Oakwood drainage system.

Messrs. S. J. Fox, M.P.P., W. H. Hancock, John Robinson and W. H. McCrimmon waited on the Council to take into consideration some other method of completing the Hancock drain, as apparently Mr. Robinson cannot complete his contract.

Messrs. Shaver and Chalmers, of the County Council, were present to discuss the question of selecting roads in the township that would likely form part of the County Road System and the following roads were outlined for further consideration:

The side road between lots 15 and 16; and north from concession 2 to 14; the 14th concession line from lot 5 east to lot 20; the side road between lots 5 and 8 and north on concession from the 14th line; concession line 18 across 5 lots, including 1 and 5; concession line 9 across 19 lots, including lots 6 and 24; concession line 6 across 8 lots, including 18 and 24; concession line 5 across 10 lots, including lots 6 and 15; concession line 3 across 10 lots, including lots 1 and 10, and across 5 lots including lot 16 and 20; the boundary line of Ops from concession line 9 south to the road going to Lindsay. In all a distance of about 40 miles.

(Balance next week.)

OBITUARY.

Thos. Sadler, Lindsay.

It was with profound sorrow that our citizens learned Monday evening that Mr. Thomas Sadler had passed away, having never rallied from the effects of the paralytic stroke received Saturday evening.

Mr. Sadler had been very closely identified with the history and progress of Lindsay for a period of about 40 years. By his death the town loses one of its most vigorous and successful business men, and one who was very highly esteemed by his fellow townsmen and the people of the adjoining townships.

The widow and family will have the sympathy of the entire community in their sudden and great bereavement.

A more extended sketch will appear in a later issue.

Despite the wet and unfavorable weather the funeral of the late Thomas Sadler on Wednesday was largely attended, our citizens being desirous of paying the last token of respect to the memory of one of the early settlers of the town, and one who had done much for its prosperity. Among the members of the family present were Mrs. W. D. Lumsden, Toronto, Mrs. A. Gordon, Sudbury, Mrs. Dr. Clark, Cypress River, Mrs. Wm. Sadler, Lindsay, Mr. Thos. Sadler, Fenelon Falls, daughters and sons of deceased; Mr. Wm. Sadler, and Miss Trail, of Midland, brother and sister; Mr. W. D. Lumsden, Toronto, and Mr. A. Gordon, Sudbury, sons-in-law. The following out-of-town friends also attended: Mr. Alex. Sadler, Ormstown, Que., Messrs. J. D. Saurby, London; H. Waddell, Peterborough; C. Neidler, Minbrook; Miss Neidler, Millbrook; Mrs. H. H. Sadler, Peterboro; Mrs. Cond. Lorneville.

Clarabell Falls, Oakwood.

It is with deep regret that we chronicle the death of Clarabell, only daughter of Mr. Jos. Falls, of Oakwood, who died on Sept. 21st, at the early age of 14 years, 11 months. In January last the young girl was stricken with pleurisy, followed by another attack in June, which left her very weak and an easy prey to other diseases. Two weeks before her death occurred she was seized with tuberculosis of the brain, and suffered intense pain until death relieved her, but during those weeks of pain she was ever patient and uncomplaining.

Through her short life Clarabell was loved by all who knew her for her cheerful and kind disposition, and her bright face will be missed by young and old. The many beautiful bouquets and wreaths of flowers on the coffin showed in a measure the esteem in which she was held. One of the most beautiful bouquets was sent by her S. S. teacher and classmates. The sorrowing relatives have the sympathy of their friends.

Jesus, while our hearts are bleeding Over the spoils that death has won, We would at this solemn meeting Calmly say, Thy will be done.

Stella Lake, Oakwood.

BREEZY LOCAL BREVITIES

GATHERED BY POST REPORTERS ON THEIR DAILY ROUNDS

What is Happening in Town and the Country About Us.

—Sloppy weather.

—Navigation is drawing to a close.

—Shoe dealers report a big run on their stocks of rubbers.

—Mr. A. Primeau's grocery front is receiving a fine new coat of paint.

Use Lever's Dry Soap (a powder) to wash woollens and flannels,—you'll like it.

—There has been no police court for some time now. We are getting good.

—Remember the Victoria Loan & Savings Co. still pay 2 1/2 per cent. on deposit.—wif.

—At the adjourned sale of Peterboro Cheese Board yesterday, it was paid by the buyers.

—A new brass sign decorates the doorway of F. A. Robinson's shoe store. It advertises "The Crossed Shoe."

—Mr. James Corley, whose farm adjoins the town, has had a portion of his property surveyed and divided up into building lots.

—Farmers should take advantage of the Victoria Loan & Savings Co.'s office hours—open from 9 a.m. to 4.30 p.m. every legal day.—wif.

—The name of Chemong post office at Bracebridge has been changed to Currie lake. The post office at the Indian village will still be called Chemong.

—Mr. Geo. McGee, of Fenelon, has just closed a deal with Mr. W. H. Lewis, of Cavan, near Franklin, for his 200 acre farm. The price paid was $26,200.

—Dr. Ryerson, of 60 College-st., Toronto, will be at the Simpson house for consultation in Eye, Ear and Throat cases on Saturday, Oct. 22nd.—wif.

—Grain is passing through in considerable quantities from Midland elevators, which are being emptied preparatory to the arrival of the fall fleet of grain carriers from Chicago.

—Sir Wilfrid Laurier is announced to speak in Brock-st. rink, Peterboro, on Thursday evening, Oct. 20th, in the interests of R. R. Hall, Liberal candidate for West Peterboro.

—Mr. James M. Chalmers, contractor, is carrying out extensive improvements in the Grand Trunk turnhouse and repair shop. A cement floor and cement-lined cleaning pits under the engines are being put in.

—The interior work on Contractor Chalmers' new residence on William-st. is approaching completion, and he expects to occupy it shortly. He has men at work on his Wellington-st. lot casting cement blocks for his new stone dwelling.

—Mr. J. J. Lundy, of Peterboro, who was in town Monday, informed us that he thinks of making some improvements in his William-st. barn in the early spring. He is delighted with the steady progress the town is making.

—Some Peterboro ratepayers are up in arms, because of the apparently excessive cost of certain repairs made to the schools in vacation time! The objection is made that the committee in charge did not supervise the work in a proper manner.

—The G.T.R. system informs all its employees that "intoxication for the use of intoxicating liquors will be sufficient cause for dismissal," and also that "persons frequenting gambling houses or places where liquor is sold, will not be retained in the service."

—Bobbygon lock will be closed for the season about the 20th inst. and our mill-owners' tags are being kept at work almost night and day reduced rates and other prizes from lower lake points. Mr. J. Carr is M. M. Boyd's powerful tug, "Ajax," in commission in addition to his own craft, the Beaver.

—Mr. Thos. McConnell, the owner, is leaving a large addition built in the rear of the premises occupied by Mr. Jos. Liggs, who has been sadly cramped for room of late owing to his increasing trade. The extension is being almost finished, and will permit of a better arrangement of the lines carried.

—The morning train from the North brought down a large number of reform delegates, two extra coaches being added to accommodate the visitors. The C.P.R. also brought in a goodly number, many friends and well wishers taking advantage of the reduced rates to visit the town and be present at the convention.

—No less than twelve bridal parties boarded the Midland east-bound train between Midland and Blackwater, Wednesday afternoon of last week, and it is rumored that Conductor Mike McCarthy's nerves were so upset by the lovers that he still talks in his sleep about lovey-doveys and tootsy-wootsies.

—Mr. A. J. Graham, clothier, is now comfortably settled in his new home on the east corner of Lindsay and College-sts. This residence is one of the finest of the south ward, and is fitted with the latest conveniences for comfort and lessening labor. The lawn is a large one and will present a fine appearance in the spring.

—Through an error of ours Mr. D. Sinclair, of Cambary, did not secure full justice in our Central Fair report. He showed four head of shorthorn cattle and captured 1st prize for cow and 2nd for bull calf in horses Mr. Sinclair captured 2nd prize in the general purpose class and the same animal took 1st in the competition for the Sylvester plover.

Error in Central Prize List.

In our report of the Lindsay Central, published last week, Mr. F. P. Coed, harnessmaker, was erroneously credited with having secured second prize for farm harness. The honor belongs to Mr. H. J. Little. Mr. J. A. Williamson was also wrongfully given credit for taking first prize on carriage harness. Mr. Little being again the prize winner. The error was unintentional and occurred in copying the prize list.

Fitness for Things.

"I suppose," remarked the friend of the newly created husband, "the usual shower of rice fall as you entered the carriage."

"No, it rained beans," replied the happy benedict. "I married a Boston girl, you know."

A Heart-to-Heart Talk on Clothing

Don't skip a word or you may skip a dollar. It's the cautious people we're after—those who know a good dollar's worth in most things, but are not quite sure about clothing values.

Now, to begin. We do not sell the cheapest clothing, but we do sell the best clothing cheapest. You never read an advt of poor clothing. Strange, too, for there's more poor than good. Each advertiser represents his own as being better and cheaper than others. How can the public discriminate? Only one certain way, come and see.

We are exclusive sellers in Lindsay of the renowned Progress and Twentieth Century Clothing. If there's any fault in this clothing neither makers nor wearers have ever discovered it. If you will visit our store we'll convince you even if it should come to giving you a suit or overcoat on trial.

We've wedded high artistic designs to values of thorough honesty. Adults' suits and overcoats priced alike—$5, $7, $10, $12, $15, $17, $20. Boys' in proportion. All kinds of Furnishings for Men and Boys.

CORRESPONDENTS' LETTERS

KING'S WHARF.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Farmers are very busy at present taking out roots, attending threshing and doing their fall plowing.

Mrs. Patrick Gillies and son Joseph spent last week in Peterborough visiting friends.

Miss Stella O'Leary returned home Saturday, after spending a pleasant two weeks with her sister, Mrs. W. E. Pardee, in Peterborough.

Mr. James O'Neill, one of our enterprising farmers, has erected a beautiful new house, of modern design. The finishing touches were put on last week, and it is now ready for the furniture.

Miss Euphemia O'Neill is spending a few weeks with her friend, Miss Minnie Belok, of Verulam.

Despite the very unfavorable weather a great many from here attended the Bobbygon fair and report a very good time. Had the day been fine many others would have been present. We can never depend on the weather.

Mr. McGinlay, of North Ops, who has been spending a week with her daughter, Mrs. John O'Leary, of this place, returned home last week, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. O'Leary and son Joseph. They visited friends in Lindsay and Ops and returned home on Monday.

Mr. Fergus Perdue, who has been attending the Peterboro Collegiate Institute for the past three years, and who has passed many creditable examinations, is now attending the Lindsay Model School, also a Master John Gillies, who during his public school career, proved himself an earnest, painstaking and amiable pupil, has gone to Peterboro to attend the High School.

WOODVILLE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The cement walks around the town hall are being laid, which will make a decided improvement in the appearance of the grounds. We understand there is to be the same kind of walk in front of the Queen's hotel.

Miss May Lindsay, of Cambridge, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. Gordon. Rev. Mr. Harris, of Port Perry, occupied the pulpit of the Methodist church on Sunday last.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Caverley were in Toronto Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Gunn, of the Soo, have returned to town and we understand they intend to remain.

The trustees of the Methodist church are having an acetylene gas plant installed in the church. It is expected to be in running order for next Sunday.

Quite a number of delegates from both churches went to Toronto last week to attend the C. E. convention there.

Mrs. (Rev.) Alkenhead, of Stouffville, is to preach the thank offering sermon, morning and evening in the Methodist church, Sunday, 23rd.

Mrs. Alkenhead is a powerful and eloquent speaker and is well worth hearing.

Tuesday, while driving through the village, the banana man, as he is familiarly known—who was under the influence of liquor—was thrown out of his rig in front of the manse, and cut his head, but not very seriously. Dr. McKay was called and soon fixed him up. Probably in the future he will not drive his horse at railway speed, especially under such conditions.

Miss Smith, of Lindsay, was the guest of her cousin, Miss Annie Smith, over Sunday.

A number of men went to the Reform convention in Lindsay on Tuesday.

Jessie Alexander (Mrs. Chas. Roberts), with other high class talent, has been engaged for a Rental on Friday evening, Oct. 28th, under auspices of the Presbyterian Church Choir at Woodville.—wif.

Electric Power for Bowmanville, Port Hope, Cobourg and Peterboro.

Bowmanville News: The Central Ontario Power Co., of Peterboro, is to deliver some six thousand electric horse power to the above towns from Barleigh Falls, which is owned by the Co., and from Backhorn Falls, which is owned by Mr. Culverwell, who addressed the Council on the question on Monday night, when a resolution endorsing the scheme was passed. Bowmanville manufacturers have assured in writing nearly fifteen thousand dollars revenue, and the Company's rates will cut their steam power bills down by from 80 to 90 per cent. More power to their elbow. Property values should now boom in Bowmanville. Rents have doubled in Peterboro since they got cheap electric power. Mr. Culverwell's Company has this week a $25 worth sheet advertisement in the Canadian Manufacturer, boasting Port Hope, Cobourg, Bowmanville as manufacturing centres, speaking of their fine harbors and offering cheap electric powers. The Company has already secured some fifty thousand dollars revenue from these towns for electric light and power.

THE LAURIER GOVERNMENT AND THE AGRICULTURISTS.

What a Progressive, Wide-awake and Fair Administration Has Done for the Farmers of Canada.

The Laurier Government secured the abolition of the quarantine on Canadian cattle exported to the United States. Result: A fine market for young Canadian stockers and greatly increased sales thereof. Mechanical cold storage facilities were developed and perfected. Result: Increased sales of butter, fruits, etc. A live stock commission was appointed to promote and foster the live stock interests of the country. Creameries were successfully established in the Northwest.

A new division was created in the Agricultural Commissioner's branch for the extension of foreign markets, under which officers are detailed to supervise the loading of our agricultural exports at Canadian ports, and the reception of them in British ports, resulting in great improvement in the handling and the storage during transport. The poultry trade has been greatly stimulated by improving the methods of fattening poultry, and packing it for market, and also by improving the methods of transporting eggs. The Fruit Marks Act was passed, resulting in greatly improved packing of our fruits, and highly complimentary reports from British markets of improvement in Canadian fruit and higher prices obtained. The Butter Act was passed providing for the absolute prohibition of import, manufacture or sale of spurious butters in Canada. A definition of grades of butter is here, by established which safeguards the reputation of, and trade in Canada, in butter.

A new division for the investigation into the sale of agricultural seeds, and improving of their quality, has been established.

The tobacco growing industry was stimulated. Provision was made for efficient inspection of binder twine in the interest of the farming community.

WHY SHOULD YOUNG MEN VOTE LIBERAL?

Because the Liberal Party has been the Party of Progress and ever Foremost in Upholding the Liberty of the Individual Against Oppression in any Form.

A prominent American periodical has recently published two articles, one from a prominent leader of the Republican party and the other from a gentleman holding a similar position in the Democratic party, on the question, "Why should a young man vote for the Republican party?" and "Why should a young man vote for the Democratic party?" This is an important question for young men, because the chances are that the party to which he first allies himself, and to which he gives his first vote, will continue to be the party with which he will remain connected, and in politics, as in everything else, it is important to start right.

It has been said in the United States that if all the young men that had arrived at the age of majority between one Presidential election and another, or during four years, should all vote one way, they could have reversed the decision at the previous election, as no President had ever received a majority of popular votes equal to such number.

If this is only generally true, it can

ANOTHER MASSEY HALL AUDIENCE AT THE FAIR GROUNDS.

Sir Wilfred at Lucknow—Real Old-time Political Holiday for Huron and Bruce be seen what an important factor the re-votes between the two Parliamentary elections might be.

I am answering the question, "Why should a young man vote for the Liberal party?" we should first of all define what we mean by Liberal party, that is, what it stands for and what are the distinctions or differences between Liberals and Conservatives. Then, after having defined terms and having declared what are the principles and policies of the two parties, we shall be in a position to discuss the question, "Why should these of the Liberal party be supported by young men rather than those of the Conservative party?"

In every country, in regard to politics as well as in religion, education, business, etc., the people are divided into two well defined classes. One class believes that things are about as well as they can be, and that there is not much chance of improvement; that the things that have always been are bound to always be; that because they have been and have served their purpose well, they should always be perpetuated; that new ways of thinking and saying things and doing things are dangerous; that it is better to put up with the evils we have than to run the risk of greater evils by attempting modifications; and therefore, they will not give their adherence to anything that is different or new or untried, until it has been actually proved by long experience to be safe. When a reform has been won they generally accept the situation, and it in turn becomes one of the things they hold fast.

Men of this cast of mind and disposition are, as the name indicates, Conservatives.

On the other hand, there are those who believe that perfection has not been reached, and there are methods of government that are improvements on the present, that there are policies which will lead to better results than have yet been attained; that the increase in population, the increase in education, the increase in wealth, make necessary new policies and new creeds to meet the new conditions.

These are they who form the Liberal or Reform Party of a country. It would seem to me enough to demonstrate that the policy efforts of the Liberal party in Canada, for the last century, have been along the lines above defined, simply to name the leaders who have been and are its champions and representatives.

Take the following: Wm. Lyon Mackenzie, Papineau, Baldwin, Lafontaine, George Brown, the Blakes, Oliver Mowat, L. H. Mollon, Joseph Doutre, the Dorrons, Alexander MacKenzie, Joseph Howe, Senator Penney, L. H. Huntington, David Mills, Sir Richard Cartwright, Felix Marchand, H. G. Joly, Laurier, Fielding and Mulock.

Let us consider for a moment some of the reforms which have been championed by these men:

One of the first and no doubt greatest reforms championed and obtained by the Liberals of Canada was for representative government, for, of course, until that was obtained there was little chance of getting anything else. Among other abuses that were abated and reforms may be named extension of the franchise;

France, Gambetta, Jules Simon, J. J. Ferry, and Waldeck-Rousseau, and in the United States such men as Washington, Lincoln, Daniel Webster.

Surely these are leaders any one might be proud to follow. They have always been men who have been for the masses against the classes, for the people against autocratic power, for the principles of liberty, education and morality.

As to the more recent history of the Liberal party, three questions stand out prominently:

1. The tariff issue.
2. The Imperial preference.
3. The G.T.P. Railway.

The election of 1896 was fought and won principally on the tariff question, namely whether the policy of the Conservatives for a high protective tariff, and which had continually been getting higher, should be continued, or whether it was time to call a halt and regulate our tariff, not specially for protection, but for revenue with incidental protection.

In this matter the Liberals showed their usual spirit of tolerance and consideration of the rights of others, and therefore, no sweeping changes in the tariff were made. The result, it is believed, has eminently justified this position.

As to the Imperial preference, I am of the opinion that no act of the Liberal party has ever shown more real patriotism and imperial statesmanship. Even supposing to some extent it has been detrimental to a very few industries in the country, but which I do not believe is the case; no country, any more than a man, lives by bread alone. If we are to fight is one with nature, to bring into subjection the rugged and inaccessible parts of our own country and to develop its magnificent resources, and I believe in an energetic and progressive policy with that end in view.

I believe that Public Works which have been undertaken by the Government, such as Grand Trunk Pacific and the Trent Valley Canal, should be pushed to completion with all possible speed, so that the country may have their benefit at the earliest possible time.

I condemn with all my heart, corruption and crookedness in politics and I urge every elector to avoid and condemn the very appearance of these things. I would much rather not be elected than that even one improper act should be done in my behalf. The true success and greatness of the country depends upon the maintenance of the liberties and character of the people and the willingness of the electors to place principle above party; and the worst enemies of the country are men who seek to pervert the liberties and rights of the people by securing either nomination or election by corrupt and crooked means.

With this statement as to my general views, I claim freedom of action and the right always to place what I may believe to be in the interests of the country, before any party consideration.

It is the duty of a representative to devote himself solely to the interests of his country and constituency and not to attempt to serve two masters by representing for personal gain corporate or private interests at the same time.

I have lived among you from my earliest childhood and you have my record. If elected I will devote myself to the interest of the constituency and the country at large.

I ask the assistance of all persons irrespective of party who earnestly desire the welfare of our constituency and country.

If elected I will represent all parties and see that justice is done to all.

Yours truly,

R. J. McLAUGHLIN, K. C.

THE COUNTY ROADS SYSTEM.

Members of County Council off on a Tour of Inspection.

The movement in favor of a Good Roads System for Victoria is assuming a definite and reassuring shape. Mariposa and Ops Councils have named the leading roads they desire to have improved, and other townships are taking action along the same line.

Wednesday about 9 a.m. Warden Channon and County Councilors Shaver, Bryans, Graham, Souly, McQuade, Fairbairn, Staback and Dr. Wood, set out on a trip of inspection that will cover the leading roads of the County. They were accompanied by Mr. A. W. Campbell, Provincial Commissioner of Good Roads, who arrived from Toronto last evening to join the County Councilors, who were delighted on learning that they were to have the benefit of his tips, experience and sound advice during this entire trip, which will last until Saturday. The party left town in three carriages, the route planned being through West Ops, Mariposa, Eldon, Digby, Somerville, Fenlon, North Verulam, East Ops, County Councilor McGeoghegan will join the party at Woodville tomorrow morning.

Burglars Wanted.

Chief of Police Neilson, has received the following letter from Milton concerning the burglary recently committed there:

Milton, Oct. 15, '04

Milton postoffice was broken into last night. The office was blown open and about $200 worth of stamps stolen. Warrants are out for the arrest of George Mann, height 5 feet, 8 inches, weight, 170 lbs., dressed in dark suit, and one Herbert Macky, height 5 feet 8 inches, weight 165 lbs., clean shaven, dark coat, light ragged pants. Notify your postmaster in case suspected attempt to sell stamps. Arrest and wire Chief Constable Bradley.

THE P. O. DEPARTMENT.

It is significant that the Tories say very little about the Post Office Department. Their insight tells them that it is a department which now enjoys public confidence in a remarkable degree in consequence of the splendid reforms brought about by Sir William Mulock, including a reduction in the cost and an increase in the efficiency of the service.

The financial results accomplished are exceedingly satisfactory. In 1896 there was a deficit of nearly $800,000. There had always been deficits; it was supposed they were inevitable. After Sir William had been in office two years, the balance on the wrong side was cut down to less than $50,000, whereas he felt justified in trying the experiment of lowering the postage rates. In 1898, mainly through his efforts, the rate on letters between Canada and the United Kingdom was re-

THE COST OF THE G. T. P.

(Toronto Star.) In all his speeches during his Ontario tour Mr. Borden has been telling the public that in connection with the building of the Grand Trunk Pacific Canada "should" pay the other tenth and own the whole road." As the G. T. P. agreement will be thoroughly discussed the country over during the present campaign, and fully understood by all the people, it is surprising that Mr. Borden should utter and many times repeat the statement.

As regards the line from Montreal to Winnipeg, the State will construct and own it all, leasing it for fifty years to the company, rent free for seven years and the rest of the term at an annual rental of 3 per cent. on what the State has invested in it. This State, owned part of the line, although leased, is not to be monopolized, as the agreement provides that other companies shall have running rights. For instance, the Intercolonial can use those tracks to reach the West, or any Western line can use them to reach the East.

The prairie section from Winnipeg west is to be wholly built by the company, which must pay interest on its bonds from the first, receiving not a dollar of State money or an acre of State land. On the mountain section the State pays the interest for seven years on 75 per cent. of the cost of construction. This it does and nothing more. What the State contributes, then, to the G.T.P. is seven years' interest on the cost of construction of the eastern line and seven years' interest on 75 per cent. of the cost of the mountain section. To pay 3 per cent. interest for seven years on part of the cost of the road can scarcely warrant Mr. Borden in saying that the State is paying 90 per cent. of the cost of the Grand Trunk Pacific and should pay the other tenth and own it all. The country guarantees the bonds in order that the money for this vast work can be more cheaply the heels of every new stroke of policy adopted by Ministers who legislated at a distance for a community they knew little about. The recent growth of the West cannot be better illustrated than by comparing the homestead entries of the last five years with the number in the closing five years of Tory rule:

1892....	4,358	1900....	7,420
1893....	4,173	1901....	8,162
1894....	3,568	1902....	14,073
1895....	3,030	1903....	31,383
1896....	1,888	1904....	26,073

Tory 41,173,909. Liberal 11,877,117

That is, settlement has been progressing five times more rapidly under Mr. Sifton's management than under that of his Conservative predecessors. Liberals do not assert that their policy has produced the bumper crops, the rise in the value of lands and other phenomena of prosperity that are attracting British and American farmers in such numbers to the West, but they can truthfully declare that their policy has done nothing to hinder the rush and a good deal to encourage it, whereas in former times the country suffered immensely from unstable and unwise laws as well as from the incapable administration of things in general.

POINTS OF LAURIER'S GREAT TORONTO SPEECH.

"If we stumbled on the preference as Mr. Foster says we did, it was not that kind of thing the Government was connected with used to stumble on. It stumbled on ignoble things, on faction, conspiracy, bullying and revolt."

"The name of Aylesworth has travelled through the length and breadth of our land, and he is appreciated, not only in his native province, but wherever the British flag flies on the continent of North America."

"I am prepared to admit that in some purely departmental matters we have been led into error."

"The charges brought against us are, after all, very small, very minute and very trifling. If compared with the offences proven against those who are now in opposition, when they were in office, they are

For the next seventy-five years, nay, for the next hundred years, Canada shall be the star towards which all men who love progress and freedom shall come."

"I am simply a Canadian like yourselves, coming from a neighboring Province, trying the best I can to unite our common people. Men of Toronto, I ask you to sink the petty, miserable, squabbling which divided us in the past, unite with us and take your share in the grand future which is before us."

"To you young boys in the gallery, the hope of the country, you who have life before you, let my prayer be simply this: From this day forth never look simply at the horizon, as it may be limited by the limits of a Province, but look beyond, all over the continent, all over the world, wherever the British flag floats, and let your motto be, 'Canada first, Canada last, and Canada forever.'"

EDITORIAL NOTES

Liberals, remember the watchword of the great Sir Robert Peel: Register, register, register!

R. L. Richardson is going to tackle Hon. Clifford Sifton in Brandon. Hugh John did that four years ago, and hasn't been heard from since.

Hon. Thomas Greenway has been nominated in Lisgar, and his election is regarded as sure. No man is better fitted to represent a Manitoba constituency.

The country is with Laurier from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and Victoria and Halifax will declare for a continuance of prosperity on Nov. 3rd.

Sir Wilfrid's manly tariff utterances are being loudly cheered. His declaration of a bold Canadian policy for the future was in striking contrast with Mr. Borden's "adequate protection" evasion.

Hamilton Times: In 1897 there were 688 vacant houses in Hamilton. The Liberal tariff went into force that year and has been in force ever since. Last assessment report does not show a single vacant house. Does not that speak of growth not possible under a bad policy, growth such as we never enjoyed under Tory rule?

The Grand Trunk touches all the important centres of Ontario manufacture. The Grand Trunk wants to do all the freight business it can get. As Sir Wilfrid points out, by securing the Grand Trunk interest in the Transcontinental Railway we make it an agent to promote the prosperity of Canada's manufactures in the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec.

The Toronto News issues a warning against the Toronto Tory machine, which, according to it, has parcelled out the various nominations according to its good will and pleasure, giving the North to Mr. Foster, the East to Mr. Kemp, the Centre to Mr. Clarke, the West to Mr. Osler and the South to some person not yet announced. Grown powerful and arrogant, it is under continual temptation, the News says to manipulate all kinds of nominations, municipal as well as party. It is this same machine that gets the credit for bringing over to Canada the Buffalo heels to testify to other than the truth. It is this machine, it is understood, that is the custodian and dispenser of the "party fund" by which constituencies are debauched.

Mr. Borden does not like the ship-bolts, "Laurier and the Larger Canada." He says it should be Laurier and the Larger United States. The Kingston Whig asks why, and says, very pertinently:

Sir Wilfrid is not working for the United States, but for Canada, the Larger Canada, and he is working all the while. He has declined to discuss a reciprocity of trade with the United States any more, and because the time for that has passed. He has supplied an anti-dumping tariff by which Canada will not be made henceforth the slaughter market for American manufacturers. He has given an effective blow to the American trust that essayed the ruin of the Canadian tobacco trade. He has given a preference to the British manufacturers, and with the result that it has, according to Mr. Chamberlain, increased trade by millions.

It was Sir Charles Tupper who said, "Laurier is too British for me."

Toronto News: But the high-water mark of oratory was reached—and Sir Wilfrid can seldom have made a loftier flight—when he declared in earnest and impressive tones (that the twentieth century shall be the century of the United States, which has filled one hundred years with the prodigies of her history, but that the twentieth century shall be the century of Canada, a country which for the next hundred years will be the star to which all men who love progress and freedom shall come, and which shall repeat the prodigies of the United States.) Increasing in eloquence, the Premier made a passionate appeal for union, asking the men of Toronto "to cease this petty miserable squabbling, unite with us and take your share in the grand future which is before us." Then raising to a climax, he breathed a devout prayer that from this day forth the young men of Canada should never look simply at the horizon, as

It may be limited by the limits of a Province, but that they should look beyond, all over the world wherever the British flag floats, and that their motto should be, "Canada First, Canada Last, Canada Forever."

"There is nothing in the bearing of the Japanese up to this time which gives ground for belief that they can be conquered in battle save by overwhelming numbers," says the New York Evening Post; "and the advantage of the defensive should add still more to the superiority of their individual soldiers."

"Eight years ago Canada sought reciprocity with the United States," says the New York Sun; "to-day her prosperity has made her indifferent to such relations, while any suggestion of annexation is an offence." This is quite a change. The Sun used to annex Canada about once a month.

Hughes' Prize Package, containing 101 fables for children, a family tree, some deep literature and a richly illustrated album of a South African warrior wearing one aluminum spur, is now being distributed throughout town and country free of charge, and our gun and popcorn dealers are disconsolate. They say the run on one cent draws has ceased since the Hughes' Prize Package was placed on the market.

Mr. B. E. Ackerman, a Peterboro business man, has just returned from a tour through the West, and the Review says: When asked with reference to public opinion in the West with regard to the Grand Trunk Pacific, Mr. Ackerman replied: "The people appear to want another railway, and they do not appear to be particular how it is going to be built."

Mr. Borden is going to speak in Montreal. He will find that in the past six years there has been, under what he would call the blighting influence of the Liberal policy, an increase in the taxable property of that city of nearly twenty million dollars—$19,769,578. Would you call that prosperity, or the disastrous fruits of an "adequate" protection? By the time he "drops," Mr. Borden will be black and blue from running up against such monuments of Liberal prosperity as these. He had better provide "adequate" protection for his shins.

The following was the rate of wages paid by the Tory Government to the employees of the Intercolonial Railway:

Laborers.....	$1.00 per day
Freight porters.....	1.00 per day
Trackmen.....	1.10 per day
Cleaners.....	1.15 per day
Firemen.....	1.20 per day

The Liberal Government pays these wages:

Laborers.....	$1.40 per day
Freight porters.....	$1.20 to $1.50 per day
Trackmen.....	1.40 to 1.50 per day
Cleaners.....	1.45 per day
Firemen.....	1.30 to 1.75 per day

This is an average of nearly fifty cents per cent. in favor of the present Government. Workmen should not hesitate to choose between the two.

Entirely satisfied with the conditions afforded by the Laurier Government, the Simplex Railway Appliance to look Laurier over and see into Canada a few years ago employed 550 men and supplied one railway, has now decided to spend two and a half million dollars in the erection of a gigantic plant that will comprise fifteen different kinds of shops and mills, and will give employment to fifteen hundred men. "What more striking proof can we give of our entire satisfaction with the conditions afforded us by the Liberal Government," said Mr. Wilson B. Butler, of New York, vice-president of the company, "than that we consider the outlook as promising that we are willing to spend two and a half million dollars in the erection of a large plant."

During Our Five Years of Business in this Town

We have gained the confidence of the public by marking our goods in plain figures. Consequently, when we mark a ruff for $25.00 that does not mean you can buy it for $21.00. It simply means a Ruff marked $25.00 will cost you $25.00; a Muff marked $13.00 will cost you $13.00; a Ruff marked $5.00 will cost you $5.00. And you will get good value for your money. We do not advertise Bargain Days or Special Sales, for, from Monday morning till Saturday night we give every man, woman or child who patronizes us, full value for every Dollar he or she spends with us, whether the sale be large or small.

As this is the season when you are most interested in Furs, we give a few quotations and invite you to call and inspect our Stock of Jackets, Fur-Lined Circulars, Ruffs, Stoles, Muffs, Caperines, Caps and Gauntlets.

duced from five to two cents per half-ounce. The year after, the domestic rate on letters in Canada was reduced from three to two cents, as also the rate between Canada and the United States.

Naturally, the revenue fell in consequence but it recovered by 1902, when there was a small surplus on the year's operations. In 1903 the surplus had risen to $300,000, although in addition to the reduction of rates he had all along been paying for the Yukon service, which was not in existence when he entered office. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1904, there will doubtless be another surplus of considerable size. The Post Office for the first time in its history, is now a self-sustaining department and something better.

It is contended by the Tories, who do not like to admit what is now notorious, that by comparison they made a poor fist of Post Office affairs, that the reduction in the rates of postage is not a gain to the farmer and mechanic but only to corporations and merchants who purchase large quantities of stamps in the course of their business. As a matter of fact, the cost of the Post Office department is now paid for by those who make use of it, and by such people only. But when there were deficits ranging from $650,000 to $800,000, as happened under the Tories, these had to be made good by extra taxes on the whole people. Under the present order of things we have, first, lower postage rates, and, secondly a surplus that goes to reduce the burdens of the taxpayers at large. It is obvious, then, that everybody is profiting by Sir William's capable management and that of his highly competent deputy, Dr. Coulter.

The Weekly Post

LINDSAY, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 21.

THE CAMPAIGN.

Mr. McLaughlin's address to the electors of Victoria and Haliburton, which will be found in another column of The Post, is the expression of a manly, honest man, who is impelled by a sense of public duty to offer himself to the service of his country. His address has been freely circulated throughout the riding, and those who read it cannot but be convinced that he will, if elected, make a very able representative in our Dominion Parliament. His appeal to the voters is free from the rank egotism to be seen in every line of the address of his opponent, Col. Hughes, and his friends feel satisfied that the electors will be able to distinguish between the froth of a vain, and self-interested professional politician and the modest, earnest professions of a capable and conscientious citizen who would not stoop to the low tactics and cheap methods used by his opponent.

As for the campaign, it is proceeding satisfactorily. From all parts of the riding come reports of the heartiest enthusiasm for Mr. McLaughlin's candidature, and assurances from former supporters of Sam Hughes that they will no longer support that unworthy representative of Conservative principles. Large numbers of earnest men and women are flocking to the Liberal cause, and it is a question of "Stability vs. Frivolity"—the election of a high-minded citizen, who will have the best interests of the constituency ever at heart, and the defeat of a professional politician who seeks to continue to use his connection with a great party for his own selfish ends.

Every friend of Mr. McLaughlin should redouble his efforts, if possible, from now to the end of the campaign. The riding is a large one, the time is short, and there is no room for over-confidence. No Liberal should hesitate to approach his Conservative neighbor with an appeal to cast a reform vote in this campaign. It is a question of "Stability vs. Frivolity"—the election of a high-minded citizen, who will have the best interests of the constituency ever at heart, and the defeat of a professional politician who seeks to continue to use his connection with a great party for his own selfish ends.

THE CANDIDATES COMPARED.

Certain features of the battle now being waged in the County of Victoria for a seat in the Dominion House are unique. In other Counties the merits of the policies of the two great parties are the questions on which the respective candidates rely for their success, coupled perhaps, to a degree, with the personal merits or weaknesses of the respective candidates. In Victoria and Haliburton we have on the other hand, a candidate, the unanimous choice of his party, and who is making sacrifice of his material interests, that he may serve his fellow citizens; while in Colonel Sam Hughes we are met by a type, common in the United States and unfortunately not altogether unknown in Canada—to wit: "the professional politician." Colonel Hughes has no business other than that of politics, and politics he depends for a livelihood. To him a seat in the House of Commons is a vital necessity; without it he must seek some other occupation. His vote on the Yukon Railway Bill showed that he was alive to his own interests and those of the corporation whose servant he is, and from whom the sinews of war for his campaign come. It is idle to speak of him as a Conservative representative. He is a representative of no party and no power. He is a political swashbuckler without party and without convictions.

When North and South Victoria became one constituency he was not slow to recognize the fact that he must at all cost capture the convention of the party to which he was nominally allied. He was aware that the majority of the Conservatives of Victoria and Haliburton did not favor his candidature, and that a free expression of this opinion would have named another man. His only chance lay in packing the convention once exercised by Mr. McLaughlin. Senator McHugh and others, that procured the small grants in question, or that of Mr. Hughes. An opposition member can do a great deal for his constituency if he is willing to act in harmony with the friends of the Government. If the friends of the Government are trying to get something for the constituency, it will help it along very much if the opposition member will assure the Government that the expenditure is right and will not be questioned by the opposition.

Dr. Vrooman was always willing to act in harmony with Senators Dobson and McHugh, and with the friends of the Government. Mr. Carnegie adopts the same sensible course, and so considerable has been accomplished for the constituency.

Mr. Hughes will not do this. He will work in harmony with no one—neither Liberal or Conservative. He is not simply seeking the welfare of his constituency, but is always looking for something to praise himself about, and get his knife into somebody else. While Chas. Fairbairn, George McHugh and Dr. Vrooman represented South Victoria, and Sam Hughes represented North Victoria, a great deal might have been done for the County by the united efforts of all, but Hughes would work with no one. The others did what they could without his assistance and in spite of his jealousy, and he was always ready to try to get the credit for it when it was done, and to cast stones on the others.

This last few years it has been impossible to do for the constituency what ought to be done. If we take the Trent Valley works, for instance, new locks are urgently needed at Rosedale, yet the obnoxious conduct of Hughes has rendered nugatory so far all the efforts of others to have this accomplished. Governments report honourable opponents and do

MARIPOSA OUT OF LINE.

(Editor of the Watchman-Ward.)
Sir.—I think it is an admitted fact that the impression of a large section of Liberals is, to be a Conservative, to be mean, low, despicable, unworthy of any good deed and thoroughly incompetent to form a good fiscal policy or govern the country, and I am forced to admit that a large number of Conservatives hold similar views regarding their Liberal brethren.

Now, sir, methinks, and many are of the same persuasion, that such a view is very much in error indeed, smacking very much of narrow-mindedness and bigotry, thus obstructing the mind in its search after truth.

To my mind, one party does not possess all the virtues nor the other all the vices, but in each may be found very much to be admired, if we look at the matter impartially and with an unbiased mind, desirous of arriving at the truth, "following," as Tyndall has so well said, "the Star of Truth where so ever it leads."

I believe that this principle would be a beacon light to help us decide in many important difficulties, presented to us from time to time.

I am of the opinion that, even out of Col. Hughes' Campaign Literature, a little truth, but a preponderance of error and bombast could be extracted.

Now, we hear much these times about the treachery of Mr. Buxall; untrue to his party, etc., etc.

Well, I have known that gentleman in political life for the last twenty years, and remember distinctly, when a mere lad, of hearing him publicly expound the truths of and contend for the principles of Conservatism. He has lost none of his old time vivacity in this respect.

He is a man of strong convictions of right, and possesses the courage to carry these convictions into active everyday life. I feel assured that Mr. Buxall's action at this time, will do more to enlarge the constituency than all his opponents are doing to lower its standard.

I was surprised, while in Lindsay the other day, to find so many, who I thought were against us, coming out in our support. One man, beckoning me on the street, said, "Well, Irwin, you are in for it for writing those letters." "I'm here still," was the reply. "Yes," said he, "and I'm another who cannot tolerate such crooked work any longer."

This man has been chairman of one division in Lindsay for years, and is a very respectable conservative citizen. Another said, "I find that the better element of the Conservatives party in Lindsay is conspicuous by its absence from the committee rooms this campaign."

Even the Col's supporters will not justify him in the course taken, admitting to you that they have no love for Hughes, but it is for Borden and the party they are working.

My last letter will give you an inkling of the appreciation Mr. Borden has for Mr. Hughes. Look it up, please.

I am told the Col. has some very choice things to say of me, and of course, when I consider their source, I appreciate them. He says, also, he will ignore my letters; quite possibly this is his better policy.

In order to clear up some of his misapprehensions, I shall attach to this letter, a testimonial from our municipality, and he may have others from outside municipalities, trustees of public schools, inspectors of Public Schools, etc. If he wishes which speaks for itself. I reluctantly do this, but that my letters may not be handicapped where I am unknown, I feel it necessary so to do.

Regarding the principles of the two men now in the field, I can see no grounds for comparison, what-over—rather contrast only. Mr. McLaughlin has come out on a broad comprehensive platform, no obnoxious features of the narrow party lines observable. While not agreeing with all he says, I can agree to disagree, and believe Mr. McLaughlin to be strictly sincere in his manifesto. I say this of him from what I know of him as a gentleman and citizen.

But let me say this in closing. I want no Liberal to understand me, through these letters, to write from a Liberal party viewpoint. My object is the very opposite—I follow that party only in so far as they seek to advance the interests of the country along right lines. I am proud to be a believer in the principles laid down by the late Sir John A. MacDonald, who thrilled this whole Dominion by his dying words, "A British subject I was born, a British subject I will die."

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your kindness in publishing all my letters save No. 4, which you told me was a misunderstanding, and I regret any remarks in that letter that might, in any way, reflect on any unwillingness on your part to publish it.—Believe me, yours, etc., T. G. IRWIN, Glandino, Mariposa, Oct. 17, 1904.

TESTIMONIAL.

Oakwood, 6th Oct., 1904.
To whom it may concern.—This is to certify that we, the Mayor and Clerk of the Township of Mariposa, having known the bearer, Mr. T. G. Irwin, for a number of years, and being intimately acquainted, we know of his ability as a public school teacher to be number one. We also know of his ability to perform the duties of a councillor, and we are very confident his best work being exceptionally well and carefully done.

We know of him in private life and can unhesitatingly recommend him to any responsible position of trust and honor that he may be capable of filling.—Yours respectfully, JESSE H. WELDON, Township Clerk, A. M. KINNON, Reeve.

WHY SHOULD YOUNG MEN VOTE LIBERAL?

cattle for that country is imperative. The Conservatives admit that. The differences between the parties are only as to details, and not as to the important point, namely, that another road is necessary.

To-day the leaders of the Liberal party are men of honor and integrity, and the history of the Dominion for the last eight years in its home and imperial and foreign policies is sufficient proof of their capacity for statesmanship, their ability to read the signs of the times, and to undertake great things for the Dominion.

And any young man, or any man in Canada, who wishes to belong to the party which has behind it, in this land and in other lands, the record for the emancipation of the people and the upbuilding of nations, and which at the present, as in the past, carries on its banner the inscription "Excelsior" will, I believe, find that that party in the Liberal party of Canada is now led by Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

No Cause for Alarm. Dr. Barrows vouches for the truth of the following: A party passing the Conservative committee rooms Tuesday was attracted by sounds like a human being being strangled or in mortal agony of spirit. He rushed to the door, but on listening his fears became relieved, the whole trouble being caused by John Carow and Geo. Little trying to sing the chor. us to Mr. Sharp's song, "John Bull."

SOUTH VERULAM.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The weather is like Indian summer at present and farmers are busy taking up their roots and thrashing. Dorgan Bros. are doing most of the thrashing around here, with their traction engine, and it takes them a very short while to complete each man's job.

Mr. Wm. Davidson has leased his farm to Mr. Robert White, of Dundas, for a term of years. We wish Mr. White every success in his undertaking, and welcome him to our midst. Mr. Davidson will reside in Bobbington in the future, where he has bought a handsome residence.

Mr. Robert Montgomery, of Ops, has been down this way thrashing clover. He thrashed for Mr. Edward Horley thirty bags of red clover, in nine hours. Bob. can get a hustle on when he likes.

The elections are the chief topic of conversation here, now. Mr. McLaughlin will make a good representative, but we are afraid he is far too honest to defeat a man like Colonel Hughes.

"VANITY RUN WILD."

(To the Editor of The Post.)

Sir,—I suppose you had a glance at the "picture" of our would-be member? If vanity of vanities were ever personified, surely we have it in Sam Hughes. That any sane man could read the trash that accompanies that picture, and not find a small morsel of pity for the person who penned it, I cannot imagine. It is impossible to think that the intelligent electors of this county will place the slightest credence on any portion of the mass of rubbish contained therein. It is incredible to attribute the sending of the "picture" to any man having the intelligence required in a representative, but the electors of Victoria are often treated to the style of vanity contained in Sam's cranium.—Yours, etc., TORY.

EMPEROR BILL'S COMPETITOR.

(To the Editor of The Post.)

Sir,—I presume you have been faced with a copy of Col. Sam's manifesto. There is only one person, to my mind, who can, at all compare with the wonderful representative of our—Emperor Bill who with providence runs the world. Sam in some respects can give Bill points and then win out. It is needless to say that in this sacred our friend Sam is very economical with the truth. For instance, he claims to have been a Conservative since 1875. It really does not make much difference, but he means 1867, for before that time there was not a leader-mouthing Grit in the whole bunch than the same Sammy Hughes, and if he were to be honest for once and tell why he turned his coat, even his man Turpin would not think very much of him.

Another little discrepancy is where he claims to be the originator of our new railway, whereas those of us who know had thought that the Boyds and Wickham were at the bottom of the transaction. There are literally scores of other points equally untrue, but really the reading of it is so nauseating that it takes a good deal of patience for a fair man to wade through it.

It really is a caution that any man should be silly, and vain-glorious as to parade his family history and Manchurian deeds before an enlightened community and expect decent people to vote for him on his account. It is brains and manhood we want to represent us at Ottawa—not froth.—Yours, etc.,

GALWAY TOWNSHIP ON TOP

THE ANNUAL FAIR AT KINMOUNT
FRIDAY OF LAST WEEK

Was Largely Attended and Proved Very Successful.

The agricultural fair of Galway township, held at Kinmount on Friday last, was in point of attendance one of the most successful in the Society's history. The day was ideal in every respect and the grounds in perfect condition, and the management are most profuse in their thanks to the many outsiders who so generously visited the show and helped so materially to swell the day's receipts.

A special train left town at 9 a. m. on the morning of the fair and picked up a large number of passengers at the different stations along the line. By the time Kinmount was reached standing room was at a premium. The hotel accommodation was heavily taxed, but ample provision had been made by the management of both hostels and the visitors received a right royal welcome from their northern friends.

The exhibits on the whole fell short of previous years, but what was lacking in numbers, was made up in quality, the exhibits in the main building being in many instances most praiseworthy. Some beautiful work was shown in paintings, both in water colors, and oil, quilts of many designs, as well as sofa cushions, pillow shams, etc., in profusion. Of roots and vegetables it might be said that whilst not of the large, overgrown kind often shown, they were on the whole of nice uniform appearance. Apples were shown that would do credit to any district in Canada. Mr. Edward Lee, of Somerville, we understand, showed many of the varieties. In butter a most creditable display was made.

In stock the exhibits showed a considerable falling off, excepting in horses which class was exceptionally well represented. In the driving class the animals were the equal of those shown at many of the leading fairs. Heavy horses were also well represented. In cattle, hogs and sheep a very poor showing was made. One lone hog was shown, it was a large Yorkshire breed, the property of Steve Oliver, Lindsay. The sheep and hogs were of a breeder near Geism. In sheep Mr. Joe Harper, of Burnt River, carried off most of the honors. Although a comparatively young breeder, yet he showed a flock of Leicesters that would do credit to a front township stockman. An aged ram was worthy of special mention. Mr. Harper has on hand several young ram lambs and ewes, and had numerous enquiries as to prices. Poultry, etc.

Mr. Edward Lee, of Somerville, might well be considered the leading exhibitor at the fair. Mr. Lee has been singularly fortunate in his career as a farmer. By dint of hard and honest labor, and by keeping in touch with the growing time, he has been able to acquire a competency that will stand him in his declining years. He is now the proud possessor of sixteen hundred acres of fairly good land in the township of Somerville, with at the present time sixty head of horned cattle and seven horses. He has seven sons, most of them able to do a man's work, and like their father, have never known the taste of liquor. Mr. Lee showed a prime team of Percherons that he refused four hundred dollars for, also a brood mare of the same breed. He had many exhibits in the main building.

In roots, vegetables, etc., Mr. Chas. McMahon, a young farmer, who is just coming to the front, was successful in carrying off many of the prizes. For brood mare and foal he got first place. A handsome Keweenaw foal also was awarded the first prize. Mr. McMahon disposed of this animal on the ground before leaving.

In road and carriage horses, John Devitt, John Young, Jas. Gallagher, Gerald Ford, Neil Wilson and Wm. Hughes were the principal exhibitors. In single drivers John J. Kelley showed a Hamiltonian Earl of Stinton, for which he received first prize. In roadsters first prize went to Jas. Gallagher, of Bobcaygeon. R. McConnachie and Wm. Ritchie showed foals in 1904 roadster class, and Mr. Rich. Carr showed a grand one. Donald McDougall showed a driver that will become a swift one some day. Other exhibitors in the horse ring were G. Smartlett, J. Quinn, R. Mills, J. S. Kennedy, Levi Karl and several others, whose names we did not learn.

In the racing events a number of good horses were entered. Most of these present, who had watched the performance of Petroleum at Lindsay Central, were a unit as regards his getting first place. Joe L., the snappy little bay that met with an accident at Lindsay, was entered for the different events but had not entirely recovered and was consequently unable to keep up the pace. Fleming's Black Boy and Annie showed to good advantage in the time. In the free-for-all Petroleum was an easy winner, with Black Boy 2nd and Joe L. 3rd. Several minor races were run off that were of but local interest.

The fair management is to be congratulated on the manner in which each detail was looked after.

The hotel cuisine was highly satisfactory to those whose appetites were whetted by the fresh morning breezes.

Notwithstanding the fact that a goodly amount of fine water was consumed, the crowd remained cool, natured and law-abiding.

Mr. D. Sinclair, of Lindsay, was the only exhibitor in wheeled rigs, and succeeded in booking orders for his entire exhibit.

Many were the flattering remarks passed on the Kinmount brass band. Their playing was a most pleasing feature of the day's performance.

MARIPOSA OUT OF LINE.

LETTER NO. 4.
(To the Editor of Weekly Post.)

Sir,—Notwithstanding the Watchman-Wardner's harrangue, re the Liberal convention, I am pleased to observe the high ground taken by the speaker as regards purity of elections, I trust they will continue to advance those views, and that when the election for the Local Legislature is on, operate them to their full extent.

Some people say their present action is one of necessity, Col. Hughes having monopolized the other course, but I have good reasons for believing they will carry out their pledges in this respect, as many prominent Liberals, not in the township of Mariposa only, but in the township of Lindsay, have told me personally, that they would never support another Liberal candidate to the Ontario Government until those fellows there now, were fired out. Their statements were made long prior to the hail (Hell) storm which today disgraces the Globe newspaper. You see they now have additional reasons for proving true.

But, to continue my last letter. We hear much now-a-days about the interests of the party. Some of the toasters, while admitting that the Col. is lucky, claim their allegiance to the party justifies their present course. I want to tell these fellows that were they to observe the truths set forth in the series of letters, and act upon them, they would be putting up a consistent fight for the party—one that would meet with the approval and commendation of the thinking electors.

The election of the Liberal candidate by 1,000 majority, thus retiring the self-appointed candidate, would be the very best thing that could happen to the party, at the present juncture.

What I give over a constituency with 500 majority? Yes, the greater the sacrifice, the more the honor, and I shall prove these statements before concluding these letters.

We also hear something about loyalty to the party. Let us observe that of the so-called Conservative candidate in the Liberal race at Ottawa when discussing the sure election of Col. Hughes in Victoria and Haliburton, remarked, "Well it does not matter much, we can get him any time we want him, anyway." Now, are they not judging from his past record, justified in their conclusion?

Let's look up the Yukon Railway Bill and what was he? Against what? The Remedial Bill, and how do we find him? Wobbling? To-day with us and to-morrow against us! And he is using both hands of this question to-day, in his endeavor to deceive the unwary. Do you observe the loyalty, reader? Get your microscope.

Again, the Redistribution Bill, which I fully discussed in my 2nd letter, and where is he at? Against us? Let us see? Notwithstanding the statements of above letter, which were a verbatim quotation from his record, page 15,512, of his speech in this regard, he tells us in his campaign sheet that McHugh and McLaughlin are responsible for the arrangement in this constituency. Oh! truth, thou art a jewel. How I prize thee! Let's at least have the semblance of honesty—Liberal as well as Conservative. Now, sir, I am informed, ed, on good authority, not only, are these gentlemen not responsible for this, but that individually they wrote the Government, to, if possible, leave Victoria and Haliburton two members, and we find Dr. Vrooman on the floor of the House of Commons, telling the Government that the Liberals at Lindsay consider the bill, as affecting Victoria and Haliburton, an outrage, and that he believed that they (the Government), had lied from them.

Then again, let us look for his loyalty to the local party leaders and past representatives. You will need a microscope. How many of them has he not daggered to the hilt? All save one, and he is quaking a little. If Col. Hughes, or any of his friends, care to deny this, I shall, in my next letter, prove beyond a shadow of a doubt, the same him, for him only, rests the responsibility of the defeat of the Conservative party in South Victoria in 1896. And what do the Conservative leaders at Ottawa think of his loyalty? How many caucus meetings is he invited to attend? Why? I judge answers why?

What about the loyalty of his constituents? Why, his loudest tool, never polled a vote for Dr. Vrooman, nor, but openly, voted against him in 1896, and paired against him in 1900.

Another of the Col's big guns, who claims such true loyalty to Dr. Vrooman in 1900, and at the election men, thought, polled his vote I presume for the Dr. and then booth, "Is there any money in this thing?" On being told by the other that "he had not heard of any," this true man replied, "Well, they may draw their own d-m-votes," and forthwith struck for the Col's riding and drove all day—just a little outing, you know! Now, Mr. Editor, as my last letter so fully took the wind out of the Watchman-Wardner's argument re the petition, or for some other reason best known to that paper, its editor has refused publication to any more of my letters, hence I shall be compelled, to ask your indulgence for future letters. And by the way, I find that the largest petition in this township, is still in the hands of the agent, and of course, not counted, so you will observe the Watchman-Wardner's argument is still more fallacious—Yours, etc.,

T. G. IRWIN.

WHY THIS FALSEHOOD?

(To the Editor of The Post.)
Sir,—In Mr. T. G. Irwin's letter on "Mariposa out of Line," in Saturday's Evening Post, he says that the editor of the Watchman-Wardner has refused publication to any more of his letters. That statement is absolutely untrue and without the slightest foundation. Mr. Irwin has always been assured that he was welcome to have his letters published in the Watchman-Wardner. All that has been published, but one; that came to hand on Wednesday, when the paper was being rushed for publication, and being a long letter it had to be omitted for that issue. Mr. Irwin was immediately notified, by letter of the fact, and its reason. A few days later he was seen personally and given the explanation again, and assured that he was free to publish his letters in this paper. His letter in Saturday's Post followed, saying that the editor of the Watchman-Wardner had refused to publish any more of his letters. The purpose of an untruth of that nature, not easy to make out, it is at all events, an instructive and timely sidelight on both the man and his letters.—Yours truly, A. MALLETT, Editor of the Watchman-Wardner. Lindsay, Oct. 17, '04.

Note.—Mr. Mallett's explanation is plausible and apparently a frank statement of the case, but it does not agree with Mr. Irwin's explanation. The latter informed The Post that he had mailed his last letter on the same day, and by the same mail, as he dispatched the former letters, and had not been asked to forward them earlier. The public will readily understand that just at the present time in political affairs in this County, the editor of the Watchman-Wardner might not feel inclined to strain a point to secure the admission of one of Mr. Irwin's letters to his columns—they are too illuminative.—Ed. Post.

A Play Too Good to Miss.

"Way Down East," which was the attraction Saturday night, was, we think, the best pastoral play we have seen at the Academy of Music. The staging was perfect, the smallest detail being carefully looked after. No local scenery was used. The company from the leading lady to the last important character, were all finished actors. The play itself appeals to everybody with a spark of sympathy, a liking for an interesting story and a relish for good wholesome fun. There are many reasons for its popularity, its pathetic scheme, its genial humor, its charming pictures of country life, its quaint characters and striking realism; but its more potent element undoubtedly is the strong human interest that permeates every scene. We think that, were more companies of this class secured and advertised, so people would realize something extra was in store for them, full houses would be the rule.

THE WEATHER FOR OCTOBER.

Heavy Gales and Seismic Disturbances are Predicted.

Prof. Hicks has arranged the "first regular storm period proper" for October from the 8th to the 12th, and we may expect very prompt developments in the form of falling barometer, change to quite warm, followed by rain, wind and even thunder storms as early in the period as the 6th and 9th. Within forty-eight hours of noon on the 8th seismic disturbances in many parts of the earth need not cause surprise. The next storm period will be central on the 16th, 17th and 18th. From about the 21st to the 24th general and active autumnal storm trends may be expected. A very depressed barometer will advance from the west, attended by storms, first of rain and probable thunder, followed by early squalls of snow and sleet in northern extremes. Heavy northwest gales will visit the great lakes and the north Atlantic coasts at this time and a general and decided change to colder will spread over most parts of the country with the anti-storm period that follows. This period will produce more earthquake shivers. The last period of disturbance is central on the 27th-28th. At this time look for a reaction to warmer, but falling barometer and return of rain and thick cloudiness and a fair to pleasant weather is to be expected in a large measure.

THE GOLDEN AGE FOR CANADIAN FARMS.

How increased sales of Farm Produce the Last Eight Years Supplied the Foundation for Diversified Prosperity.

The Canadian farmer can contemplate the past eight years with a good deal of prosperous satisfaction. It will be hard to get the horny-handed son of toil to quarrel with providence or the powers that be. He has received too much at their hands. Thanks to himself, to good fortune and the aid of a progressive administration, the Canadian farmer is raising more stuff, getting better prices and selling in wider markets than in 1896. Providence provided the land, the sunshine and the rain. The farmer furnished the energy and the direction. The Agricultural Department of the Federal Government furnished a good deal of useful advice. It has taught improved methods of cheese making, of butter making, of poultry raising, of crop rotation, of fruit packing. The farmers have not been slow to adopt suggestions. The result is probably most plainly seen in Ontario where, within two years, two hundred thousand acres was taken from wheat and planted with grass and roots, indicating that the farmer was being specialized and instead of attempting to compete with the prairie of the west in wheat growing Ontario is going in for beef, butter and cheese. It is following the advice of the Canadian Department of Agriculture. The fact that the farmers would follow advice to the extent of changing two hundred thousand acres of crop shows a good deal more faith in the Department of Agriculture than its critics are willing to allow.

The Canadian farmer has become a mighty factor abroad. Europe and the United States are wondering how it can be fed Great Britain. Such a question never worried them before the advent of the recent Government. The Canadian farmer was not then the pivotal point of a world-wide controversy.

Where They Began.

In 1896 Canadian farmers exported fifty million dollars worth of farm products. Last year the amount had increased to one hundred and fourteen millions. This great increase was accomplished while the population of Canada was being augmented by a good deal less than a million. The increase was chiefly due to the fact that the department of Agriculture pointed the way to the British market for the Canadian farmer. It also called the attention of the British consumer to the excellence of the bacon, butter and cheese made by the Canadian farmer. It studied the British market and taught the Canadian farmer how much fat he should put on his bacon, how the texture of his cheese should be, how his butter should be packed to please the British consumer. The result is Canadian bacon and cheese have the highest possible standing in the opinions of the British taxpayers. The department has made some very useful laws to prevent unscrupulous persons exploiting the high reputation of Canadian farm products by passing off inferior cheese, bacon and butter under the brand "Canada." A little of this sort of thing would play havoc with the Canadian export trade and the price of the Canadian goods. (However, when these laws were being passed Conservative critics in the Commons condemned them as restrictions upon the freedom of trade.)

Talk of trade and traffic is likely to prove dull, but in Canada the story has been so remarkable that it is as interesting as a romance. There it has left its record in every man's pocket.

How it Was Done.

Some of the things the present Government has done to help the Canadian farmer are interesting enough to be recalled.

It has established a complete chain of cold storage transportation, extending from the Canadian farm to the British consumer, and including depots at railway stations, refrigerated cars, depots at the sea, cold chambers on the steamers and cool depots on other side of the Atlantic. The present Government inaugurated the system of distributing agricultural information to farmers. It appointed a practical agriculturalist for the Central Experimental Farm. It appointed a live stock commission to deal with the various interests of stock production and improvement in Canada.

The cold storage system has enabled Canadian butter to take a place in the British estimation ahead of the Australian and New Zealand and only a little behind the famous Danish. It has enabled Canadian fruit to place tender fruit on the British market, a thing which could never be done before. Still Australia and New Zealand had demonstrated the value of cold storage shipments to Great Britain before this Government came to power.

Another good thing the present Minister of Agriculture has done was to secure the passage of the Fruit Marks Act. The British purchaser can now rest assured that his barrel of apples contains what is indicated on the outside.

Chicken fattening has been so seriously taken up that there are depots now almost from the Atlantic to the Pacific. The stalling process has proved valuable for getting fowl on the market in good shape and early in the season when the market is high.

Tobacco growing has been encouraged and the result has been an increase of seven million pounds in the production of Ontario and Quebec.

The department is still progressive and is now introducing a system of cool curing for cheese with enhanced prices for an eighth to a quarter of a cent a pound. One eighth means about three hundred thousand dollars more for the Canadian cheese makers. It is little on a pound but a lot on the crop.

Results.

In the last seven Conservative years Canada exported farmers' produce as follows:

Eggs	$ 7,212,000
Butter	6,140,000
Cheese	87,635,000
Bacon, ham and pork	15,752,000
In the seven Liberal years the result has been:
Eggs	$ 9,818,000
Butter	28,889,000
Cheese	138,378,000
Bacon, ham and pork	17,558,000

The increase in the amount of money the Canadian farmer gathered in from the foreign market in the last seven years compared with the seven years before was $217,583. This was $525 for each Canadian owning a farm of five acres or more.

No wonder the Canadian farmer is well satisfied with Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his Minister of Agriculture. And the schemes for the benefit of the farmers are just beginning to be put into operation.

DON'TS FOR YOUNG MOTHERS.

Don't give medicine to check the soothing mixture or opiate of any kind except by the order of a competent doctor who has seen the child. Remember that all so-called soothing mixtures contain dangerous opiates. If your child is restless give it Baby's Own Tablets, as they are absolutely harmless and in a natural way promote health-giving sleep.

Don't give medicine to check the movement of baby's bowels in diarrhoea except on the advice of a doctor. Feed the child sparingly and give Baby's Own Tablets to cleanse the bowels of irritating secretions. Keep the abdomen warm. This treatment will cure diarrhoea.

Don't give a young child harsh cathartics, such as castor oil, which gripe and torture. Baby's Own Tablets have a gentle, laxative action and never fail to cure constipation.

Mrs. J. D. Cully, Headerton, Que., says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for stomach and bowel troubles and have always found them a most satisfactory medicine."

Don't fail to keep Baby's Own Tablets in the house. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box by writing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Giving Advice to Farmers.

(Sylvan Grove, Kinn, Newy.)

Buy a new binder and use it a week; then let it stand out under a tree or behind the barn for the rest of the year, where the hogs can root under it, the calves jump on the floor, the billy goat chews the canvas and the chickens roost on the reel. Let the rain soak up the boxes and the sun blister the paint. Take out a few unnecessary bolts to fix the calibrator in the spring and another for the plough in the fall; let the boards warp and crack; the tin bend and rust; let the tongue rot and the wheel sag, while the hogs build nests in the drive box, and sparrows breed in the drive wheel. Let the bearing and the gearing get out of line, then in a year or two go buy a new binder like a man. That's the way it's done.

FOUND DROWNED.

Body of Napoleon Dussault Found in Sturgeon Lake

WAS ENTANGLED IN TWO TROLLING LINES OUT FULL LENGTH

Coroner Burrows Notified, but Decided that an Inquest was Unnecessary.

Sturgeon Lake has claimed another victim. Sunday about noon Mr. Reuben Morgan, town, arrived at the house of his father-in-law, Mr. John Hayes, at Pleasant Point, and went for a stroll among the cottages, accompanied by Mr. Will Hayes. Soon their attention was attracted by an overturned canoe some distance out in the lake, and a floating hat and several paddles near by were suggestive of a fatality. Securing a skiff they rowed out to the canoe and discovered two trolling lines attached to one of the thwart. Pulling in the slack a body came into view, and they quickly let go of the lines and headed for Sturgeon Point to telephone the news to Lindsay. Coroner Burrows was notified and drove necessary to hold an inquest. Deceased leaves no family, his only son having met death in a railway accident a year or so ago. He resided with his mother-in-law, Mrs. Hutchison, in the upper flat of an implement warehouse on William-st.

Mr. Borden's Faulty Reasoning.

Jones, desiring to build a house, raises money by a note which Robinson endorses, holding as security an agreement that if he has to meet the note the house shall pass into the control of his agent and there remain until Jones discharges his obligation in full.

After endorsing the note Robinson is justified in proclaiming to the world that he has built a house for Jones and had made him a present of it.

According to Mr. R. L. Borden's view of the case he would. This is Mr. Borden's theory with respect to the government's arrangement with the G.T.P. The government will endorse a proportion of the G.T.P. bonds. There is not one chance in a thousand that it will ever have to pay a cent. If it does it has security for every dollar advanced. Yet Mr. Borden tells the people that they are building the road and making a present of it to the Grand Trunk.

This is the Winnipeg Free Press way of combatting Mr. Borden's absurd contention, and it is a good one.

The circulation of money in building the National Transcontinental Railway is the old story of the pebble dropped in the lake—the wave of benefit, in time, will reach to the outermost edge of the population.

down to Pleasant Point about 4 o'clock, accompanied by Constable John Short. They raised the body, which proved to be that of Napoleon Dussault, a good-natured Frenchman, about 60 years old, who was well known about town as a handy laborer, and one who was given steady employment because a willing worker.

It was learned by Coroner Burrows that Dussault had paddled down the river Saturday evening with a companion, as he was in the habit of doing. They were out in their canoe at an early hour looking for ducks, and the light being small Dussault left his companion between 9 and 10 o'clock, saying he would fish for a while and at the same time might also catch some ducks. That was the last seen of him by his companion. It is assumed that either he got a large fish on one of his lines and upset the canoe as a result of an unguarded action, or that he shot sideways out of the boat at a duck and the recoil sent him overboard. The facts will never be known.

The body was placed in the canoe and towed up behind Mr. A. B. Torrey's yard. On arrival it was taken to Anderson & Nugent's undertaking rooms.

Coroner Burrows deemed it un-

A prominent Southern lady, Mrs. Blanchard, of Nashville, Tenn., tells how she was cured of backache, dizziness, painful and irregular periods by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Gratitude compels me to acknowledge the great merit of your Vegetable Compound. I have suffered for four years with irregular and painful menstruation, also dizziness, pains in the back and lower limbs, and fitful sleep. I dreaded the time to come which would only mean suffering to me.

"Better health is all I wanted, and cure if possible. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought me health and happiness in a few short months. I feel like another person now. My aches and pains have left me. Life seems new and sweet to me, and everything seems pleasant and easy.

"Six bottles brought me health, and was worth more than months under the doctor's care, which really did not benefit me at all. I am satisfied there is no medicine so good for sick women as your Vegetable Compound, and I advocate it to my lady friends in need of medical help."—Mrs. B. A. BLANCHARD, 422 Broad St., Nashville, Tenn.

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhoea, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, bloating for hours, general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine, for you need the best.

A Severe Case of Womb Trouble Cured in Philadelphia.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have been cured of severe female troubles by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was nearly ready to give up, but seeing your advertisement I purchased one bottle of your medicine, and it did me so much good that I purchased another, and the result was so satisfactory that I bought six more bottles, and am now feeling like a new woman. I shall never be without it. I hope that my testimonial will convince women that your Vegetable Compound is the greatest medicine in the world for falling of the womb or any other female complaints."—Mrs. MAY COOK, 2660 Birch St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Remember, every woman is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham if there is anything about her symptoms she does not understand. Her address is Lynn, Mass., her advice is free and cheerfully given to every ailing woman who asks for it.

THE CAMPAIGN UNDER WAY.

SPLENDID RALLY AT THE LIBERAL ROOMS OCT. 13th.

Inspiring Addresses by Senator McHugh, Robt. Kennedy, J. P. Donald, Dr. Totten and the Candidate, Mr. R. J. McLaughlin.

There was enthusiasm to burn at a recent rally of electors in the Liberal Committee Rooms adjoining The Evening Post office. Every seat was occupied and standing room was at a premium. The sight was inspiring and an augury of success on Nov. 8th.

Addresses were delivered by Mr. Robert Kennedy, the chairman, Senator McHugh, Dr. Totten, Mr. J. P. Donald and Mr. R. J. McLaughlin, the candidate. The Senator's speech was brief but trenchant, and was loudly applauded. He referred to the grand record upon which the Liberal Government appealed to the people, and in closing he condemned in scathing terms the standards against Mr. McLaughlin and himself contained in Col. Hughes' lying campaign manifesto, which was a tissue of falsehoods from start to finish, and was a sample of the methods adopted by Hughes at every opportunity. In the present campaign the question was not one of politics so much as better and cleaner representation. A good government was bound to benefit Conservatives and Reformers alike, and if the electors of Victoria and Haliburton chose Mr. McLaughlin as their representative they would get a man who would work without counting for the best interests of the people of the riding and the country, and one who would never become the tool of corporations and grafters. (Cheers.)

Mr. R. J. McLaughlin spoke for over half an hour, and was listened to with deep attention. In opening he expressed his regret that Col. Hughes had seen fit to start the campaign with a tirade of abuse and slander, and by claiming credit for almost every good work done in Canada and of what had been accomplished in Greater Britain. (Laughter.) He claimed to have initiated the Lindsay, Coburn, and Portypool Railway, but the facts were that the charter was first secured by Mr. Boyd and Mr. John A. Barrow, and the railway would have been built long ago were it not that Col. Hughes had seen fit to lend his aid to those who opposed the granting of the usual Government bonus. Col. Hughes claimed to have been instrumental in securing a grant of $200 for the bridge at Rosedale when it was very well known that he had not sufficient influence to secure a grant of $2. As a matter of fact the grant had been secured as a result of representations made by R. J. McLaughlin. (Applause.) Col. Hughes also repeated an untruthful statement in connection with Cameron lake drowned lands. When Col. Hughes first made that statement some years ago he (McLaughlin) had at once wired the department asking that an investigation be held. His request was granted. Col. Hughes had his witnesses there, who were examined under oath, and their evidence refuted Col. Hughes' charge in every particular. The cost of that investigation had not yet been defrayed by the maker of the false and malicious charge. It really seemed as if Col. Hughes considered himself a privileged person and believed he had a license entitling him to abuse and defame the characters of everyone who could not see eye to eye with him, or who crossed his purpose in any particular. He (McLaughlin) had lived in the community for about 40 years and had never noticed any attempt to excite religious feeling or to stir up against creed, citizen against citizen, until Hughes appeared on the scene. His policy seemed to have been to create divisions and dissensions, and to wound the feelings of neighbors who had lived together in peace and amity until his coming. It was a lamentable policy, and could produce no good fruit.

In closing Mr. McLaughlin dealt with the Grand Trunk Pacific bargain and pointed out its many admirable features.

Cause of Lockjaw.

Lockjaw, or tetanus, is caused by a bacillus or germ which exists plentifully in street dirt. It is inactive as long as exposed to the air, but when carried beneath the skin, as in the wounds caused by percussion caps or by rusty nails, and when the air is excluded the germ is aroused to activity and produces the most violent poison known. These germs may be destroyed and all danger of lockjaw avoided by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely as soon as the injury is received. Pain Balm is an antiseptic and causes such injuries to heal without maturation, and in one-third the time required by the usual treatment. It is for sale by all druggists.

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP OF THE G.T.P.

Opposition to That Innovation Has Been One of their Strong Planks—What Sir Charles Tupper and other Prominent Men of the Party Said on the Subject—Some Interesting Reading.

It is easy to understand why Mr. Borden, in his Ontario tour, is saying little or nothing about his proposal for Government ownership and operation of a transcontinental line. He dropped his first scheme, that of 1903, for mixed Company and Government ownership across the continent, because his followers who were condemning the Government policy as extravagant could not with any show of decency advocate a plan of operations that would have cost very much more. His final policy for Government ownership and operation all the way, has been carefully ignored by the Montreal Gazette and other influential newspapers on that side. It cannot possibly suit the Canadian Pacific authorities, since a Government line operated in competition with that road, the managers not caring whether they made both ends meet or not, would prove disastrous, if not ultimately ruinous. Nor does it suit the average high and dry Tory who has no hankering for experiments in Socialism, and no particular love for those who have. Further, it flies in the face of all the traditions and doctrines of the Tory party, not merely those of an age long past, but those held and debated 1903, p. 188) in a speech containing those words.

"Thus I will say, speaking for myself, I am opposed to Government running railways, and if we are to take the Intercolonial Railway as a sample to guide us in the future, all I have to say is, God protect us from the financial results that must follow if the Government are to own and run many other roads in the future."

Dr. Sprague is a leading Tory, though not altogether persona grata with Mr. Borden. His views on the subject will be found in Hansard, January 20, 1881, when Sir John Macdonald proposed to hand over the construction of the Canadian Pacific, down to that time carried on as a Government work, to the present Company.

"In every instance where I have been able to take the sense of the people, I have invariably found that it was their desire to have the railway built by a company and not by the Government. The history of the construction of all public works shows that they cost more when constructed by the Government than when constructed by private companies. We have had some little experience of from a general point of view, than they were some twenty years ago. The Minister of Justice called my attention a few minutes ago, to the fact that this was due to the very low rates which were charged in the Maritime Provinces. It may be that the rates there are lower than they are in some other parts of the Dominion, but I think, if a comparison were made, it would be found that the general tariffs on railways which are operated through the old and thickly settled country, will not differ very much from those which prevail in the Maritime Provinces as one would infer from the hon. gentleman's remarks.

"At all events, I venture the statement that in my opinion—and I believe my opinion will be confirmed by any person who has experience in railway business—that if the Intercolonial Railway as it is to-day, and as it has existed for years past, were operated by private individuals, or by a Company organized for that purpose it would show a handsome profit, and that could be made without adding one dollar to the charges either for freight traffic or passenger service."

A still more prominent Conservative, Sir George Drummond, who, besides being a leading figure in the Senate, is one of the foremost men in the Canadian business world, is equally opposed to Mr. Borden's policy. This is what Sir George said in the Montreal Herald of July 6th, 1904:

"I am dead opposed to it (Government ownership and operation), especially after the object lesson the Intercolonial Railway has been to the country. That is why I am absolutely opposed, to the Government owning and controlling railways. They might possibly own the railways without running them, but that is another question. Government ownership might be tolerable if they could have the railways run

THE LINE OF FORTIFICATIONS ALONG THE WESTERN BORDER—IN FACT, ALL OVER THE COUNTRY.

proached by leaders still in the flesh. In his speech on the Crow's Nest Railway (June 18, 1897), Sir Charles Tupper filled several columns of Hansard with denunciations of Government ownership. Mr. Maclean, M.P.—his many friends call him Billy Bryan Maclean because of his high regard for the well-known Populist leader—was counselling Government ownership for that line in his newspaper, the Toronto World, and Sir Charles paid his respects to him in these words:—

"I learned with infinite pleasure that the Government had abandoned the idea or intention of building this railway (the Crow's Nest Pass Railway) as a Government work. I am quite aware that a portion of the press giving a considerable support to the Opposition has put forward this policy of the construction of the road through the Crow's Nest Pass as a Government work. I confess that I was astounded to find that, with the evidence that we had before us on the result of the construction and operation of Government railways in Canada, a single intelligent man could be found in the House, or out of it, who was prepared to advocate such a policy in this case."

Sir Charles went on to land the Government for avoiding such a pitfall, describing at length the manifold evils which, in his belief, beset Government ownership as well as Government operation, adding:

"Whether Liberals or Conservatives were in power I would deplore in the strongest manner any attempt in this country by any Government, I care not who they are, or who they are composed of, to construct another Government railway. That is the position I take."

In 1903, when the Grand Trunk Pacific project was under debate, Sir Mackenzie Bowell launched out against Government ownership (Sen-ating railroads in Canada and we may ask if it cost us one cent $716,088 to run the Intercolonial Railway, a road 800 miles long, passing through three settled Provinces where there is a large trade, what must be the cost of running a road 2,700 miles long, running for nearly its whole length through a country that is unsettled?"—(Hansard, January 20, 1881.)

Coming back to recent times, another prominent Tory, Senator Wood, of Montreal, who has had good opportunities of studying Government ownership and operation on the Intercolonial, has delivered two speeches of late in which he has taken strong ground against the policy Mr. Borden is now advocating. The first will be found in Senate Debates, June 23, 1897, the second Senate Debates, July 4, 1899. Here are one or two brief extracts from the latter:

"In the discussion which took place two years ago, in 1897, I ventured to express the opinion which I entertained then, and which I entertain still, that it was not desirable, further than could be prevented, that the Government should own and operate railways in Canada. I do not believe that, as a function of the Government, a railway can be operated as economically or as successfully as it can be by private companies."

"During twenty years the receipts of the Intercolonial from freight traffic increased from about half a million to over a million and a half dollars. It increased three-fold in about twenty years. The passenger traffic increased in about the same proportion. Instead, however, of the net results improving under these conditions, it appears that the working expenses have kept pace with the increase of receipts from both freight and passenger traffic, and the net results from the extensions which have hitherto been made, are no better, by an absolutely independent Commission, but that is almost an impossibility. It would be almost impossible to keep them in a non-partisan position, and very difficult even if they owned the roads and leased them."

"I distinctly prefer the Company system of owning and management on the ground that it is certain to secure better service and great economy. No Government man or ever will run any business which is dependent upon votes, upon business principles."

Under these circumstances Mr. Borden is probably wise in refusing to discuss Government ownership and operation in the older Provinces. He will leave the subject to be exploited in the West by such men as Mr. Boyd, Dr. Roche and Mr. Secord, who will doubtless tell the settlers that if Mr. Borden is returned he will compel the people of the West to pay the greater part of their wheat tolls to the Atlantic seaboard in the shape of yearly deficits on a Government-owned and Government-operated railway. But if they are wise, the Western electors will not believe any such story. The Eastern taxpayers and a good deal more influence in Parliament than they have, and would hardly allow Mr. Borden or anyone else to tax him, first, for the construction of a Government road across the continent, and second, for the payment of deficits created by excessively low rates.

On the contrary, he would be much more likely to insist that the Western farmers should pay rates sufficiently high to meet cost of operation, if not to prevent them from competing in the Eastern markets. The Tories always believe in having a double-barrelled policy, one that can be used with effect here and kept out of sight there, but Mr. Borden is going about the matter so clumsily that he will hardly succeed in humbugging the West, and still less in deceiving the East.

How To Keep Horses Well.

That's a problem every farmer and stockman has to solve in winter. Lack of exercise—dry feed—weather changes—all upset the digestion. Horses often eat heartily, yet get thin—hair stands on end—feel tired and dull. Season the feed with Myers' Royal Spice. It changes winter into summer for horses. Makes dry hay as sweet as green grass—gives an extra relish to corn and oats—and keeps the horses strong and fat on less feed. Feed Myers' Royal Spice for the rest of the winter—see how much better the horses are—how easily they do hard work—and how much less your feed bills come to. Let us send our illustrated booklet on horses and cattle. It is free—but very interesting and handy for reference.

KING DEAD AT DRESDEN.

Earthly End of the Monarch of Saxony Was Peaceful.

Dresden, Oct. 15.—King George of Saxony died at Pillnitz at 2.25 o'clock this morning. His end was peaceful. His son was present at the death-bed.

King George of Saxony, who was born at Pillnitz, on Aug. 8, 1852, succeeded to the throne on the death of his childless brother, Albert, on June 19, 1902. In May, 1859, he married at Lisbon, Marie Anna, a sister of the King of Portugal, who died in February, 1884. There were five children—the Princess Mathilde, Prince Frederick Augustus, the Princess Marie, Prince Jean-Georges and Prince Maximilian. In the war of 1870, King George held the rank of field marshal of the German army. He was taken ill in the early part of last June.

Another Insurrection.

Cape Haytien, Hayti, Oct. 14.—The Haytian exiles have gathered near the frontier preparing to re-enter Hayti and attempt an insurrection against President Nord in favor of Gen. Flinlin.

Revere Salmon Must Pay $800.

Hamilton, Oct. 14.—After deliberating for three hours a jury brought in a verdict of $800 for Miss Gawley, who sued Revere Salmon, Blinbrook, for $10,000. After promising to marry Miss Gawley, the aged revere flitted her because his sisters were opposed to the match.

Giving a Mandate.

London, Oct. 14.—(O. A. F.)—Hon. Mr. Asquith, addressing his constituents at Leven, Pife, said that to vote for Premier Balfour was giving away the key of the citadel and giving a mandate to assemble a colonial conference on a preferential basis.

CORRESPONDENTS' LETTERS

VICTORIA ROAD.

(Special to The Post.)
Dental—Dr. Bowman will visit Victoria Road on Tuesday, Nov. 1st, instead of Nov. 3rd, on account of election day being on the first Thursday of the month.—w.t.

OMEMEE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Col. Sam Hughes has the full of the Redoubt and military enthusiasts and others. The military men were the only ones that really enjoyed the dry jokes of his great victories achieved. Want to see Mr. Robt. Kennedy, of Lindsay, as to how it was so many victories were won with such a small handful of men. The village of Omemee was well represented at the Hughes' meeting. A large number of ladies were present, consequently the cheerers were weak. Johnston Ellis, S. J. Fox, M.P.P., Major Neil, and Dr. Cameron acted as chairman.

Farmers are very busy at the root crops.

COBOCONK.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
An entertainment and supper under the auspices of the ladies of the English church congregation was held here on Tuesday evening. It was voted by all a success, both as to attendance, and the bill-of-fare provided. The weather being all that could be desired the young people for miles around took advantage of the excellent road condition and came out in their might, to participate in what was expected to be one of the most pleasant outings of the season. The Rev. Mr. Chafee and his extended party, and the manager in which the ladies disappeared was nothing short of marvellous. A lightning artist from Lindsay, did duty at the carving table, and those who watched his performance voted him a star in his line, yet his skill was not able to cope with the demand. However, there was no disappointment. The musical portion of the program was a leading feature of the evening, a number from a distance taking part. Miss Braudon, of Canby, in her vivacious and delightful manner, gave a very much enjoyed. The Cobocconk brass band rendered several selections in first-class style. Mr. J. C. Crawford, of Lindsay, acted as the master of ceremonies, and proved himself a professional at the business. The receipts from the sale of tickets on the quiet amounted to something over $200, the evening's receipts being in the neighborhood of $50. Among the ladies who worked most assiduously to make the affair a success may be mentioned the names of Thos. E. Jackson, of the Pacific House, Mrs. Walter Innes, Mrs. Ham, Mrs. Elliott and others, whose names we did not learn. After a vote of thanks had been tendered to those from a distance, who took part in the gathering dispersed.

LORNEVILLE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Mr. Wilfrid Coe has secured a position as grain buyer for Mr. Jos. G. Ayers at Portage Road. He left here on Monday to prepare for a good season's business. Inspector Stevens made his official visit to our school on Wednesday of last week. The steam shovel is at present operating in the cut west of the village. This cut was widened and dug out last summer, but was abandoned last fall without having been completed. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Coed, were in Lindsay lately, attending the funeral of their brother-in-law, the late Thos. Sadler, a well known and well thought of citizen.

Mr. Ben Stacey transacted business in Lindsay lately. The following is a statement of Lorneville cemetery for the month of Sept: Total lbs. of cream, $699.90; total lbs. of fat in cream, 13022.2; total lbs. of butter, 1253; lbs. of butter from 1 lb. of fat 1.18; average price of butter 18.9; total money received for butter $2994.42; manufacturing expenses $498.85; total money due patrons $2495.57; Average price of fat paid patrons 18.4; Lorneville Curling Association held in Toronto.

LITTLE BRITAIN.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Mr. H. Metcalf and Mr. Victor Pogue drove out to Raglan last Sunday on business. Colonel Hughes, the Conservative candidate for the coming election, held a meeting in our hall on Tuesday night of this week. There was a fair crowd out but was composed mostly of the Reform party. The most esteemed speaker of the occasion was young Mr. Lunney, one of our Mariposa boys. The meeting closed with three cheers for Mr. McLaughlin and Laurier, and a small cheer for "Sammy."

Rev. W. Wickert occupied our Methodist pulpit Sunday morning last. He delivered a fine sermon, relished much by his old friends. Don't forget the grand concert given in our hall on the moonlight night of the 25th of this month. Mr. Jas. Fax, who we all know as one of Canada's best comic singers, will be present, and George Sweeney, a fine musician on the banjo, mandolin and guitar, will be present. Miss Muriel Clark, our local whistler, and Miss Scott, will also be present.

Miss Lilla Glass has been visiting friends at Raglan for the past few weeks. Mr. Loy Rogers and Mr. Will DeShane took a drive out to Port Perry on Sunday last to visit their various friends.

Mr. Joseph Fleury, of Lindsay, who has been out in our vicinity buying stock, shipped a carload last week. Several of our people attended Mr. Wm. Cornish's sale last week. Mr. Cornish, who secured the residence of Mr. Isaac Irwin in our burg, and intends moving in soon. We are sure he will have a hearty reception.

—Fenelon Falls Star: Mr. John Wardrobe, of Rosedale, spent Wednesday at the Falls. Mrs. H. McDougall spent a few days in Lindsay this week, the guest of Mrs. Bigelow. The many friends of Mr. Thos. Sadler, of Lindsay, heard with deep regret of his death on Tuesday. Mr. Sadler was a native of the L.L. & P. Co. of Lindsay, whose power house is located in Fenelon Falls. He was well known and highly respected here, and the sympathy of the public is extended to his widow and family.

Wipe Allendale off the Map.

Barrie Advance: Ald. Barwick and Strange moved that the mayor be authorized to request the Grand Trunk Railway to change the name of Allendale on their time-tables and sign boards to Barrie Junction, and that the government be requested to change the name of the post office accordingly, seeing that the municipality no longer exists.—Carried.

APPENDICITIS.

The Most Dreaded Disease of Civilization is the condition known as appendicitis. Once fully established, nothing was remedy but the cold knife. It has been thought that this inflammation was caused by seeds or foreign bodies entering the appendix, but this theory is long exploded.

The cause of appendicitis is enlargement of the bowels, constipation and the gases which are formed in consequence produce germs known to the scientific physician as the Bacilli Communis. Now to avoid this formation of the germs, constipation and the resulting inflammation, take Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills, which have been tested in all the various diseases of the stomach, bowels and liver, and found to be the greatest and best preventive remedy known.

You may be very sick at night; Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills make you well in the morning. They will quickly and permanently cure.

OPS TOWNSHIP LEGISLATORS

ROADS TO BE IMPROVED UNDER GOOD ROADS SYSTEM

Selected at Last Meeting—Ratepayers to Vote Upon the Scheme.
Ops (Council held a regular meeting on Monday last, Oct. 17th, all members present. After the reading and adoption of the minutes of last meeting the Clerk read the following Communications.

A notice from Stewart & O'Connor, in reference to Mr. Primeau's accident.

A statement from the County Clerk giving amounts available for expenditure in every municipality under the proposed County Road System.

A statement from the Township Engineer awarding the cost of survey on 8th con. road at lots 11 and 12.

Letters from Thos. J. Mohr and Mary O'Connor, stating that they had removed obstructions off Queen-st., east, as ordered by Council.

Road and Other Grants.

Mr. Wm. J. McNeve, on recommendation of Council was allowed $6, being one-third of the cost of cleaning out the road ditch west of his farm, lot 10, con. 9.

Mr. John Curthwaite was on motion allowed $10, being part of the expense of putting in 8 inch tile across the 3rd con. road at lot 14, and also for putting in 3 inch tile across the road at lot 21, con. 9.

Geo. Murphy asked for bonus for 23 rods of wire fence on north side of 2nd gr. line, 5th con. Mr. Coulter, Commissioner, said his supply of wire was exhausted, and he did not know whether Council would order more fencing or not. (The Council afterwards decided to pay a bonus of $30, not more, where commissioners deemed a wire fence necessary, rather than order any more fence material for this season.)

The Reeve explained that Michael Hogan, tenant lot 21, con. 3, wanted the use of the township grader, and a man to handle it, for a day or longer, to remove banks of mucky earth from the edge of Drain No. 1, on said lot. On motion of Messrs. Reid and Best, the request was granted.

Mr. Coulter moved, seconded by Mr. Roche, that the Engineer's account for survey on 8th con. roadway be paid, and that the Clerk notify the land owners concerned to pay their respective shares of the same as per award of the Engineer.—Carried.

Messrs. Peter, Fisher and Thos. Croxall asked the Council to confer with Engineer's survey, being of opinion that the line as now located is wrong. None of the landowners adjoining wants more land than his own. Mr. Reid had applied for the Engineer for the purpose of locating a permanent wire fence that he might not trespass on the road, but since by the line now run his fence will nearly reach the centre of the travelled road he is willing to build it east of or outside the road ditch on condition that the other landowners adjoining move their fences accordingly. (The case is one that may be easily settled by the owners concerned, otherwise application must be made to the Minister of Crown Lands to locate said road at their expense without appeal. In order to prevent this expense of such a course, a motion by Messrs. Coulter and Roche that Commissioners Hawkes and Best view the situation and effect an amicable settlement of the matter was unanimously carried.

County Road Matters.

Since the members of the several Municipal Councils of the County were nearly all in favor of a County Road System being adopted for Victoria, it was agreed that each township Council would forward to the county the required amount of the mileage required in each township. The following is a list for Ops township:

4th gr. line west of Lindsay to Mariposa boundary, and east of Lindsay to Emily boundary.
(The Little Britain road from corporation of Lindsay to Glanville.)

The Boundary road from corporation of Lindsay by way of 6th con. 5th gr. line and 8th con. line, to Fenelon boundary.
(The Fenelon road from corporation of Lindsay by way of 4th con. line, 5th gr. line, and 3rd con. line, to Fenelon boundary.)

The Mariposa and Janetville road, from Lindsay to Janetville corner, from Mr. Rober or Hill Road road from Pottery corner by way of Cunningham's old shop to Hawkins' corner at the junction of 2nd gr. line, and 7th con. road.

The Reabrore and Omemee road, continued from Hawkins' corner eastward on 2nd gr. line to connect with the Omemee road running s. e. from Reabrore.

Total length, 28 miles.

A resolution was passed instructing the Clerk to forward the list to the County Clerk, that an estimate of the cost might be made by Provincial Commissioners Campbell, Township Reeves and others, now about to travel over the listed roads of the County for that purpose, and that the adoption of the system should have the approval of the ratepayers.

Sundry Items.

On motion of Messrs. Hawkins and Coulter, the following certified accounts were paid:
County Treas., for work on E. C. C. bridge..... $23.47
John McSweeney, solicitor, on acct..... 10.00
Geo. Smith, Engineer, survey..... 21.50
Jos. Green, flour, Mrs. Powell..... 5.80
W. P. O'Boyle, Clerk, postage..... 2.00

Mr. Coulter said there was a very dangerous outlier at the Pottery corner crossing, and the Clerk was instructed to notify the R. R. Co. to have it repaired at once.

The Council adjourned about 7 p. m., not to meet till December 15th unless necessarily requires it.

W. F. O'BOYLE, Clerk.

Clothing Wanted.

The Children's Aid Society will be pleased to receive clothing new or second hand, suitable for an infant about three months old. Parcels may be sent to the society's room in the market buildings, or will be gratefully received if the address be sent to the secretary.

What is Happening in Town and the Country About Us.

—Magnificent fall weather, isn't it? —It's a go—McLaughlin by a big majority.

—Get your gun ready for the deer hunting season.

—A number of farmers are delivering supplies of apples to customers in town.

—Remember the Victoria Loan & Savings Co. still pay 3 1/2 per cent. on deposit.—w.t.

—The ladies of the Cambridge-st. Methodist church will hold their annual tea on Tuesday, Nov. 15th.

—Mr. A. E. Gregory, druggist, has erected two new awnings, which are raised and lowered by a new process.

—Lever's Y-Z (Wise Head) Disinfectant Soap Powder is better than other powders, as it is both soap and disinfectant.

—Bring in your Chickens and Hens—highest prices. Don't wait to Kill them—bring them alive. Flavell's Limited.—w.t.

—The Belleville Intelligencer has entered upon the 71st year of publication. The daily has been in existence for 37 years.

—Coops supplied at our Poultry Department for your Chickens and Hens. Highest prices paid. Flavell's Limited.—w.t.

—Farmers should take advantage of the Victoria Loan & Savings Co.'s office hours—open from 9 a.m. to 4.30 p.m. every legal day.—w.t.

—The cool weather is leading up to lively scenes in the kitchens. The domestics are busy men these days, as citizens all want their stoves put up at once.

—THE MAJORITY of farmers admit that the office hours of the Victoria Loan & Savings Co. are a decided advantage to them. 9 a.m. to 4.30 p.m. daily.—w.t.

—The Trent Valley Navigation Co's steamer, Manita will cease her regular trips for the season October 21st, and will sail for Lindsay on Saturday night, 22nd inst.—22w.

—"Way down East," was greeted with a fairly large audience at the Academy of Music, Saturday evening. The scenery was fine and the actors were first-class.

—Did you notice that the hunting season has been extended till Nov. 20th? This will give the hunters a chance to stay home and give their vote for the Liberal cause.

—Mr. David Hudson, bricklayer, is erecting a substantial brick home for himself, east of the C.P.R. track and south of the G.T.R. bridge. It fronts on Logie-st., but is set well back.

—The result of the elections will make no difference in the rate of interest allowed by the Victoria Loan & Savings Co. 3 1/2 per cent. on deposit and 4 per cent. on debenture.—22w.

—If parties having cast-off clothing they wish to donate to the poor will kindly drop a card to the Salvation Army, the articles will be called for and distributed among the deserving.

—The full collection which the scholars of Cambridge-st. Methodist Sunday school, are giving to Mr. John Palmer, who is a patient in the Winnipeg hospital, has now reached over $42.

—The regular monthly meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Women's Auxiliary will be held in the parlors on Monday afternoon, October 20th, at half-past three o'clock. A full attendance is requested.

—Mr. Abe Warren, of the east end livery, has swept the honors at all the leading fairs in this district with his handsome pair of blacks. He was successful in carrying off ten first prizes and two seconds.

—Mr. J. Howzer, a well known man among our Lindsay citizens, has started up a general store on William-st., in the adjoining premises to Mr. A. C. Babcock, Clothing, stationery, etc., will be sold.

—Mr. John Reynolds, ice dealer, is at work on the frame of what will be a substantial and roomy ice house in which to store an extra quantity during the coming winter. It is situated on the river bank south of the pump house.

—A large tea and concert will be held in the Methodist church at Cambridge on Monday, Oct. 24th. A good tea and program is promised, and there will be a large attendance from all points in the vicinity, as a good time is assured.

—The Light, Heat & Power Co. had a gang of men at work Sunday, replacing a number of electric poles and lamps to the centre of the street, in conformity with their contract. The work could not be done on a week day, owing to the power having to be on.

—The butternut, beechnut and chestnut trees are being sought and destroyed by the smart boys these days. On Sunday last a great number of boys went out to the several bushes to enjoy a feast of beechnuts, Hutton's grove being the principle foraging place.

—Mr. M. E. Tagney, owner of the building on Lindsay-st. formerly known as Brown's hotel, has rented several suites of rooms to parties unable to secure houses. Many people are wishing that he would turn the building into a flat residence and introduce a system of steam heating.

—A steam threshing engine going down our main thoroughfare one evening caused a number of horses to jerk at their tie straps. One of the horses broke away, but was caught at Brillon Bros' corner. At this season the steam threshers are more to be dreaded than the automobile on our roads, but it fills a more useful place in the public economy.

—The Ross Memorial Hospital ambulance made a trip around town Monday afternoon and about 4.30 was driven to the hospital, where Mr. Robt. Chambers took a photographer, the vehicle and the staff of nurses, and Superintendent, Miss Scott. The ambulance looks fine and is certainly a credit to the builder, Mr. R. Kyle.

The five team of black ponies driven by Mr. Jewett and owned by Lindsay Bros., showed up well. Our hospital governors are to be congratulated on the magnificent gift placed at their disposal, we are informed.

TRENT VALLEY CANAL WORK

BROWN AND AYLMER'S SECTION CONNECTED WITH LAKE SIMCOE

Concrete Work of Kirkfield Lift Lock is about Completed.

Mr. J. A. Aylmer, of the firm of Brown & Aylmer, contractors for the construction of the Lake Simcoe division of the Trent Valley canal, was in town yesterday. He reports construction work as well advanced on his section of about seven miles, which includes five locks, three dams and two piers or breakwaters to form an entrance to and an exit from the canal. These piers are of concrete and contain 5,000 odd cubic yards. At the shore line at the Canal outlet, they are fifty feet apart and extend outward to a distance each of 800 feet till their outer terminus are 300 feet apart. This forms a capacious receiving basin. There is some work to do on the gates of the locks and details incident to a work of this kind to be looked after. Mr. Aylmer expects to have his contract completed early next summer.

The adjoining section under Larkins & Sangster, contractors, is a similar forward state. The lift lock at Kirkfield is completed so far as the concrete work is concerned, and now ready for the iron work. If this is finished in time the canal from Balsam Lake to Lake Simcoe will be opened next summer and then we shall have continuous navigation from Healey's Falls to Orillia, Barrie, etc. The Trenton section will be built next and it won't be long till Peterboro has water connection with Montreal and Quebec—and Liverpool.—Saturday's Peterboro Examiner.

The House of Refuge.

The County House of Refuge is fast taking on a finished appearance. Since the walls were completed only sixteen bricklayers and helpers have been employed. These men are busily engaged in putting up the chimneys, one of which is over the boiler room and is a large one. Carpenters are getting ready for the slate roofing. Contractor McLean expects the slaters to commence their work this week. Two iron stairways have been erected at the south and north sides of the building for use as fire escapes. The building itself is of red brick and is of large size. It commands a good view of all the surrounding country. Mr. L. Newton started the work of pointing the window sills and frames yesterday. Contractor McLean is rushing the work forward rapidly, and when completed the building will be a fine one and a credit to the

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

No one who is acquainted with its good qualities can be surprised at the great and wide-spread popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only cures colds and grip effectually and permanently, but prevents these diseases from returning by pneumonia. It is also a certain cure for croup. Whooping cough is not dangerous when this remedy is given. It contains no opium or harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. It is also pleasant to take. When all of these facts are taken into consideration it is not surprising that people in foreign lands, as well as at home, esteem this remedy very highly and very few are willing to take any other after having once used it. For sale by all druggists.

WELCOME PREMIER

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Addresses Meetings at Four Points.

EXETER AND CLINTON, WINGHAM AND LUCKNOW

A Revelation of the Premier's Physical Fitness Gratifying to His Friends and Disconcerting to His Opponents—An Eloquent Plea For Unity—A Dignified Statement of His Devotion to Canada.

Lucknow, Oct. 18.—To those who have been inclined to give credence to the stories in the Opposition press concerning his health, the record made by Sir Wilfrid Laurier yesterday will be a revelation as gratifying to his friends as it will be disconcerting to his opponents. Starting from London at an early hour, he spoke to the electors of four different points, Exeter, Clinton, Wingham and Lucknow, received the greetings of his enthusiastic supporters at many other stations along the line, and started on the return journey to London last night, full of vigor and in buoyant spirits. His reception at Lucknow, the centre of a large Scotch settlement noted for its loyalty to Scottish ideals and to the great principles of Liberalism and freedom which are characteristic of the race, was especially gratifying to the Premier.

Eloquent Appeal For Unity.

At that town he spoke for nearly an hour and a half, and made an eloquent appeal for unity and harmony between the different races which have contributed to the composition of the Canadian people. With emphasis he declared that when the grave had closed over his mortal remains, his friend and foe alike will be compelled to admit that, of French-Canadian blood, his life had been devoted to the best interests of the Dominion, and that he had never stirred the passion or prejudice of race or creed, but had always appealed to the people of his native Province upon the broad principles of the great Reform party, God having made him a Liberal of the English school of Fox, Gladstone and Bright.

At Wingham and Clinton there were also great demonstrations in honor of Sir Wilfrid and his estimable wife, who is his inseparable companion in the campaign and who shares with him the affections of the people of Ontario. At Exeter and other stations along the line Sir Wilfrid was given gratifying evidence of the popularity of his Administration and assurances of the continued confidence of the people.

Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier will leave London for Uxbridge this morning. En route they will stop over at Woodstock and pay a visit to Hon. James Sutherland, the state of whose health is unfortunately such as to preclude him from taking any active part in the campaign.

The Exeter Demonstration.

At Exeter there was a striking demonstration, and nearly a thousand people from the town and surrounding townships of Uxbridge, Hay and Stephen had gathered at the station. As soon as the train came to a standstill there was a rush for the car, and Sir Wilfrid's appearance upon the rear platform was greeted with a great outburst of cheering. A local committee, composed of J. G. Stanbury, Secretary of the Liberal Association; D. McInnes, Uxbridge; W. Hewson, Exeter, and C. Lewis, Crediton, boarded the car and conveyed to the premier assurances of the loyalty of the Liberals of South Huron. "Glad to see you," shouted an enthusiastic admirer, and the crowd echoed the sentiment with a hearty cheer. "I am equally glad to see you all," replied the Premier, who, in reply to the instant demonstration, made four and a half-minute speeches characteristic of him.

POISONED ARROWS.

Fool Campaigning Against Hon. A. B. Aylesworth in Bowmanville.

Bowmanville, Oct. 18.—That even a man's religion is not sacredly exempt from the slanderous attacks of his political opponents is proved by the latest device to defeat Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, as exposed at a rousing meeting of his supporters here last night. A circular postcard has been sent out from Bowmanville, avowing that Mr. Aylesworth is an Atheist. The charge was the subject of extremely touching remarks by the candidate last night, when he repelled the insinuation and referred, with an emotion that broke his voice for the time, to the sainted mother now passed away, and who he said he was glad was not here to hear of such a charge. Mr. Aylesworth's explanation was heard by many with an emotion scarcely less manifest than his own. Although the circular was not read at the meeting, the following is given by one who saw a copy of the wording of it: "Are you aware that Mr. Aylesworth, like Sir William Mulock, is an avowed Atheist, that he boasts that he is too busy a man to attend any church, and he gives his support to none? You need not take my word for it; inquire for yourself." (Signed) S. Smith."

Tarte Not to Run.

Montreal, Oct. 18.—Hon. Mr. Tarte will not be a candidate at the coming election. This decision is announced yesterday as follows in La Patrie: "Mr. Tarte has just made known to a group of his friends that he has come to the definite decision not to contest a seat at the present election."

Imposed Heavy Fine.

Woodstock, Oct. 17.—John Koch, hotel-keeper, of Drumbo, was fined $50 and costs by Magistrate Ball in the police court Friday night for selling liquor without a license.

A Surprising Change.

Mary had a little lamb,
It had a fleecy coat,
She did not care to raise it, so
She changed it for a goat.
She tried to lead it by a string,
Ere she a word could utter,
She learned a most surprising thing,
The goat had turned to butt her.

Injured in a Runaway.

About half-past ten p.m. Sunday a heavy horse owned by Mr. Armstrong got beyond control of Mr. Marshall Bell, on Sussex-st., while he was assisting an occupant out of the buggy. The horse and rig dashed along Glenelg-st., and at the corner of Cambridge-st. the rig upset. Mr. Geo. Lindsay, who lives on the corner heard the noise and rushed out to stop the horse, but in the attempt he was knocked down and trampled on by the animal. He received a few severe injuries and cuts on the head.

Too Much Home Work.

(Toronto Telegram.)
Perfection does not dwell in the school system that keeps young children drudging over their home work for hours every night.

Education should not come so easily that it will not be appreciated. Nor should education come through the stress and struggle and toil that wears out the health of a child. A grown man can get a living in eight hours' work per day, and a growing child should be able to get an education in something less than five hours in school and four hours home work.

Ecclesiastical Law for Canada.

(Ottawa Journal, Saturday.)

Delegates from the ecclesiastical provinces of the Dominion of Canada are in session at the Archbishop's Palace to-day, having assembled yesterday to prepare matters for the First Plenary Council of Canada. The Province of Quebec is governed, ecclesiastically, by the regulations of the Council of Trent, but Ontario and the rest of Canada is governed by the Propaganda at Rome, as those provinces have not been canonically erected. It is expected that the plenary council will be called in January. Owing to the great importance of the business before the delegates and the many details to be discussed, it is not likely they will conclude their business before the end of next week. Delegates are present from the following ecclesiastical districts:—Toronto, Kingston, Ottawa, St. Boniface, Vancouver Island, Halifax, Montreal and Quebec. The delegates from Kingston are Very Rev. John Masterson, V. G., Kingston, and Ven. Arcandineau D. J. Casey, P. F., Lindsay.

BANQUET AT MONTREAL

The Citizens of the City Honor Lord and Lady Minto.

Montreal, Oct. 14.—A farewell banquet was tendered at the Windsor Hotel last night by the citizens of Montreal to Lord and Lady Minto. It was a brilliant affair, a large number of Montreal's most prominent citizens being present. The chair was occupied by Mayor Laporte, and at the head table sat the Earl of Minto, Sir Louis Jetté, Archbishop Bruchesi, Bishop Carmichael, Senator MacKay, Justice Curran, Sir Alex. LaCasse, Sir George A. Drummond, Sir Montague Allan, Sir William Kingston, Hon. J. I. Tarte, E. S. Clouston and others.

The toast to the guest of honor was proposed by Archbishop Bruchesi. A civic address was also read to Lord Minto by Sir Louis Jetté. In reply the Earl of Minto said that he deeply appreciated the honor that had been shown to both himself and Lady Minto. He had served Canada at a time that was full of incident. His course had been run, the nasty places all passed, whether or not it was good was not for him to say, but after all it was only the first heat in the great Imperial stakes, and it rested with the people of Canada and Great Britain to bring it to a successful end.

Canada had made great progress in Imperial things. Now a great statesman across the seas was doing all within his power to direct into one common channel the destinies of the motherland and her self-governing colonies. His Lordship said that he had traveled over all of Canada, and he could give personal testimony of the great future that lay before her. He would always bear happy recollections of his service in Canada, and if he had won the appreciation of the people he would consider himself amply rewarded.

Canadian Boat Launched.

London, Oct. 17.—(C. A. P.)—The twin screw ice-breaker Montcalm, built for the Canadian Government, was launched on Saturday.

The Slocum Disaster.

New York, Oct. 12.—The report of the Gen. Slocum Commission was made public yesterday. In connection with the important findings of the Commission, presented in the report, President Roosevelt, to whom the report was submitted, has written a letter to Secretary Metcalf of the Department of Commerce and Labor, briefly summarizing the report and directing him to carry into effect the recommendations of the Commission. He also directs that Robert S. Rodie, supervising inspector of the second district steamboat inspection service, and James A. Dumont and Thomas H. Barrett, local inspectors, in charge of the port of New York, be discharged from the service, the Commission holding them directly responsible for the laxity of the steamboat inspection to which the Slocum disaster was directly attributable.

May Not Survive Night.

London, Oct. 17.—There has been no change in the condition of Rev. M. C. Baldwin, Bishop of Huron. It is thought by attending physicians he is holding his own, but is very low, and grave doubts at midnight were entertained for his surviving the night. He has been unconscious since Friday morning.

Back From the Frozen North.

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—A. P. Lowe, the geologist and explorer, who accompanied the Neptune to Hudson Bay, and spent last winter and part of the summer there, is in Ottawa. Mr. Lowe refuses to talk for the present, but it is understood that in his explorations he went further north than Peary, the United States explorer. He is also said to have come across some of the remains of the Franklin expedition. Last summer Hudson Bay was open for fully four months, and Mr. Lowe believes that navigation can be maintained for four and a half months.

Magazine Blow Up.

New York, Oct. 12.—The powder magazine at the fort on Cochin's Island, near Pointe a Pitre, Guadeloupe, blew up Monday. One man was killed.

Named Self White Inmate.

Cornwall, Oct. 18.—While suffering from temporary insanity, Thomas Summers, a descendant of an old Gleggery family, hanged himself Sunday at the old homestead in Summerstown. The deed was committed with a sash, which was made fast to a transom over the door of his room. The body was quite cold when discovered by his sister. The deceased was about 60 years of age, and had paid a number of lengthy visits to Arizona and California, from one of which he returned a few days ago. The hamlet was named after his grandfather, who settled on the old stage road a century ago. No inquest was held.

Struck Dead in Fire.

New York, Oct. 18.—Six persons were suffocated and 15 were overcome by smoke in a fire which gutted a five-story brick double tenement house at 15 Moore street, Williamsburg, early yesterday. Two of the injured—a boy and a girl—will probably die.

Injured At Fire.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 18.—Fire in McLennan's paint works yesterday caused a loss estimated at $150,000. Lieut. Nichols Stessens and Pipeman John S. Smith were injured, both seriously, but will probably recover.

Challenges Robertson.

London, Oct. 18.—(C. A. P.)—Conductor Griffiths of the Kilties Band, replying to Major Robertson's letter, published in the London newspapers, challenges the major to produce any printed or written announcements issued by the band claiming connection with the 48th or any other Canadian regiment.

Murder and Suicide.

New York, Oct. 17.—Charles Pfefferman, a fruit dealer of this city, and Miss Cora Kipling, were found dead early yesterday in Pfefferman's apartments in East 78th street. Both had been shot in the right temple, and the coroner announced that it was a case of murder first and suicide after.

Canadian Shoes vs. American Shoes.

Rapid construction, exterior beauty, and instability are characteristics in the production of U. S. Shoes.

In addition to the extra freight charges, U. S. Shoes must pay 25 per cent duty before entering Canada. The maker must either reduce the quality or the dealer must raise the price in proportion.

The characteristics of Canadian Shoes are solid service, comfort, and necessary but not abnormal finish.

The cost of labor in producing Canadian Shoes is less than that of the U. S., on account of the lower cost of living.

Canadian Footwear leads the world for wear, comfort and style combined. Why, then, patronize a foreign industry?

THE SLATER SHOE for men, $3.50, $4.00, $5.00, and the NEILL SHOE for women, $3.00, $3.50, $4.00, are made in Canada for Canadians, and represent the skill and labor of the most expert Canadian workmen.

CORRESPONDENTS' LETTERS

LORNEVILLE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Jessie Alexander (Mrs. Chas. Roberts), with other high class talent, has been engaged for a Recital on Friday evening, Oct. 23rd, under auspices of the Presbyterian Church Choir at Woodville.—w2.

GELERT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
A large number from here took in the Kimmupoint Fair and report a lively time.
Mr. E. Train, of Toronto, has purchased the Thompson house and opened up a Temperance house.
Mrs. Geo. Dawkins and Mrs. S. Hughes are away on a visit to Picton.

Mr. Dave Barry is down from Temiskaming on a visit.
Mr. Jack Howard has moved his family to Lindsay.
A concert will be held in Scott's hall, Thursday, 13th, inst., with Miss Kelling, of Buffalo, as entertainer.

Work on the new English church is progressing rapidly and it will present quite a handsome appearance when completed.
A number of delegates from here attended the Liberal convention at Lindsay on Tuesday.

MOUNT HOREB.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
The farmers of this vicinity are well on with their ploughing.
Mr. Herman Hart and Mr. Robt. McGill, are doing a rushing business in this neighborhood in the line of threshing.

It is our sad duty to chronicle the death of Mr. John Maitland, of Muncey. The funeral, which went to Omeuca cemetery, was largely attended, considering the unfavorable day. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved family which consists of Mrs. Richard Skene, of Emily, and Mr. and Miss Marilla Maitland.
No doubt, but a number of our people will attend the dinner at Fleetwood.

Mr. Wm. Jackson wears a happy smile on his face over the arrival of a young son.

The funeral of Mr. Wm. Myers, passed through our village last week. Mr. Myers came to a sad death, while walking along the new railway track at Burketon, he being run over by the train and badly mangled.

REABORO.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Mr. D. McMann is the proud possessor of a beautiful black pacer that is likely to show up well on the racing course ere long.
It was found in the vicinity of Cold Springs, in the Co. of Northumberland.

The candidature of Mr. R. J. McLaughlin for the Commons is looked upon with much favour in this neighborhood. His many sterling qualities will entitle him to the hearty support of Liberals on both sides of politics.

Miss Beatrice Hickson, of Brockville, has been visiting at the home of her mother, during the past two weeks.

Miss Thymidike, of Millbrook, visited her cousin, Miss Mabel Thorne, for some days recently.

The young men of Reaboro can set the pace for other villages and some of the larger towns in looking after the comfort of visitors who attend service in the church. Every well managed church should have an usher or two, and you are glad to see some of our young men take the initiative.

OMEMEE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
The Bible Society services in the Anglican church on Sunday, October 9th, were largely attended and the interest shown was marked. The three resident ministers conducted the services.

The anniversary services of the Presbyterian church takes place on Sunday, 30th, instead of 23rd, owing to unavoidable reasons. There will be visiting ministers and an excellent musical service by the choir.

There were quite a few visited Lindsay, Tuesday, Oct. 11th, taking advantage of the reduced rate to attend the Reform Convention. The delegates returned highly pleased and satisfied with the proceedings. The best feeling prevailed over the unanimous choice of the candidate, who will receive strong support in this district.

Our young ladies and gentlemen find the new sidewalk available for love's parades and rambles, and remarks from some of them go to show that they will soon set down and assist in paying for them.
Mr. Joseph Graham and Miss Shaw were married on Tuesday and have gone out to the Coast for a trip. They were both very respected parties and former citizens here, but more recently of Peterboro.
(Too late for last week.)

HEAD LAKE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
It is our sad duty to record the death of Miss Mary McFadden, daughter of Mr. Patrick McFadden, of Digby township. The young lady had just been home from Peterboro one short month. She was not feeling well, but still no fears of anything serious were entertained by the family, until suddenly she became very ill and Dr. Grant, of Victoria Road, was summoned. He pronounced the disease to be brain fever and gave his faithful attention to the case, doing everything that medical aid could do, but the edict had gone forth and despite faithful nursing by her sister, Mrs. Jas. Blake, of Lindsay, who never left her bedside, and indeed that of every member of the family, she passed away on the evening of Oct. 5th, leaving great sorrow in the hearts of all who knew her.

The brothers who were summoned from a distance were Mr. P. H. McFadden, of Ohio, and Mr. John McFadden, of Percy township, Hastings County. They arrived in time to attend the funeral, which took place to the R. C. cemetery, Victoria Road, and was very largely attended, as all who knew her esteemed and loved her. Many relatives and friends from Peterboro and Lindsay will be grieved to hear of Miss McFadden's early death, as she was only twenty-two years old, which fully illustrates the proverb, "The good die young." May her soul rest in peace.

The Foundation Stones of the Ford Business.

The laws of Nature make it necessary to build a sure and solid foundation before we can go ahead, and the laws of excellence make it necessary to lean on reputation if we'd be certain. Realizing these facts to be true, we've started out with a determination to build and conduct our future business on the foundation stones of

Honesty (everything) Truthfulness (in our advertisements and behind the counter) Fair Dealing (throughout the store) Broad

Methods (in the management) Reliable Merchandise (in everything we sell) Cash System (in buying and selling)

One Price (the lowest possible) Money Back (for any reasonable cause) Courteous Treatment (alike to all)

Good Work (and we are trying to do it). The execution of these foregoing principles would make ideal store-keeping. We aim to have thus perfect store-keeping and we strive to surround ourselves with all these attributes essential to accomplish our ideal. By performances rather than promises will you understand our earnestness in this direction. But we don't pretend to have a flawless system—where is the human system that is?

The long forward look marks our ideas; their realization depends, first, on our worthiness; second on your appreciation. What if the road be long and hard. Don't over-pity. Encourage.

Our Confidence in Lindsay.

Confidence is an all over feeling that makes us unafraid. We have confidence in Lindsay, confidence in ourselves and confidence in our public. The town of Lindsay and the surrounding country is one of the best in the Province. No-body gets rich in a colony of poverty. But remember this store has neither patents nor monopoly on the wealth of this surrounding country. It's success depends on the legitimate inducements it offers you and if we cannot secure your trade honestly we're going to do without it—but we do want your confidence and deserved good will.

Our Advertisements.

Truthfulness is and always will be the cardinal feature of our daily announcement. We will take the mystery out of advertising by telling you the easy, understandable truth. Simply a plain statement of facts backed up by deeds in our store from now till the end of the chapter. That's good enough for us.

The Quality of our Merchandise

On this point we have the most positive convictions: No doubtful goods of any sort whatever will pass through our hands unless perchance by accident. This business is not launched with the mere thought of profit for to-day, to-morrow or yesterday, but a concern that hopes to endure for many years to come. There is but one way that will stand this test and that is by offering at all times merchandise that will not only sell but satisfy. Which we will aim to do under any and all circumstances. All our goods are guaranteed to be as represented.

The Benefits of Our Cash System.

We sell strictly for instant cash! Why? First—Because we want to surround our customers with every safeguard to their interest. For if you have an eye on business and choose to be independent and under no annoying obligation to your merchant you'll pay cash. Second—Because credit is no real advantage to you—the bills have to (or ought to be) paid sometime and if you buy goods here you have no trouble or worry over disputed accounts.

Third—It's your interest to study cash habits—they are the best, because the cheapest. In the credit store you pay the long price on your merchandise and in this way you pay for the freaks of credit shrouled up in book accounts worth 90c down to 10c on the dollar and thus you pay for those who don't pay.

Fourth—Because as we buy for cash in big quantities with a syndicate of other cash stores we secure extra trade discounts that enables us to quote such prices as induce you to buy to save money.

Selling for instant cash enables us to do with smaller profits, lessens our expenses and saves losses. Cash then surely gets extraordinary value when we buy; when you buy.

Our Only One Price Policy.

Some stores think it right to charge any price they can get. And the queer part of it is that some customers seem to agree with them and when they try to buy there you usually hear a sort of battle of wits between salesman and customer. Shrewdness and bargain making are not needed here. It is a plain, even sort of business—our prices are unchangeable, so that the little girl spending her birthday gift can buy at the same prices that we charge the hardest bargain driver.

When a merchant establishes and holds to a one-price system it follows that the prices put on his goods are low and fair, else he'd win no trade. This one price policy has been in effect since we've taken over the business and it will remain in this store as long as we do.

This is a Money Back Store.

We are trying our best to lessen exchanges and returns; but by being more careful in the first place; not by hiding behind any narrow reason for not trying again to suit you. We've adopted this plan instead of sending goods on approval, because it is more convenient for you and for us, then there is no possible chance of your being billed (and thus displeased) for some article that you had returned from approval of which we neglected to make a note of.

We would rather have one sale and a friend than two sales and only money.
Now if you come here and buy in haste or get goods unsuited to your needs you have only to notify the store within reasonable time after the purchase and ask the return of your money which will be cheerfully refunded in full, providing the goods are in perfect condition or have never been in use.

In case you forget your purse, or order any article over the phone we will be glad to send your purchases C. O. D.
This rule will apply to all alike and we are sure any reasonable person will agree with us that it is the best way after all. What could be more fair?

Navigation Notes.

—The Str. Alexandrina is towing cordwood to the back yards.
—Sturgeon Point residents will be without steamer service after Saturday. The Manika will make her final trip between Bobasagoon and Lindsay that day.

—Steamboat men should get together and petition for a lighthouse next season at the mouth end of the long cut. It would be a great convenience.
—Yacht owners complain that the millmen love the river channel in a foul condition Saturday nights and interfere with the movements of yachts next day.
—The light house has drifted away from its moorings at the mouth of the lower cut, and is now moored at Sturgeon Point, between Wakely's grocery and the sandbar.

Difference.

London, Oct. 18.—(C. A. P.)—Lord Hugh Cecil, in a letter to The Times, says a study of the whole of Premier Balfour and Mr. Chamberlain's speeches would, he thinks, intensify the impression that they fundamentally differ about the fiscal policy.

Forbids the Marriage.

Boston, Oct. 18.—The House of Bishops, one of the legislative bodies of the Episcopal Church Convention, yesterday adopted an amendment to the canon on marriage and divorce, forbidding the re-marriage of any divorced person.

Bremer Released.

Regina, Oct. 18.—F. S. Bremer was released at his trial in Regina yesterday, when charged with complicity in the Wilcox mail robbery, the crown dropping the case, believing Bremer did not know the money was stolen.

No One Opposed.

Hesperol, Oct. 18.—A bylaw to loan Clark & Demill of Galt, manufacturers of woodworking machinery, $20,000 to establish their plant here was carried at the polls yesterday by 264 votes for and none against.

Murder in a Church.

Charlotte, N. C., Oct. 18.—Clay Grubbs, a prominent distiller, shot and instantly killed O. L. Davis, his brother-in-law and former business partner, at Piney Church, Davidson County, Sunday. There had been blood between the two for some time. Davis leaves a family and was a man of wealth.

Bishop of Huron Still Lives.

London, Oct. 18, 2 a.m.—Dr. Moorehouse, who is attending the Bishop of Huron, states that the patient shows no change either for good or bad. His condition is the same as last night and may remain so for some time. There is no hope of his recovery.

One Big Raft.

Sarnia, Oct. 18.—The Reid tugs Salva and Ottawa brought a big raft of logs to this port on Sunday from Spanish River. The raft was consigned to the Cleveland saw mill and consisted of 3,000,000 feet.

Arrested At Hamilton.

Hamilton, Oct. 18.—Wm. Bragg, Toronto, was arrested last evening by Detective Miller and G.T.R. Constable Brine. He is charged with obtaining $66 by false pretences from the G.T.R.

Would Bind Nene.

London, Oct. 18.—(O.A.P.)—The Daily Chronicle says the creation of an Imperial Council such as is proposed by Sir Frederick Pollock, would bind none and derogate nothing from that complete independence of action the self-governing colonies so dearly prize, and which is the condition of their devotion to the Empire.

Lt.-Col. Reade Resigns.

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—Lieut.-Col. Reade is giving up his position of commandant of Kingston College next July. The term for which he was appointed does not expire until Jan. 19, but, at Lieut.-Col. Reade's own request, he will be allowed to go six months ahead of time. His successor has not been chosen.

Toronto Yongs St. Bridge.

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—(Globe Special.)—The Railway Department has issued an order for the two railway companies to bear the cost of constructing Yonge street bridge. The order, which bears date of Oct. 7, requires the work to be commenced on Oct. 15, 1904, and completed by April 15, 1905.

—Mr. Fred Buller, of the Canadian Northern R.R. offices, Toronto, spent Sunday with town friends.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Yerex and Miss L. Smith, of Little Britain, paid Lindsay friends a visit Saturday.

—Mr. Arthur Hooper, teacher at Pleasant Point, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hooper, Colborneast.

—Mrs. E. Myers, of Balsam Lake, who has been visiting friends at Mount Albert, is now the guest of Lindsay friends.

—Mr. Jas. H. Beatty, of Slavelly, South Alta., formerly of the Wakeley & Ford staff, is in town visiting friends for a few days.

—Mrs. R. Rutherford, of Fenelon Falls, and Mr. E. C. Rutherford, of Boston, were in town Friday, guests at the Simpson house.

—Miss Mayme Henderson, left Friday evening for the States where she will enter one of the leading hospitals as nurse in training.

—Miss Chinkens, trained nurse, returned to Yorkton, New York, after spending her vacation with Mr. and Mrs. L. McIntosh, Melbourn, Ont.

—Rev. Mr. Welch, pastor of the Baptist church, delivered an address at the 83rd anniversary services of the Baptist church at Claremont recently.

—The many friends of Mr. Rose Gubert will be pleased to learn that he is steadily improving after his attack of fever, and is now able to be out of doors.

—Conductor Les, Foley, who is in the employ of the C. P. R., at Moosejaw, is in town on a short vacation trip, and while here will enjoy a duck hunt. Les says that all the Lindsay boys out West, are doing well.

—Engineer J. E. Belcher, of Peterboro, was in town Saturday on his way home from Fenelon Falls, where he inspected the new power house being erected for the corporation by Mr. Wm. Kennedy, of Bobasagoon.

Borden's Best.

(Montreal Free Press.)
Mr. Borden is hardly setting the feather after these days in Ontario. He makes a respectable appearance on the platform with his decorous dail speeches. No doubt this is a case for the application of the principle of the motto displayed in the Western mining town church: "Please do not shoot the argonaut. He is doing the best he knows how."

RACIAL CRIES.

Our Protestant and English Speaking Cabinets.

The Hamilton Spectator, which took a conspicuous part in the campaign of 1900, in denouncing "French Mr. Tarte" and "disloyal Tarte" and "French Mr. Laurier," is at it again. This time there is no Mr. Tarte to exhibit as a French burlesque, but it is already ringing the changes on the "French Premier."

There may be some who read the Spectator and kindred journals, who are ignorant enough to believe what the Spectator desires to impress upon them; that is, that the Liberal Government in the Dominion is a "French" Government.

There is no justification for such a claim. On the score of nationality the French-Canadians present but a small showing. They are:

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Messrs. Prefontaine, Lemieux and Brodeur. The remainder of the Cabinet is composed of English speaking members, including Sir Richard Cartwright, Sir Frederick Borden, Messrs. Foulds, Sifton, Sutherland, Fisher, Mulock, Scott, Patterson, Hyman, Emmerson, and Templeman.

The same spirit of partisan animosity that has given birth to the attempt to arouse national prejudices against the Liberals, is seen in the appeals of Conservatives to sectarian sympathies by spreading reports that the Government is a Catholic Government. There is no more truth in that than there is in calling it a French Government. As might be expected, the Government includes members of almost every Christian denomination, the Protestants being in a large majority. Classified by religions, the members of the Cabinet stand as follows:

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Catholic.
Sir Wm. Mulock, Church of England.
Fitzpatrick, Catholic.
Foulds, Baptist.
Patterson, Presbyterian.
Brodeur, Catholic.
Sutherland, Presbyterian.
Prefontaine, Catholic.
Sir Frederick Borden, Church of England.
Sifton, Methodist.
Emmerson, Baptist.
Fisher, Church of England.
Scott, Catholic.
Hyman, Church of England.
Sir Richard Cartwright, recently retired, Church of England.
That is, eleven Protestants to four Catholics.—Sarnia Observer.

OBITUARY.

Mary Pearl Hutton, Town.

Death has visited many homes in town and country within the last few weeks, but to none has the shock been more sad than to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hutton, east ward, in the loss of their only daughter, Mary Pearl, which occurred on Oct. 11th, at the early age of 7 years and 6 months. Two years ago she was taken ill with diabetes and at that time they had the advice of all the town doctors, but none held out any hope of her recovery. But her parents still had hope, she kept up and was out walking with her mother on Sunday, which made the shock all the greater, when she was taken suddenly worse on Monday morning. Doctors were called but could give her no aid. She lingered until Tuesday evening at 8:30, when she passed away, and the sad news had to be broken to the grief-stricken parents that their household treasure was gone. That they had the sympathy of their friends and neighbors was evinced by the fact that from the time it was known she was ill, they were never left alone for a moment, and if the heartfelt sympathy of the community can be any comfort in their sad bereavement it is theirs.

The funeral took place to the R.C. cemetery yesterday (Thursday) morning, and was largely attended.

"There is not here, or in this country, a single man who does not feel prouder in his heart to call himself a Canadian than he was eight years ago."—Sir Wilfrid Laurier at Toronto.

Many Mothers of a Like Opinion.

Mrs. Pilmer, of Cordova, Iowa, says: "One of my children was subject to a cough of a severe type, and the giving of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy promptly, always brought relief. Many mothers in this neighborhood think the same as I do about this remedy and want no other kind for their children." For sale by all druggists.

Mr. J. H. Williams, who has been lying dangerously ill for the past few days, was at last accounts resting easily, but his condition is considered to be most serious.

Mr. Aylesworth's popularity is growing in this section day by day.
Many who were hitherto lukewarm in politics, have signified their intention of supporting him, as they consider it would be an honor to the constituency to be represented by one of the most popular and clever men in Canada to-day.

Mr. David Malcolm has been most unfortunate in having his team run away some four or five times of late.
In most cases they were caught by a plow or some other farm implement, and the more dangerous. Fortunately no particular harm was done.

Mr. John Prout had a similar experience to the above on one occasion, but fortunately the team, being unattached to any implement, and being within the confines of the farm, there are no casualties to report. The many are supposed to be responsible for the trouble.

Mr. H. Walker will leave for the Old Country next week, accompanied by his mother. He may remain away for the winter.

The Misses Treacher, of Tarnant, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J.
Emmerson for a few days last week.
Mr. and Mrs. Crockett, also of Tarnant, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Samways for some days last week.

Mr. Andrew Malcolm, who has lived long enough around the city to know the "ropes" pretty well, is doing a little in the produce line and has already made a few shipments of apples and potatoes. This will be appreciated by the farmers in this vicinity, who will find a ready market at their doors.

Mr. Richard Williams visited his friends across the lake on Sunday last. The day being ideal and the placid surface of the Scugog without a ripple, the outing was most thoroughly enjoyed.

Mr. Oswald McGill passed through our village on Monday morning, and had in his possession an American eagle which he had shot down by the lake last Saturday. It was a fine specimen and measured six feet from tip to tip of its wings. The only other bird of the kind known to have been seen ever in this locality was shot some thirteen years ago by Mr. Wm. McGill, at the lake.

The remains of the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Segrave, were interred in our cemetery here on last Wednesday, and were laid to side its mother, who had predece-sed it some nine months.

Mr. John Elford left for the lumber camp last week, where he expected to remain for the winter.

Ducks are plentiful and hunters numerous down by the lake.
Mr. John Bartlett is negotiating for the purchase of a lot at the station, with a view to building there.
We may possibly have a house of accommodation for the public, which would be a great boon to the travelers.

Choir practice was held at Mr. W.
Armstrong's last week, and a good number were in attendance. Mr.
Levi Bartlett was among those present, and has signified his intention of becoming a member, which would be highly appreciated by the young ladies.

Miss Hattie Morgan left for the city last week, where she has secured a pleasant position.

Mr. Carl Fridman Wulff, of Buffalo, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Porteous for a few days last week.

The "other" correspondent who wrote from here last week warning the farmers to look out for the wolf, intended to pose as a funny man, but fell a long distance short of the mark. If he had been better versed in the spelling of surnames he would have readily seen that his vocation was not along the line of being a maker of jokes.

Mr. Walter Veale, of Toronto, paid a brief visit to friends here last week.

Mr. James Malcolm has just completed one of the most modern and up-to-date fowl houses to be found in the country. It will be frost-proof, with cement floors, and well lighted so that it will be summer all the year around. Jas. no doubt recognizes that the hen industry is one of the most important branches of farming to-day.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersecretary of the Department for Collingwood Wharf, will be received at this office until Saturday, October 29, 1904, inclusive, for the construction of a wharf at Collingwood, County of Simcoe, Province of Ontario, according to a plan and specification to be seen at the offices of H. A. Gray, Esq., Engineer in charge, Harbour and River Works for Ontario,

Confederation Life Building, Toronto; J.
G. Singer, Esq., Resident Engineer, London, Ont., on application to the Postmaster at Collingwood, Ont., and at the Department of Public Works, Ottawa.

Tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed form supplied, and signed with the actual signatures of tenderers.

An accepted cheque on a chartered bank, payable to the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, for three thousand dollars ($3000.00), must accompany each tender.

The cheque will be forfeited if the party tendering declines the contract or fails to complete the work contracted for, and will be returned in case of non-acceptance of tender.

By Order,
FRED. GELINAS,
Secretary.

Department of Public Works,
Ottawa, October 14, 1904.

ment without authority from this Department will not be paid for it.

BUT IN!

Get a move on, use some nerve, "git up and git," wins in Lindsay.

Gough knows, for he has helped hundreds of husbands to get into smart-looking clothes, so that they "looked like winners."

It is not enough that people be clad, they must be dressed. "Costly" habit as thy purse can buy," was the advice of Polonius to his son, "rich but not gaudy, for the apparel oft proclaims the man," and the advice is just as good to-day as it was three hundred years ago.

LET GOUGH DRESS YOU and you'll be well Suited and Overcoated. These items will give you an ideas of how the styles and prices range in

The Finer Grades of Men's Clothing

Finer means better—in a class above the average for quality—but not above the limits of your income:—

50-75.50 Suits for each $5.50, 45-50.00 Suits for each $6.75, 45-50.00 Suits for each 9.00, 35-50.00 Suits for each 11.50.

Overcoat Yourself Well

25-34 Overcoats for each $10.50, 18-32 Overcoats for each $9.25, 20-30 Overcoats for each 7.50, 18-30 Overcoats for each $4.90.

How to Please the Boy

Take him to Gough's with $4 or less, sufficient to purchase one of these manly suits:—

Boys' 3-piece Suits, $2.50, $3, $3.50, $4.
Boys' 2-piece Suits, $1.25, $1.75,
$2.25, $2.50.

Gough's is the Store for Underwear and Furnishings

Everything a man needs in Fall and Winter Furnishings, Hats, Caps, Gloves, Sweaters etc. Better choice for your money and double the stock. The store that sets the pace.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

Receipts of live stock at the City Market were 73 carloads, composed of 787 cattle, 1522 hogs, 1517 sheep and 90 calves.

Trade in shipping cattle is dead, no straight loads of exporters being offered.

A few odd steers may have been picked out of loads of butchers' stock, as well as a few export bulls. Export bulls are worth from $3.50 to $4 per cwt.

Trade in butchers' cattle was slow. Even the best loads and lots of cattle did not sell as readily as on previous market days, and there were several loads of fair to good butchers' stock left over unsold.

Loads of choice quality butchers' stock at $4.20 to $4.40, McDonald & Mayne having sold six at $4.20 and seven at $4.40 per cwt.
Loads of good butchers' stock at $3.80 to $4; fair to good at $3.50 to $3.70; cows at $2.50 to $3.00.

The demand for feeders is not as great as it was, and the market is easier. Short-cows, 1150 to 1200 lbs. each, sold at $4, and some rough cattle of the same weights as low as $3.00 per cwt; 900 lbs. steers sold at $3.25 to $3.40; butchers' stock, 800 to 700 lbs.
each, are worth from $3.50 to $3.75 per cwt.

About 15 milch cows and springers sold all the way from $27 to $30 each.

The number of real calves was not large, which had the effect of keeping prices firm, but unchanged, at $2 to $3 each, or $4 to $5 per cwt, with an extra choice odd calf at $5.50 per cwt.

The run of sheep and lambs was not large—about 1000. Export ewes sold at $2.75 to $3.00; butchers' stock, $2.50 to $2.75; 100 lbs. and over, $2.25 to $2.50; lambs at $3.50 to $4.25, and picked lots of ewes and wethers at $4.50 per cwt.

Receipts of hogs were not large—about 1400—and prices declined. Selects are quoted at $5.15, and lights and fairs at $4.90; since $2 to $2.50; cows, $3.25 to $3.50 per cwt. These quotations are for fed and watered.

EAST BUFFALO CATTLE MARKET.

Last Buffalo, Oct. 18—Cattle—Receipts, steers, $3.50 to $3.75; shipping, $3.40 to $3.55; butchers' $3.40 to $3.55; hogs, $2.50 to $2.75; cows and bulls, $2.25 to $2.40; stockers and feeders, $2.25 to $2.35.

Veal—Receipts, 100 head; steady; $4.30 to $4.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 6500 head; slow; 100 lbs.
to 200 lbs.; heavy, $3.45 to $3.50; Yorkers,
$3.30 to $3.40; pigs, $3 to $3.10; roughs,
$2.40 to $2.50; stockers, $2.25 to $2.40; calves and grassers, $3.10 to $3.25.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 2000 head; steady; prices unchanged.

NEW YORK LIVE STOCK.

New York, Oct. 18—Receipts—Receipts, 8000 head; steady; dressed beef in fair demand at 10c to 10c per lb. for native sides; Texas beef, 5 1/2c to 6c. Exports to day, 511 horses, 1145 sheep and 2000 quarters of beef.

Calves—Receipts, 270; market steady; weights, $3 to $5.70; grassers and westerns nominal; dressed calves steady; city dressed

OAKWOOD

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Miss E. Pauline Johnson and Mr.
Walter McKay have been definitely engaged for next Monday evening, Oct. 24th, by the Public Library to give one of their fine entertainments in the town hall. Miss Johnson, who is the daughter of a Mohawk Indian chief, was here several years ago, and those who had the pleasure of hearing her then will be glad of another opportunity. Mr. McKay comes highly recommended and an evening's enjoyment is assured.
The pupils of Miss Hattie Pinkham are giving a concert, with the aid of some outside talent, on Friday evening, the 25th of this month, in the town hall.

WOODVILLE

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
If the weather during the last few days is Indian summer, it is very acceptable also to white people, or at least we are glad to get it.

Rev. Mrs. Anderson, of Stouffville, occupies the pulpit of the Methodist church Sunday next, morning and evening. Special music by a male quar-ette.

Mrs. James Vanstone returned from a visit to friends in Queensville lately.

Miss Mary Gilchrist, of Ledy, is a much-welcomed visitor in town at present.

Mrs. R. Thomas returned from a visit to her home in Whiteside recently.

The new organ in the Methodist church was in use Sunday evening for the first time. It is indeed a very pleasing and much-needed change from the former lightness and very much appreciated by the congregation in general.

Mr. John McKee and family are about to move to Toronto in a few days.

Mrs. Dr. Grant returned Tuesday from a lengthy visit to Toronto friends.

Mrs. Bingham was at Cannington for a few hours on Wednesday.

Mrs. Lobb, who had a sore of her household effects on Monday, intends removing to Stratford in the near future.

Mr. E. McPherson, of Tivoli & McPherson's Hardware firm, Lindsay, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.
McPherson, on Sunday. Frank is always a welcome guest here.

Politics are "hot" the race now
Keep going for them is only a short time before election day.

The funeral of the late Doctor Mc-

Eachron, who died last Thursday, took place from the family residence on Saturday afternoon, and was largely attended. Mr. McEachron was well known and highly respected throughout Eildon, where he formerly resided.

Mr. C. J. Cudy, Massey-Harris representative, was in town recently on business.

The Misses Jennie Grant and Lexie Staples, of Cannington, friends last Wednesday.

Mr. C. H. McKee is having a furniture put in his residence. Mr. J. Mc-Pherson does the work.

Mr. S. Pond was at Cannington on Friday.

Mr. Wm. McPherson, of Canning-ton, is assisting in his brother's (Mr.
J. McPherson's) business, as the latter is not very strong after his recent illness and is not able to attend to his business as before.

REARDO.
(From Our Own Correspondent.)
The home of Mrs. McMann, of this place, was saddened by the death of her daughter Lizzie, which occured on Sunday, the 16th, inst., after about a two weeks' illness. The remains were interred in the Ballismore cemetery on Tuesday last, in the family burying ground.

The roads being in prime condition, and the evening being fine, a large number from this place attended the fowl supper held at Fleetwood Corners on Monday evening last.

A number of soreheads at the Lindsay Central, who felt somewhat chagrined at seeing the red ticket go to Mr. T. Melvor's single driver, will conclude that their judgment was at fault when they learn that "he took last at Peterboro and also at Millbrook, and if that is not convincing proof of her ability to win, we may add that her team has gone abroad, and that Mr. Melvor received and accepted an offer of $300 for his mare from Graham Bros. of Claremont. We understand she is to be shipped to the old country.

LITTLE BRITAIN.
(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Miss M. Smith, formerly teacher in our public school, has been engaged as teacher of the public school at Valentin for a short period.

Mrs. Levi Sparks, Jr., widow of the late Levi Sparks, has returned from Port Perry.

Mr. James Marshall, woodworker in Mr. R. S. Robertson's carriage factory, met with what might have been a fatal accident, last week.

He was not feeling well one afternoon, so went in the house to take some painkillers. He noticed a bottle in the window, labelled painkiller and took a dose. He went to work, but in a few minutes began to stagger, almost falling over. The other workmen in the shop were amazed and went and helped him to a seat.
He managed to tell them what he had taken. The contents of the bottle were then examined and were found to contain carbolic acid and glycerine. Dr. Hall was immediately summoned, and the patient

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
The social and debate held in the Methodist church last here on last Friday evening, was in every respect a most unqualified success. A very nice program was rendered, partly musical and partly literary. The choir rendered some mixed choruses in a most pleasing manner. Mr.
Harry Anderson sustained his old-time reputation in his rendering of "Way down on the Farm." The Rev.
Mr. Harrison acted as chairman and announced the different numbers on the program. A sister, by a number of young ladies and Mr. Best evoked much amusement. The debate was the feature of the evening's entertainment. The subject of "Resolved, that idle gossip is more injurious than thieving," was handled in masterly style by these taking

TO THE ELECTORS OF VICTORIA AND HALIBURTON.

Gentlemen,—As a result of the unanimous nomination of the Liberal Convention, and at the urgent request of many leading Conservatives, I am a candidate for the House of Commons for this constituency.

It will only be possible in the short time between my nomination and the election—only three weeks—for me to visit the more important centres of the constituency. I therefore desire to place my views before you in this way:

1. I believe in tariff based upon the necessities of the public revenue, so adjusted as to protect Canadian industries from unfair competition but not to enable exorbitant prices to be charged the consumer, with such a preference to the Mother Country and sister Colonies as will encourage trade within the Empire. The tariff to be revised from time to time in the interest of the whole people to suit changed conditions, and after careful investigation.

2. I believe in full Government control of all railways through the Railway Commission, which should exercise a general power over rates and service so that people in all parts of the country shall as far as possible, have good railway service at reasonable rates.

3. The battle that Canadians have to fight is one with nature, to bring into subjection the rugged and inaccessible parts of our own country and to develop its magnificent resources, and I believe in an energetic and progressive policy with that end in view.

4. I believe that Public Works which have been undertaken by the Government, such as Grand Trunk Pacific and the Trent Valley Canal, should be pushed to completion with all possible speed, so that the country may have their benefit at the earliest possible time.

5. I condemn with all my heart, corruption and crookedness in politics and I urge every elector to avoid and condemn the very appearance of the same. I would much rather not be elected than that even one improper act should be done in my behalf. The true success and greatness of the country depends upon the maintenance of the liberties and character of the people and the willingness of the electors to place principle above party; and the worst enemies of the country are men who seek to pervert the liberties and rights of the people by securing either nomination or election by corrupt and crooked means.

6. With this statement as to my general views, I claim freedom of action and the right always to place what I may believe to be in the interests of the country, before any party consideration.

7. It is the duty of a representative to devote himself solely to the interests of his country and constituency and not to attempt to serve two masters by representing for personal gain corporate or private interests at the same time.

8. I have lived among you from my earliest childhood and you have my record. If elected I will devote myself to the interest of the constituency and the country at large.

I ask the assistance of all persons irrespective of party who earnestly desire the welfare of our constituency and country.

If elected I will represent all parties and see that justice is done to all.

Yours truly,
R. J. McLAUGHLIN, K. C.

SOME MISREPRESENTATIONS ANSWERED

Mr. McLaughlin and His Dealings with the Township of Fenelon.

Matters which refer to ordinary private business of a respectable candidate should not be brought up in a political campaign, but in the contest in this constituency Mr. Hughes has begun by slandering Mr. McLaughlin's professional conduct and standing, and in reference to Mr. McLaughlin's relations as solicitor for the Township of Fenelon (his native township) the abuse and misrepresentation of Mr. Hughes is especially glaring. Mr. McLaughlin has asked from Mr. Taylor Parkin, Reeve of the Township (a Conservative), and Mr. Manley Maybee, Treasurer of the Township (another Conservative), statements as to exactly what took place. Mr. McLaughlin has no desire to intrude private business matters upon the people, but when false statements are published broadcast and canvassed insidiously, there is no other course but to refute them from the foundation up.

A comparison between the charges made by Mr. Hughes and the unbiased statements of Mr. Parkin and Mr. Maybee will prove interesting.

MR. HUGHES' RED CIRCULAR, Paragraph 59, reads as follows:—

"The Rosedale Bridge was raised to match the Government swing. Unsolicited by the municipality, Col. Hughes obtained from the Government the cost to which the Township had been put, viz., $200.00. When this sum was sent to the Government Agent, a Lindsay lawyer, HE TRIED TO CHARGE THE TOWNSHIP TWENTY PER CENT OF THE AMOUNT, though he had nothing whatever to do with securing it, and as Government Agent would receive pay from the Government. Mr. Taylor Parkin, Reeve, refused to allow him the $40 for doing nothing."

MR. TAYLOR PARKIN, Reeve of Fenelon, gives the correct statement in his own handwriting as follows:

"RE ROSEDALE BRIDGE.
"I NEVER WAS ASKED BY ANY PERSON TO PAY TWENTY PER CENT ON $200 OBTAINED FROM THE DOMINION GOVERNMENT IN THIS MATTER."

Which statement is likely to be correct?
Mr. Taylor Parkin told Mr. Hughes personally, and wrote the Watchman-Warder, that their statement was not correct. Why has neither the candidate nor his organ given an apology?

RE FLOODED ROADS.

In the year 1899, when Mr. Alex. McGee was Reeve of the Township of Fenelon, a claim of the Township of Fenelon against the Ontario Government for damages resulting from the flooding of roads in the township near Balsam Lake was put into the hands of Mr. McLaughlin as Solicitor for the Township, and he at once set about to obtain the damages to which the Township was entitled. When the claim was first taken up the Public Works Department refused to entertain it, but later it was taken up again and the late Mr. Thomas Walters appointed arbitrator, and his award was $434.80. The Department thought the amount excessive, but Mr. McLaughlin, although the Council would have accepted $100 in settlement, persisted in claiming the full amount of

AN ENEMY OF HIS COUNTRY.

(London Advertiser, Oct. 19.)

A shameless campaign is being waged in Victoria and Haliburton by Sam Hughes. He is hard pressed by a popular opponent, and is resorting to the basest appeals to race and sectarian prejudice. We have before us a copy of a manifesto—printed on yellow paper, an appropriate color—with which he is flooding the back townships. An extract will serve to show its character:

"Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his followers aim gradually, by 'evolution'—at the independence of Canada."

"THIS RAILWAY FAD OF THEIRS, SO THEY BOAST IN QUEBEC, WOULD GIVE A BACKBONE OF SIR WILFRID'S FELLOW COUNTRYMEN BEHIND OLD ONTARIO AND ASSISI IN THE PLAN."

"They demand independent treaty-making power."

"They demand abolition of a legal appeals to the judicial committee of the Imperial Privy Council."

"They excited dishonest prejudices against Britain in the Alaska boundary case."

"They will not contribute to the Imperial navy, but wish a Canadian navy under control of that 'warrior seaman,' Mr. Prefontaine."

"They have abolished the necessity of the Canadian general being a British-trained officer."

"They would abolish the office of Governor-General, and make a President."

"Their whole policy is towards these ends."

"They dismissed Lord Dunsford for asserting the illegal actions of Mr. Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, in meddling in military affairs without authority more than any 'street sweeper' possessed."

"They have sought to establish the worst forms of militarism in Canada by trying to bring officers of the militia when not on duty or on service under the thumb of the minister."

"They have further sought to make it a serious offence for a Salvation Army soldier to wear his uniform."

"These tyrannies Lord Dunsford opposed, and stood for the rights of the citizen."

"This tissue of falsehoods is being circulated in a thinly-settled district, covering an enormous area, where the majority of the electors are remote from centres of population, and not in touch with the daily papers and the ordinary channels of information. Such a riding lends itself to dark-the award and was finally successful. The cheque for $434.80 was handed to Mr. McLaughlin as Township Solicitor, and by him at once forwarded to Mr. Parkin, the Reeve. Not a cent was taken from the cheque by him. He was not Agent for the Ontario Government, but Solicitor for the Township, who paid him his fees. It is worth while corresponding the statement in the Watchman-Warder and those signed by the Reeve and the Treasurer of the Township of Fenelon.

The Watchman-Warder of October 20th, 1904, says in reference to this matter:

"The money was handed over by Mr. R. J. McLaughlin as the Government Agent. . . . We at once wrote to Reeve Parkin of Fenelon for the facts. The Reeve replies as follows: 'The Government grant for roads submerged was $432.80. Of that sum Mr. R. J. McLaughlin KEPT $80 and gave the Township the balance.' That statement of the Reeve is endorsed by Treasurer Maybee."

Mr. Taylor Parkin's statement (which we give in full) is as follows:

"Re Flooded Roads—The roads injured by the dam at Rosedale, in the Township of Fenelon. Mr. McLaughlin, our TOWNSHIP SOLICITOR, DID THE WORK, and obtained from the Provincial Government $434.80. The Township paid his firm for services for the same $80. I NEVER SAID Mr. McLaughlin KEPT $80. HE GAVE ME A CHECK FOR THE FULL AMOUNT and the Council passed a resolution to pay the $80 for services rendered." (Sgd) TAYLOR PARKIN, Reeve.

"Oct. 25th, 1904"

Mr. Maybee's statement is as follows:

"Extract from treasurer's books of the Township of Fenelon re money received from the Ontario Government for flooded roads at Rosedale:

"1901—Dec. 16.—Received from Ontario Government award for flooded lands . . . $434.80

"1902—Jan. 9.—Paid Robert J. McLaughlin for services rendered in getting $434.80 from the Provincial Government re roads flooded by dam at Rosedale. . . . $80"

"The above is a true copy of the entries in the books of the treasurer of the Township of Fenelon re roads flooded at Rosedale. The cheque from the Government for the whole amount was paid to the Township, and Mr. McLaughlin was afterward paid his bill of $80 by order on the Treasurer in the usual way. (Sgd) MANLEY MABEE, Treas."

From the above it is clear that MR. McLAUGHLIN DID NOT KEEP BACK THE $80. He rendered his bill, and it was not paid until the next month. The Township Council had every opportunity to object to the account if they so desired, but Mr. McLaughlin never heard of any objection. The report of the Council meeting of the Fenelon Council, reported in the Watchman-Warder of December 26, 1901, contains the following:

"It was moved by Mr. Webster, seconded by Mr. Perdue, that our Solicitor's fee of $80, for services rendered in securing an award of $434 from the Ontario Government re flooding certain roads by the building of the Rosedale dam, be paid.—Carried."

The fact is that Mr. McLaughlin had the matter in hand for over two years, the amount obtained was highly satisfactory to the township, and his fee was well earned.

In respect to these matters the Watchman-Warder sent a list of questions to Reeve Parkin and they were answered by him. Why was not that list of questions and answers published, instead of an untrue and distorted perversion?

Every thinking man can see at once that the charges against Mr. McLaughlin are both untrue and venomous.

ROUSING LIBERAL MEETINGS.

The most cheering reports have come from all parts of the riding during the past few days concerning the enthusiasm manifested at meetings held in the interest of Mr. R. J. McLaughlin. Conservative friends are rallying to his support everywhere, and even take the platform in his behalf, thus giving the lie to Sam Hughes' frantic professions that the unaffected are being 'whipped into line.' So far from this being the case, the revolt in the Conservative ranks against the ringmaster methods of the self-appointed candidate is growing and spreading, and the full force of the righteous indignation felt by many will be manifested with crushing effect on November 3rd. The present is the opportunity of a lifetime to get rid of an imperious politician who will brook no restraint, and who claims to hold the party in the hollow of his hand. Many are going to seize the chance.

Is there a man, young or old, who has not more money in his pocket to-day than he held during the lean years prior to the Laurier Administration? Thank our progressive Government and vote for a continuance of prosperity.

R. J. McLaughlin would worthily represent the riding and work for the best interests of Victoria and Haliburton—Sam Hughes would misrepresent the riding and work for his own interests, as in the past. Voter, which man do you want?

There is nothing like Sunlight Soap for Household Utensils.

When you have to use hard water it is not an easy matter to wash household utensils. To do good washing you should have good soap and soft water (rain water). If you use hard water you must have good soap, and the best soap you can get is Sunlight Soap because it softens the hard water and makes a copious creamy lather. Use Sunlight Soap for all household purposes and the results will surprise you.

of stone over the grave, on which Alec carved with a sword point, "Senex hic jacet." And for two whole days Job Treballon sat by the grave or wandered in the woods alone, and during the whole time we remained on the island no man heard his laugh or saw his grin. It was a strange friendship which these two crazy ones had for one another.

After the burying was done there was a great discussion about the meaning of the words which the old man had written. Some thought they were mere wanderings of a diseased mind, while others maintained that they had a meaning, but that it was scarcely worth while to attempt to dive very deeply after it. Every one had something to say; Alec alone remained silent and ruffled his fingers thoughtfully through his shock of tangled red hair. I did not question him, but went to sleep, trusting that his wits would work out some solution.

When the sun had scarcely risen and the night mists were still waving lazily over the harbor, a hand was laid on my shoulder, and I awoke to find my sworn shipmate standing over me. He bade me slip on my clothes and come down to the shore with him.

"Jack," he said, when we had reached a path leading to the plateau above, "what's a serpent's trail?"

"The mark of its nasty slime on the ground, which shows where it has passed," I answered promptly, "or mayhap it's his insides, if you will have it so," I added, not seeing in the least what he was steering for.

"Good, Jack! You'll make a lawyer yet. And now where shall we find our serpent?"

"In the woods, if there are any, though I believe the island's free of them."

"What do you say to a stone serpent?"

"What, one of those at the temple corners?"

"Yes. The very one perhaps that you and Willie Treballon turned into a boggy house to frighten Spaniards. So stir your stumps, Jack, and perhaps we'll bring back some good news as sauce for breakfast." So away we walked together to the great temple on the black heights of the farther cape of the island.

We reached the platform, stepped through the old opening and mounted the stair in the serpent's body. Scrambled on one of the walls we found a great "W," whose meaning I was at a loss to guess.

Alec, however, as soon as he saw it went down again and made for the western corner of the temple. Here, after a lengthy search and careful sounding of the walls and floor, we discovered a loose slab of stone and, wrenching it off, descended to a chamber in the snake's gullet.

Sure enough there was more writing, and this time the meaning was quite plain.

"Look in the hole of the tree wherein the bear sheltered which gored Jan Pengony his thigh."

Now fortunately I had witnessed the incident referred to, and we rushed toward it with beating hearts.

The hollow was choked with sticks and leaves and such like rubbish, but this we clawed away with eager hands and came at last upon a case bottle bound in wicker. Peering down the neck, Alec said he saw a parchment and, breaking the glass without more ado, found that the letter was addressed to himself. It was written on the back of an old ship's manifest, and this is how it ran:

Dr. Lad—The Day after thy Scourge called, a small coasting frigate bore to the Mouth of the Bay, and we have come in had I not bailed her with Threall. Whereupon she turned Tail. Judged her Master wd tell his Mate and bring him to Force. Betwixt me and how to dispose of Treballon, I planned a Plan and executed it. To repeat same, follow route at Foot of Temple Hill, and find a pebble rock across Torrent. Thru-ply Black and Tackle shifts it. Cave beyond then dry, forming Treasure Chamber. Chests and Pouches lie in it. Am about to die, but will write thee even in dying. Being in such evil Case, and being known by none—not even by such old Shipmates as Treballon, Senex, and Pengony—did not through very Shame own Kinship before, but now subscribe myself Thine own Father, Rexley Learson.

That Scripture—Will hand thee my Share of Treasure. Take as Co-legacy my Hate of Spaniards.

CHAPTER XXXII.

Sail away,
Back away,

Scatter all the money like a man.

The Bristol Merchant's anchor has kissed Severn mud once more, and Willie Treballon's favorite song, sung, roared and shouted in every variety of voice and key, is rising from the throats of her brown faced crew and compelling attention on the wharfs and landing stages of Bristol city—aye, and throughout the whole town too.

The years of adventure and peril have come to an end at last, and now, before the quill is laid aside and the ugly, uncompromising word Plis is scrawled across the bottom of the last page, a few more dips in the lighthouse will enable Captain Alexander Ireland's brave lads to make their bow and march off the stage with ensign and pennants flying. For John Topp prides himself on being too old a seaman to leave the strands of his yarn lying littered about the decks, but prefers instead to see them snugly moused and pointed to an end.

When the Bristol Merchant sat out from the muddy Severn to seek adventure and gold in the faraway west, 101 men, drunk and sober, had watched from her decks the black, wavy line which marked the iron bound coast of Devon until it sank slowly beneath the horizon aster and had then turned, with hearts full of hope, to follow the beckoning arms of the flashing sun as it dipped, all molten gold, into the waste of western waters. It was the beacon which told us that out there beyond the Atlantic rollers lay Manoa, the city whose streets were paved with gold.

Ah, but it lied! That golden glory of the sunset was a will-o'-the-wisp which led all but a few of those 101 brave men to their death. Manoa has never yet enriched by so much as a piece of eight the many bold adventurers who have sought it, nor ever will, for, to my thinking at least, its golden wealth exists only in the hopes of the bold lads who it leads to death. Aye, Manoa is but a dream city, and the story of Job Treballon's tame pagan was but a Cicerone song of death.

There are some men who can be happy only when they are doing and daring. To enjoy the rewards of adventure past and peril safely braved is to them impossible. Only sword in hand, and in the sharp grasping of battle do they breathe easily and believe that they really live. Now, I ask no better comrade than such a one to stand by my side when the hot breath of a foe is surging in my face, but ashore, in a tavern, or at supper in a Bristol mercer's house, a man may have a more congenial comrade. Of this restless sort was my sworn shipmate, Alexander Ireland, and before a month's mud and rust had gathered on the Bristol Merchant's anchor flukes, he was at sea again, fighting in Captain Franky Drake's company against the enemies of England and Queen Bess.

Job Treballon spent his prize money in 14 days and then shipped for the Guinea coast, from which he has not yet returned. His uncle, after a shorter trial of dissipation, resolved to eschew the delights of sack and ale and started a tavern to aid him in keeping his vow. The rest of the crew "scattered all their money like men," and then went about once more to collect a further supply for the same good purpose. It is the way of sailor men and always will be.

But there is still one person in this tale of whose fate I have not told, and I had meant that there should be half a score more of chapters written to say how I sought her and won her. But she has read all that I have written, and she refuses to form any further part in what she calls my tale of robbery and blood. If I wish to tell how I sought her at Vigo and found that she had gone, and how I finally tracked her to Grenada and stole her, then, says she, I must write another tale of that alone.

She is my wife. I've bought a roll of paper and a score of quills and could write the tale with easy glibness if it were permitted me. But, as I say, I need my wife now, and so she must be obeyed.

THE END.

Killed in Syracuse.

Peterboro, Oct. 20.—Tuesday evening the sad news of the accidental death of William O. Dixon, was received from Syracuse, where he had been living, and where he carried on an electric business. The deceased was born and brought up in Peterboro.

Anxiety For 169 Souls.

Havana, Oct. 20.—Anxiety is felt here for the safety of the Spanish royal mail steamer Buenos Ayres, which left New York, Oct. 13, carrying 169 passengers, and is now nearly three days overdue at this port.

Father of Music Halls Dead.

London, Oct. 19.—Charles Morton, the "father of music halls," died yesterday morning. Although 87 years of age, he remained in active management of the Palace Theatre until a few days ago, when he retired. A big farwell matinee, at which all the leading artists were to appear, was in course of preparation for the veteran's benefit.

SHELTER AND FOOD ARE NIL

Russian Losses Figured Out By the Japanese At 18,333—Nine Abandoned Russian Guns Captured—The Two Armies Are Now Separated By Less Than Four Miles—Fortifying Lamutung.

Mukden, Oct. 25.—(Via Peking).—The Russian forces on the left again crossed the Shakhe River on Oct. 21 and are now pushing forward towards the Japanese positions, entrenching as they advance. At the same time Russian batteries are continually bombarding the Japanese, who can be plainly seen, busily engaged in the making of trenches.

The Russian and Japanese armies are now separated by less than four miles and the whole field of operations of both armies can be plainly seen.

The question of fuel is becoming a serious one. The greater part of the Chinese corn has already been used for fuel and for fodder, while most of the houses in the Chinese villages have been destroyed and their wood used for fuel.

Without fuel and without shelter beyond that provided by tents it seems impossible for the armies to remain in the field during the increasing cold weather.

Nine Abandoned Guns.

Gen. Oku's Headquarters, Friday, Oct. 21, via Fusan, Oct. 25.—While clearing the field near Shakhe the Japanese found nine abandoned Russian guns.

Russian Prisoners.

Tokio, Oct. 25.—The Japanese headquarters here yesterday, without referring to the general situation in the vicinity of the Shakhe River, published the following report received the day before: Since the last telegram referring to the enemy's dead, the bodies left on the field have been increased to the following: Found by the right army, 5,200; found by the left army, 5,800; found by the centre army, 2,500; total, 18,333. The number of prisoners captured totals 709.

Russian Prisoners 3,000.

New York, Oct. 25.—The Russian prisoners in Japan number 3,000, according to a Tokio despatch to The Times.

Both Sides Entrenching.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 25.—There was no news of immediate importance from the Far East last night. The indications are that both sides are heavily entrenching, though it is believed that General Kuropatkin will be ready for a forward move at an early moment, unless heavy Japanese reinforcements compel him to remain on the defensive.

Japs Fortify Village.

Harbin, Oct. 25.—A number of Japanese prisoners have been brought to this place. The Japanese are heavily fortifying the village of Lamutung.

It is reported that the Russians have buried 700 Japanese who were killed defending Lone Tree Hill.

It is snowing to-day.

Wapella, N.W.T., Oct. 20.—Harry Dingham, aged 22, working as a harvester for C. C. Pierce here, attempted to pull a shotgun out of a haystack by the muzzle, when it exploded, the charge entering his breast and killing him instantly.

GIRLHOOD WOMANHOOD AND MOTHERHOOD

The first lesson that the young girl has of womanhood is usually a painful one. She learns to know what headache means, and backache, and sometimes, it is said, borne down by this new experience of life.

All the pain and misery which young girls commonly experience at such a time may, in almost every instance, be entirely prevented or cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures the irregularity. It tones up the general health, and cures headache, backache, nervousness and other consequences of womanly weakness or disease.

The anxious mother of the family often carries the whole burden of responsibility so far as the home medication of common ailments of the girls or boys are concerned. The cost of the doctor's visit is very often much too great. At such times the mother is invited to write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., for medical advice, which is given free. Correspondence is held strictly confidential.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Protrusion, or Falling of Womb, which they cannot cure. All the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Proprietors, of Buffalo, N. Y., ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

Your wonderful medicine, "Favorite Prescription," has helped me greatly in time of suffering," writes Mrs. Minnie Wright, of Edwards, Ind. "Last winter I was unable to do my work, and was confined in February, and a lady in Illinois wrote and told me about your medicine. I used three boxes of 'Favorite Prescription,' and will say I had the easiest and quickest confinement I ever had. Had three children before, and would suffer from twenty-four to thirty-six hours before birth, but this time only two hours. Have a fine baby girl and she is the most healthy one of all. I am still using the 'Favorite Prescription' as a tonic."

SINFUL HABITS IN YOUTH

MAKE NERVOUS, WEAK, DISEASED MEN.

THE RESULT of ignorance and folly in youth, overexertion of mind and body induced by lust and exposure are constantly wrecking the lives and future happiness of thousands of promising young men. Some fade and wither at an early age, at the blossom of manhood, while others are forced to drag out a weary, fruitless and melancholy existence. Others reach matrimony but find no solace or comfort there. The victims are found in all stations of life—the farm, the office, the workshop, the pulpit, the trades and the professions. Nervous Debility and Seminal Weakness are guaranteed cures by our New Method Treatment or No Pay. You run no risk 25 years in Detroit. Bank security. CURED WHEN ALL ELSE FAILED. No names used without written consent.

"I am 33 years of age and married. When young I led a gay life. Early indiscretions and later excesses made trouble for me. I became weak and nervous. My kidneys became affected and I feared Bright's Disease. Married life was unsatisfactory and my home unhappy. I tried everything—all failed till I took treatment from Drs. Kennedy & Kergan. Their New Method cured me mentally, physically and sexually. I feel and act like a man in every respect. They treated me six years ago. They are honest, can be relied on financially, so why patronize Quacks and Fakirs when you can be cured by reliable doctors."—V. A. Becker.

WELL PUT.

Speaking at Sherbrooke a few days ago Hon. Sidney Fisher in the course of his address said, "The Conservatives say that we have stolen their clothes. We ask what part of your clothes have we stolen? Your clothes showed deficit after deficit. You added twenty-one million dollars to the public debt to pay your way. We scorn to use such clothes. On the contrary, under the Fielding tariff the Dominion of Canada has been able to spend sixty-five million dollars on progress, development and capitalized account in improving the public conveniences and in increasing the industries of Canada. We have not added one cent to the debt, but we have paid a million and a quarter of the debt that you and your colleagues placed on the country. Your clothes are ragged as well as dirty. "The Conservatives say that we have continued their policy of protection. We have introduced a policy to protect the industries of Canada so as to double their product. Their policy had brought her industries to a state of stagnation. Ours is broad in expanse, in the interests of every class, protecting and aiding the industries of Canada. The Liberal platform is equal justice to all. We have succeeded in arranging a tariff under which the whole community may prosper equally."

the representative of law and order. Had some hot-headed friend, of the prisoner suggested a rescue, there might have been an exhibition of American mob rule. Why should fair-minded men sympathize with the law-breaker and manifest disapproval of the officer who is performing his duty—his sworn duty—for the public welfare?

There have been several instances of this false sympathy, and they do not redound to the credit or good sense of our citizens.

CANADA LEADS IN GROWTH.

The increase of trade in Canada, since the Liberal party came into power, has been immense, and is a record this country can be proud of. Canada's increase in trade, since 1895, has been greater than any other country in the world. Let us present a few figures to prove this. The following table gives the relative percentage in growth of trade of the several countries mentioned, for the past seven years:

Canada..... 107.43
Japan..... 97.20
United States..... 47.18
Great Britain..... 20.29
Germany..... 38.59
France..... 21.98

Canada leads the world in growth of trade, only Japan, the plucky, coming near this country, and the war will give it a set back. The United States is far behind. As Sir Wilfrid Laurier says, last century belonged in the way of growth to the United States, and the twentieth century will belong in that way to Canada. Canada is growing; keep her growing, and continue a policy under which she has grown, and is growing so rapidly.

Further proof that our growth has been greater under Liberal rule than under Conservative rule.

Under the Conservative policy, from 1878 to 1884, the increase of Canadian foreign trade was twenty per cent.

Under the Conservative policy, from 1884 to 1890, the increase was 5 per cent.

Under Liberal rule, tariff reform has greatly contributed to the prosperity of the country.

Under Liberal rule, the revenue of Canada has increased by leaps and bounds.

Under Liberal rule, the banks have greatly increased their business.

Under Liberal rule, railway construction has been most active.

Under Liberal rule, the Post office Department has been reformed.

Under Liberal rule, there has been a post-office surplus.

Under Liberal rule, the Customs Department has been re-organized.

Under Liberal rule, Canada has bulked more largely in the eyes of the Empire and the world than it ever did.

Under Liberal Rule, Canada has come to her own as never before.

Under Liberal rule, we have a united Canada from ocean to ocean.

MR. BORDEN'S "POLICIES."

Here are some points in Mr. Borden's railroad policy as set forth by himself on the floor of the House of Commons:

"I did not propose the immediate construction of a transcontinental line."—Mr. R. L. Borden (Hansard, 1903, page 12,623).

"The line from Sudbury to Port William, 555 miles, at an outside cost of $24,975,000. Betterments from Sudbury to Port William might cost $3,000,000."—Mr. R. L. Borden (Hansard, 1903, page 12,631).

"The Canadian Pacific Railway Co. at the present time owns that road (the north shore line around Lake Superior), which has only one-fifth or one-tenth of the traffic it can carry. If you give to the Canadian Northern and the Grand Trunk, in common with the Canadian Pacific, equal running powers over that line, you will increase its traffic to some extent, but for many years to come you will have an avenue for all the trade that will be carried from the east to the west by means of a railway."—Mr. R. L. Borden, (Hansard, 1903, page 9,000).

"I say it would be a proper and a

WHY NOT A FROG FARM?

The passing of the frog is one of the unexpected results of the rapid development of an epicurean appetite for a dainty that, twenty-five years ago, was appreciated at its true value, by our river-drivers only. Since then it is safe to say that millions of pounds of frogs' legs have been consumed here, or exported to the States. So great has been the slaughter that it is a rare thing to hear the croak of a bull-frog in our marshes. To supply the ever increasing demand, frog farms have been established at several points in Ontario, one of which last year produced 5,000 lbs. of dressed frogs' legs, and 7,000 live frogs for medical experiments.

There is a fortune awaiting some enterprising Lindsay citizen in this line of business. It would be an easy matter to enclose a few acres of drowned land up or down the river with a dyke formed of boards driven into the mud, and to add other yards as the frogs increased. Millions of frogs might be raised on the upper and lower Scugog reaches, and the owners of submerged lands may yet derive a good rental from their at present unproductive properties.

JAPANESE LOYALTY.

The Japanese will never know when they are whipped. They will all be dead first. The same spirit that inspired the sailors of the blockading squadrons at Port Arthur pervades the entire army and when we enquire as to the origin of this remarkable national characteristic which refuses to turn its back upon the foe and looks death coolly and calmly in the face we are told that it is due to the "Bushido," a solid foundation of moral and physical training which has been going on from generation to generation for hundreds of years.

"Bushido" is an unwritten code of knightly honor that governed the bushi or samurai, the military class of Japan which practically ruled that country until thirty-seven years ago. "Bushido" required the Japanese to train his body into physical perfection and to develop in his soul a martial spirit, to despise cowardice, to face humiliation bravely and to give his life to his emperor whenever it was required of him. Whatever may have been the defects and vices of the ancient clans of Japan they certainly developed to a remarkable degree such eminent virtues, as courage, coolness, fortitude, endurance and loyalty. No the samurai, or military class, "Bushido" was a religion. Their boys began training at 5 years of age. Their days were devoted to physical exercise and literary studies and their nights to reading and hearing tales of the nation. Every inducement was offered them to imitate the national ideals, to develop their physical strength and their moral stamina and to practise self-control and discipline and cowardice were sins unpardonable.

Uxbridge Journal: R. J. McLaughlin, barrister, of Lindsay, has been selected by the Liberals of Victoria and Haliburton to oppose Col. Sam Hughes. Mr. McLaughlin is a son of the soil (having been raised on a farm), an able man of fine presence, and popular. Although the redistribution has tended to strengthen Mr. Hughes' position the Liberals have so much faith in their energetic candidate and cause that they are working with considerable Postage was three cents per letter under Tory rule. Under Liberal rule it is only two cents. Everybody does more or less correspondence and the saving amounts of considerable in a year. With this an annual deficit of $800,000 has been converted into a surplus last year of $300,000. The increase of business and economy in administration have made the difference.

Hon. Mr. Haggart, ex-Minister of Railways in the Tory government, said, in 1902, "Any man who knows anything of the commerce of his country, knows that not a bushel of grain can profitably be exported by the Intercolonial." Yet Mr. Borden wanted to buy and lease bits of railway to patch up a connection with the Intercolonial, instead of the Grand Trunk Pacific scheme!

When Mr. Foster reduced the duty on agricultural implements from 35 to 20 per cent., he said (Hansard, March 27th, 1894) that it would have the effect of greatly cheapening one of the largest items of expenditure to which the farmers have been subjected, especially in grain growing districts. Now, some of the Tory organs say that because the Liberals have not raised the duty again they are "playing into the hands of the Yankee implement combine." But the duty will be raised in the near future—Sir Wilfrid foreshadowed that in his speech at Peterboro—and two Lindsay industries stand to benefit largely.

The Grand Trunk Pacific will open up the Northwest to millions of settlers. They will require some of the goods manufactured in Lindsay. More than this, it will open up a wide field for skilled mechanics and other railway men from Lindsay and other points on the Grand Trunk. Mr. Borden, if he succeeded, would retard the progress of the Northwest, prevent the further development of the present Grand Trunk system, and be detrimental to Lindsay in many ways. Several of our leading industries depend on the development of the Northwest to warrant the carrying out of plans for future expansion.

Mr. Henry Dalby, former Conservative organizer in Quebec, writes in his new Montreal journal, the Argus:

In advocating the principle of Government ownership, Mr. Borden is no doubt actuated entirely by considerations of public interest; but it is perfectly well known that his attitude on this question does not commend itself to many of the most influential friends of the Conservative party. The argument is not all on one side, but the silence of an important section of the Conservative press on this point, and the outspoken declaration of one of the most prominent members of the party against Government ownership, are significant. They cannot all be disposed of by describing them as chosen apologists of the "grat"

MISPLACED SYMPATHY.

Lindsay enjoys the reputation of being one of the most orderly of towns. Few grave crimes have been committed within its borders in recent years, and the cases of misdemeanors investigated by our Police Magistrate at intervals are not sufficiently numerous to cause alarm or give rise to an impression that we are retrograding in a moral sense.

That Lindsay is a well-conducted town is due to the fact that its citizens stand for law and order and frown upon drunkenness and hoodlumism. Consequently when a police officer finds it necessary, in conformity with his sworn duty, to arrest an offender against the law, he should have at least the moral support of every good citizen. But occasionally things do not work out that way, and we refer to a case in point.

A couple of days ago an athletic individual who is employed in one of our saw mills went on a spree and created trouble in several of our hotels. While he was bullying the bartender and customers in the place last visited License Inspector John Short, who happened to be passing, was called in by the proprietor, who said he wished to conduct a respectable house and did not want to get into a row with his ill-tempered visitor. Inspector Short, who is a County Constable, warned the man to go home, and he started off, but returned and again began to make trouble, whereupon Inspector Short was compelled to arrest him. He fought like a tiger, but Mr. Short has demonstrated on more than one occasion that he can whip his weight for wildcats, and he held on to his man, who eventually was lodged in the lock-up across the street. While the struggle was in progress a large crowd gathered to watch the fray and manifested their sympathy for the rowdy prisoner rather than for Under the Liberal policy, from 1890 to 1902, the increase was 77 per cent. Keep it growing.

UNDER LIBERAL RULE.

Under Liberal rule the seven years' record from 1890 has been marked by a degree of progress and prosperity never before known in Canada.

Under Liberal rule, a greater degree of progress has been made in seven years than was made during the previous eighteen years of Conservative Government.

Under Liberal rule, the basic principles of Responsible Government have been regarded.

Under Liberal rule, the farmers have been successful and contented as they never were before.

Under Liberal rule, the manufacturers are more busy and prosperous than they ever were before.

Under Liberal rule, workmen are more in demand and getting better wages than they ever did.

Under Liberal rule, the great West has been opened up as never before.

Under Liberal rule, the departmental administration has been conducted on business lines.

Under Liberal rule the transportation problem of Canada has received special consideration.

Under Liberal rule, the finances of the country have been ably and economically handled.

Under Liberal rule, a trade preference has been given to the Mother Country.

Under Liberal rule, taxation has been kept relatively low.

Under Liberal rule, not a single dollar has been added to the public debt.

OUTSIDERS.

Mr. McLaughlin stated to his fellow workers, "We want no outsiders in this contest. It is the county's own fight. We will do it ourselves. We want no professionals, but rely solely on the good citizens of the two Counties."

Mr. Hughes, on the other hand, cannot rely on the people of the County. He is filling the County with outsiders. They are cropping up everywhere—spellers, professional stretchers at his meetings, and siders through the country.

The circulars are not the only evidence in the Counties of frantic fight. Be ready and prepared for all of these. We may also expect poorbacks and further editions of the circulars still more venomous, as fear and rage becomes more intense.

THE CAMPAIGN.

The campaign in Victoria and Haliburton is progressing nicely, and almost every elector has had an opportunity of meeting the candidates and of hearing them on the public platform, or of reading their printed addresses.

In the case of Col. Hughes, his address reads with characteristic boasting and capital "I's," and he lays claim to being the promoter or father of almost everything good that has been done for the county or the country for many years back. It is unnecessary to say that many of his alleged achievements are pure fabrications, as those who are acquainted with the facts are ready to testify. It is quite evident that Col. Hughes does not give veracity a place in his political platform, but hopes by sheer buncombe and bluster to delude the electors—at least until the 3rd of November.

That sort of campaigning may go with a certain class of the electors, but fortunately the average voter is not of that class and will not be misled either by his yellow literature, the gift of his picture, or by the descriptions of his doings in South Africa or elsewhere, nor be influenced by his too transparent magic lantern show. The people of Victoria are waking up to the fact that they want a representative in parliament who will truly represent the country and its interests, and who will not sacrifice those interests to his personal ends and glory, or at the voice of any corporation that may seek to employ his services.

Mr. McLaughlin does not have to make his livelihood out of politics, and only offered his services at the urgent request of his friends, and with a conscientious desire to serve his country, as any honest man should be ready to do when duty calls him to make the sacrifice. His success in a large legal practice, and his great natural ability—which has brought him to the fore in his profession—makes him eminently qualified to fill any position demanded of him in the administration of the country's business. He is a man who would not play fast and loose with his honor, or the confidence of those who elected him, for all the glory and tempting offers that might be showered upon him.

The campaign has no political significance, as Col. Hughes cannot claim to have been brought out by the Conservative party, but by a force of carefully drilled delegates who did not represent the voices of the majority of the party.

THE PREMIER AT PETERBORO.

At every point visited by Sir Wilfrid Laurier during the Ontario tour just closed he has been accorded a welcome that has exceeded in rapturous enthusiasm and fervor anything of the kind ever extended to any other leader, Conservative or Liberal, since or before Confederation. Members of both parties have taken part in the grand ovations of which Sir Wilfrid has been the proud recipient.

The meeting at Peterboro Oct. 20, proved a fitting close to his triumphant tour through the northern constituencies. It is estimated that 10,000 people lined the streets and cheered themselves hoarse as Sir Wilfrid was being escorted to the hall. The gathering was held in Brock-st. skating rink, a huge building capable of accommodating over 5,000 persons. Many more than that number crowded their way in some-how, determined to hear the great leader of the Liberal party, while other thousands unable to gain admission, blocked the streets and manifested their enthusiasm by cheering vociferously whenever they heard the sound of applause from within. That we are not colouring the picture can be vouched for by three hundred Lindsay citizens, who want to Peterboro by special train at an early hour, to greet the Premier, yet many were unable to gain entry to the rink. Even Senator McHugh might have had to remain out in the cold but for the bold manoeuvre executed by his admirers among the contingent of Lindsay L.C.I. students present, who, calling their football skill into play, elevated him shoulder high, formed in flying wedge shape, and made a successful "touch down" by carrying the Senator to a good seat many yards in advance.

What is the secret of these wonderfully attended meetings? The admittedly great personal magnetism of the Premier counts for much, and no doubt equally great must be the attraction of success. Peterboro, like most of the towns in Canada, languished under Tory rule, while under the government of Sir Wilfrid it has prospered as never before and taken only rank, and the hum from busy industries is heard on every hand. The citizens of Peterboro realize that Sir Wilfrid Laurier has kept the promises he made to them on the occasion of his last visit to the town in 1896, and Conservatives vied with the Liberals in giving him credit for pledges carried out. The great meeting meant more—it was an unmistakable expression of the people's intention to return a supporter of the Party of Progress in the person of Mr. R. E. Hall, Liberal candidate in West Peterboro.

What verdict are the voters of Lindsay going to render at the polls? Has the town not made substantial progress since 1896? Do we not wish more industries, a larger population, and all the good things which fall to the lot of well-situated centres when the business of the country is on the increase and confidence reigns in every breast? If we do, then we should be fair to the statesman who has already accomplished so much, and promises still greater things. We should send him a faithful supporter in the person of R. J. McLaughlin.

"STABILITY VERSUS FRIVOLITY."

R. J. McLAUGHLIN,
Liberal Candidate for Victoria and Haliburton.

ANOTHER GRIST OF FALSEHOODS AND SLANDERS.

In Hughes' famous red circular he makes a charge to the effect that R. J. McLaughlin tried to collect 20 per cent. commission, or $40 out of a $200 grant which he (Mr. Hughes) says he obtained to assist the township in the building of the new bridge at Rosedale. This statement is absolutely untrue. The cheque in question came through Mr. McLaughlin's firm and was awarded to the Township of Fenelon without any charge whatever, and, as a matter of fact, Mr. McLaughlin was in England at the time. In an old adage that "if you tell one lie you have got to tell ten more to cover it." That is the position that Hughes is in now, and in last week's Watchman-Varder he comes out in flaming type with "that 20 per cent. rake-off." He says nothing whatever about the $200 grant for the Rosedale bridge mentioned before, but goes into an entirely different transaction altogether, which is as follows:

When the dam at Rosedale was built more than thirty years ago the water was raised on Balsam Lake and flooded certain roads in the Township of Fenelon. When Alexander McGee was Reeve of the Township of Fenelon (one of the ablest Reeves the township ever had), he consulted Mr. McLaughlin, as township solicitor, about having the township recompensed for the additional expense in building these roads, and the Council authorized Mr. McLaughlin to take the matter up with the Government as township solicitor. Mr. McLaughlin and Mr. McGee went to Toronto about the matter, and after a great deal of correspondence, several trips to Toronto, and procuring and furnishing evidence, the Commissioner of Public Works appointed the late Thos. Walters, at the request of Mr. McLaughlin, as an arbitrator to settle the matter. Mr. McGee, Mr. McLaughlin and Mr. Walters went through the whole matter, and the location was examined and investigated, and finally Mr. Walters made an award of $432.50. This the Government thought was too much, and objected for some time to pay it. Mr. Taylor Parkin, when he became Reeve, was willing to take $100 in settlement of the matter, but Mr. McLaughlin refused to accept anything less than the fulfilment of the award, and finally, in December, 1901, the Government paid the award to Mr. McLaughlin as township solicitor.

The statement attributed in the Watchman to Taylor Parkin, Reeve, that "Mr. McLaughlin got $50, and gave the township the balance," is wholly untrue. The cheque itself was forwarded to Taylor Parkin personally the day it was received, and when Messrs. McLaughlin and Pool rendered their account to the Township it was approved by the Council and paid in the usual way by an order on the treasurer. A letter of thanks was written by the Clerk to Mr. McLaughlin. It was a matter of private business which no person but a spy would think of making capital of.

The whole trouble is—Mr. McLaughlin has done a great deal for the Township of Fenelon, his father was for many years a member of the Council of the Township of Fenelon, he was brought up in that township, and he has many warm friends there. Mr. Hughes has been endeavoring for years, vindictively, to estrange these friends from Mr. McLaughlin. We are glad to say that there is no other person small enough to do a thing of that kind.

This matter was with the Ontario

McLaughlin's strength and his own weakness lie. He is therefore following two ideas in this campaign; 1st, to bolster up his own reputation by silly self-praise; and 2nd, to injure Mr. McLaughlin's reputation by absolutely groundless slander. The electors will give a stinging rebuff to his due.

THE CANDIDATES.

R. J. McLaughlin, Liberal candidate for Victoria and Haliburton by unanimous choice of one of the finest organizations that ever assembled in the County Town of Lindsay.

It is a name to conjure with. It is the sign manual of a robust, deep-thinking and broad-minded personality. It is the birthright of one who is respected and admired for his commanding business and social qualities by all who enjoy his friendship or acquaintance, and of whom most of the men of the Townships who have not yet met him face to face and hand to hand have heard it said, "R. J. McLaughlin is a strong man and his word is his bond."

It is a name that should appeal with especial force to the voters of the united Counties because it belongs to one who is native born, who is one of themselves, and one who has risen from a lowly position in early life by sheer pluck and intense application—talents which have formed the sole capital of many ambitious young Canadians at the starting point of their careers, and which have aided many sons of Victoria and Haliburton in attaining positions of responsibility and honor in the various walks of life.

R. J. McLaughlin belongs to and is a type of that class of men of which neither political party can number too many among its adherents—the conscientious, high-minded, thoughtful citizens who are developing an interest in the politics of their country because of the rapid growth of a national sentiment among the people. These men would like to elevate politics to a higher plane, and they abhor the grafters and self-seeking professional politicians whose sole aim is to make use of their connection with one party or the other to advance their own ends, which, as a rule, are identical with the aims of some corporation or mercenary seeking special favors and willing to pay for them. With such men R. J. McLaughlin would have nothing in common, and if they elect him as their representative the people of the riding may depend on it that there will be a shattering of present ties and illicit bargains.

Mr. Sam Hughes, the Conservative candidate, may fairly be classed as a professional politician. A newspaper man of some years standing, he possibly experienced the bitter pangs of poverty associated in the public mind with that laborious and poorly rewarded profession, and being injured to a restricted diet and other mortifications of the flesh he cheerfully venerated the editorial chair and applied himself with renewed zest to his duties as lawbreaker. What matter that the pittance was small—the representative of North Victoria is a soldier—used to Spartan fare and emergency rations. He could go along, thank you. And he has—none better. He displayed the qualities of a patriot in making his choice between giving his sole attention to a neglected business or the service of his country. Battering that politics owed him a living, he elected to serve all the people in preference to a small community, and we have reason to believe that he never has regretted his choice. Things have come his way, and as his influence in certain circles at Ottawa increased, his position and the emoluments thereof grew more precious in his sight, and he simply couldn't bear to contemplate his resignation to private life. In an effort to prevent that disaster he packed the Conservative convention and insulted all who dared to remonstrate against his high-handed proceeding.

The following excerpt from a sermon recently delivered by Rev. Mr. Macdonald, his sole attention to a neglected business or the service of his country. Battering that politics owed him a living, he elected to serve all the people in preference to a small community, and we have reason to believe that he never has regretted his choice. Things have come his way, and as his influence in certain circles at Ottawa increased, his position and the emoluments thereof grew more precious in his sight, and he simply couldn't bear to contemplate his resignation to private life. In an effort to prevent that disaster he packed the Conservative convention and insulted all who dared to remonstrate against his high-handed proceeding.

The worst sins in politics to-day was selfishness—getting there your, self. If society were right, political life should be a very sacred life. The chief end of society was to train the individual to exorcise his functions of citizenship in a worthy manner. There was an ideal for politics and it lay in a deeper comprehension of national and individual development. He was prepared to say that a great number of politicians were in the game for what there was in it. These men would never make a grand nation of Canada. The kind of men wanted were men of a master passion, and there was really only one—sense of responsibility to God and to man. If he had not this, he was not fit for public life. The kind wanted was the one who never bowed before circumstances, but who moulded circumstances to his will, who leaned away from wrong. These were the men who assisted in making a history of brilliant achievements, men who placed principle and right before party. A man might talk well on the platform—it was easy, if he had the gift of gab. The man who hunted for office should be the last man to get it—the last to wield the scepter of government. If these men of strong character, principle and integrity were to be found, Canada's future was assured.

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR AN INDEPENDENT THINKING YOUNG MAN.

The present election—as far as this constituency is concerned—gives to independent thinking men, no matter what their previous inclinations may have been, the opportunity they desire. Mr. McLaughlin stands personally as high in the estimation of the public of the County as any man will can. He has been a brilliant student and is a man of great breadth, of wide reading, and accurate knowledge. A modest man, without pretensions, he will be the sound before, during and after the election. He is no professional politician. He only accepts the nomination at the urgent request of leading men of the party. He stands for all those who believe that the people of the County of Victoria and Haliburton should elect a man who recognizes where Mr.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED—BISHOP OF MCKENZIE RIVER A VISITOR.

An Encouraging Annual Report—Work has Steadily Increased—The Membership Exceeded Previous Years.

The tenth annual meeting of the Children's Aid Society was held on Friday last in the Y.M.C.A. parlors, with President, Dr. White in the chair and the following members present: Mrs. Drew, Mrs. McGill, Mrs. Milne, Mrs. Ray, Mrs. Sharpe, Mrs. (Dr.) McKay, Woodville, and Messrs. Dr. White, Hore, Rogers, Crawford, Rev. Mr. Marsh, Chief Neilson and Bishop Reeve, of MacKenzie River district. The minutes of the last annual meeting were read and adopted.

The President gave a brief, but impressive address on the great importance of the child saving work. The treasurer, Mrs. Milne, read a very gratifying report which was adopted.

Mrs. Sharpe, secretary, read the annual report, which was partly a review of the work performed during the period of the ten years since organization. The report was as follows:

The Annual Report.
Mr. President and members of the Society,—It is with great pleasure that we present to you the 10th annual report of this Society. Ten years ago it was the privilege and duty of your secretary to give notice of a public meeting of the citizens of this town would be held in the Council chamber for the purpose of hearing Mr. J. J. Kelso, of Toronto, the Superintendent of the Child Saving Department. Mr. Kelso's object in coming here was to create an interest in this work, and it is possible that the Society for the better protection of children, the outcome of the meeting was the formation of a Society which has been the medium of bettering the condition of about 55 neglected and dependent children of this town and county. Many of them, given number have been aided and provided for without being legally transferred to the care of the Society.

The 1st President of our Society was Mr. D. Ray, who very ably filled the position for 3 years. This new organization very soon had opportunity of manifesting its usefulness, in looking after two or three motherless children, whose father was quite incompetent of so doing. The home of the children was one of the very worst in town, yet the children were grown to be promising citizens owing to the timely aid of the Society. Soon again we were called upon to look after the interests of two little girls who were living with their mother some distance to the north of us. As this appeared to be a very difficult case to deal with, the Provincial Superintendent secured the services of Constable Short to aid in bringing the children to town. NEURALGIC PAINS

ARE THE CRY OF THE NERVES FOR BETTER BLOOD.

Enrich the Blood and Neuralgia will disappear—it is only those whose blood is poor and watery that suffer.

No part of the human system is more sensitive than the nerves. Many of the most excruciating pains that afflict mankind come from weak, shaky, shattered nerves, and among the nerve pains there is perhaps none causes more intense suffering than neuralgia, which generally attacks the nerves of the face and head, sometimes causing swift, darting, agonizing pains—at other times a dull, heavy, numbing feeling which makes life miserable. (There is only one way to get rid of neuralgia and other nervous troubles, and that is through the blood. Poor, watery blood makes the nerves shaky and nerve disease, rich, red blood makes the nerves strong and banishes all nerve troubles. No medicine in all the world can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a blood builder and nerve tonic; every dose helps to make rich, red blood, and every drop of this new blood feeds and strengthens the nerves and banishes all nerve aches and pains. Among those who offer strong proof of this is Mr. John McDermott, Bond Head, Ont., who says: "A few years ago while working as a carpenter in Buffalo I got the wet. I neglected to change my clothes and next morning I awoke with cramps and pains throughout my entire body. I was unable to go to work, so called in a doctor. I followed his treatment, but it did not help me. As I was unable to work I returned to my home at Bond Head. Here I consulted a doctor, who said I was suffering from neuralgia, but though he treated me for some time, he also failed to help me. I had often read of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, so decided to try them. I had not used more than three boxes before I felt they were helping me. From that on I gained day by day, and after I had used some ten boxes I had fully recovered my old time strength and have since been able to work at my trade without any trouble. The pains and aches no longer torture me and I have gained in weight. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an invaluable medicine and shall always have a good word to say for them."

Neuralgia, sciatica, rheumatism, St. Vitus dance, and the many other blood and nerve troubles all vanish when Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are used—but you must get the genuine, bearing the full name, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" on the wrapper around every box. Sold by all druggists or direct by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Obituary.

Orilla Times: The many friends of Dr. W. H. Muldrew, in this neighborhood, and those who had the pleasure of meeting him at the fall fair here three weeks ago, will learn with regret of his sudden death Friday afternoon. Mr. Muldrew taught for a short time in Orilla High School, leaving here to take the principalship at Grayhurst school. He visited friends here several times, and has acted as judge of children's week exhibit at our fair for the past two years and talked on weeds and how to get rid of them. He made many friends by his genial good nature, and his sudden death is very much mourned. Death was caused by diphtheria after an illness of less than two days. Some of our citizens will remember Dr. Muldrew, who visited the town some years ago. Mr. John Liggett, of the G.T.R. shops, town, is a cousin of the deceased.

Railway Notes.

About 400,000 bushels of wheat are stored in Midland elevators at present.

Half-a-dozen engines and train crews belonging to this division have been sent to Allandale until business picks up on this division.

There were 16 engines in and about the G.T.R. round-house yesterday and the main line has been hauled in the morning. Half-a-dozen gravel trains on the Midland-Brockville line.

So far this season the Canada Atlantic R. R. seems to be capturing all the western grain. Half-a-dozen vessels unloaded at Dept. Harbor last week, while not one grain-laden craft entered Midland.

The G.T.R. pay over reached Lindsay last Thursday. The amount paid was not as large as usual, the extra crews sent out during the month being few in number owing to a lull in the movement of general freight.

WHY THIS FALSE ACCUSATION?

(To the Editor of The Post.)
Sir,—My attention has been drawn to an article in last Monday's Evening Post, in which the Editor of the Westminster-Advertiser accuses me of falsehood. Well, I am sure we are all pleased to hear from Mr. Mallet again after his Rip Van Winkle existence of inactivity, but I am sorry to find that he has about as little regard for facts as he previously had. He says I said that he had refused publication to any more of my letters. I did, I was always of the opinion, and am still, that actions speak louder than words. My letter was dropped in the Lindsay office on Tuesday evening, and he admits receiving it Wednesday morning. I have never been asked for them earlier than this. The letter has been in his hands since Oct. 12th. It is still unpublished. Its sentiments are evidently unpleasant to him. Judge, reader. Again, he says he wrote me, immediately, his Wednesday morning, Oct. 12th. His letter bears the date of Oct. 13, and too late for the mail, that it might reach Glandine before Saturday, 15th inst. It did not before. This delay, you will see, shut my letter out of The Post as well.

Now Mr. Mallet sends his paper to Glandine fifty-two times a year, and he consequently knows our mail regulations, hence he is culpable for mailing late. He also says, in his letter to me, "It is unfortunate and a little curious that you could not have had it (the letter) reach us at least as early as it did The Post."

When I called to see him at his office on 15th inst., and told him how late it was, he said he had not time to get it, but the explanation was perfectly satisfactory, but that he did not care to publish a letter so damaging to his own candidate after it had been all round the country. From what I see of him lately, I believe here was the stickler. What would you think, reader?

I am not aware that The Evening Post goes much outside of town. He also says in his charge, "I was seen personally and assured re publication" when my letter followed stating that he would not publish my letter. Now, this is not, in any degree, in accordance with the facts as my letter was written in print, and I believe on the street, before I called at his office. Do you observe the side-light? I saw him again on Monday, Oct. 17th, at the Cornhill hotel, and he had the good taste to attack me re the matter while at dinner. I then told him he had said "no" in the most emphatic manner, but that I was willing to make any apology that was due him providing he was willing to publish the letter, and that he would find in the office a statement to that effect, which you know, Mr. Editor, is now in print, but by the way, judging from his present course, I could not conscientiously make now.

But in the face of this, I find him impatiently rushing into the paper with an insinuating and cowardly attack on myself and my letters. This was evidently his object from the first, as he has not had the manly courage to deal with them in a straightforward manner. He knows, hundreds of others do, that they are true.

Thanking you for this space, Mr. Editor, I am, yours etc.,
T. G. IRWIN.

Head About to Break from a Severe Bilious Attack.

"I had a severe bilious attack and felt like my head was about to burst when I got hold of a free sample of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. I took a dose of them after supper and the next day felt like a new man and had my bowels feeling better ever since," says Mr. W. Smith of Joliff, Texas. For biliousness, stomach troubles and constipation these Tablets have no equal. Price 25 cents. For sale by all druggists.

An Advertising Pointer.

New York's theatrical managers have learned a lesson in advertising over which they have been debating for years. At the beginning of the season the Managers' Association decided to confine their advertising efforts almost entirely to newspapers and cut out the display of lithographs in store windows. They did so. In consequence one month's trial has convinced them that the value of advertising through lithographs hung in store windows has been decidedly overrated.

Cause of Lockjaw.

Lockjaw, or tetanus, is caused by a bacillus or germ which exists plentifully in street dirt. It is inactive so long as exposed to the air, but when carried beneath the skin, as in the wounds caused by percussion caps or by rusty nails, and when the air is excluded the germ is caused to actively grow. These germs may be destroyed and all danger of lockjaw avoided by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely as soon as the injury is received. Pain Balm is an antiseptic and causes such injuries to heal without maturing. It is the best treatment. It is for sale by all druggists.

The Seedless Apple.

The revolutionary acquisition of the apple industry, the seedless, coreless type developed by Mr. John F. Spaulter, is described in a recent issue of the Fruitman's Guide. It is explained that there are stamens and pollen, as usual, but no blossoms. In its early development the fruit resembles in shape a small berry, which formation it retains until half grown, after which the characteristic apple form is assumed. The fruit, it is asserted, loses none of its flavor because of the absence of seed, and it makes-up. It is all meat there being no core, yet it has the usual apple appearance except for the small protuberance at one end, which has every appearance of the navel in the orange. This marvellous product of the plant kingdom is the result of seven years' labor.

WELL FED JAP SOLDIERS.

Three Meals a Day and Wine and Beer in the Canteens.

The Japanese soldier gets three meals a day, and he vaunted about, stentorianness is a legend. In former times he was satisfied with a little rice, but now his appetite has increased enormously. He rarely gets prepared rice; the custom is to give him cooked rice with decorated grain, which, by the way, he likes less than pure rice. This diet is prescribed to increase his physical strength, and to guard him against beriberi. At present the Jap soldier is served with fish and meat. For breakfast he has boiled corn and rice, bean soup and preserved vegetables. For dinner the has fish, meat, boiled rice and corn, and cooked vegetables. For supper the menu of the dinner is repeated. Consequently the Jap soldier sleeps comfortably.

In addition to this, he has the privilege of buying bread at the canteen. It is generally white bread, which he calls pan. He eats black bread, or kuropan, as he calls it. He can also procure at the canteen a sort of sweet biscuit, katapan, about as large as the palm of the hand as thick as the little finger. The canteen is run by the corporals and under officers, who have the same fare as the soldiers. Rice, wine and beer can be also had at the canteen. On New Year's day, the anniversary of the foundation of the empire, and on the birthday of the Mikado, the troops get carefully prepared rations, including a cake of soft rice, a white cake and a red cake and katapan, in addition of course, to the usual fare. So it appears that fish, meat, rice and corn form the nourishment of the Japanese soldiers, a nourishment far superior to that of the ordinary Jap. In the barracks the soldier sleeps in a wooden bed with woollen coverings.

In time of war, on the day of mobilization, the Jap trooper receives a red box covering. In his ankle which has many little pockets, he carries dry crushed rice and salted prunes. He has a bamboo tube filled with

CRYING!

What for? If you ask her she will tell you she doesn't know. She just feels nervous, that's all. A man is apt to have very little sympathy with this condition in his wife. He can't see any earthly reason why she should cry. She has plenty to eat, plenty to wear, and he does everything he can, he thinks, to make her happy; and in spite of that, she sits down all day crying softly to herself, apparently without any cause or reason. But there is a cause, and that cause is some disorder or disease of the delicate womanly organism. Unhealthy drains have taken away the vital force. Inflammation is fretting the nerves of the whole body. If women did but understand the intimate relation of the general health to the local health of the delicate womanly organs, they would realize that the quick way to establish the general health is to cure the local disorders. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription dries the drains that enfeeble women, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It is a medicine that can absolutely be relied upon to make weak women strong and sick women well. It contains no alcohol, and is entirely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics.

Women suffering from disease in chronic form are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free of charge. Dr. Pierce, assisted by his staff of nearly a score of physicians, has in a little over thirty years treated and cured more than half a million sick and ailing women. All correspondence is strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

COULD SOBERLY WALK.

"For the sake of poor, suffering women, I feel it my duty to inform you of the great benefit your medicine has given me," writes Mrs. C. C. Bowles, of Watts, Ireland, N. C. "I was in a chronic condition when I wrote to you. I had uterine disease so bad I could scarcely walk and suffered such dreadful misery I hoped to die. I was told by a friend to write to you for your 'Favorite Prescription' and I have taken eleven bottles of it, and two of your Pleasant Pellets. I feel thankful to God and to Doctor Pierce for the blessings I now enjoy. I have been two months old and never got along as well in my life. I can't praise your medicines enough."

NO USE FOR DOCTORS.

"About five years ago I had very poor health," writes Mrs. S. E. Whalen, of Holden, Kansas. "I was suffering from a chronic disease of the liver and kidneys. I had been told by a friend to write to you for your 'Favorite Prescription' and I have taken eleven bottles of it, and two of your Pleasant Pellets. I feel thankful to God and to Doctor Pierce for the blessings I now enjoy. I have been two months old and never got along as well in my life. I can't praise your medicines enough."

water. The company wagon carries, in addition to dried vegetables, dried fish, preserved meat, shojos (extract of beans), wine and cigars. The troop has a cooking stove, said to be made of pressed paper, rendered incombustible through some chemical progress. It is carried in the haversack. They use a great deal of paper in the Japanese army. The winter underclothing of the troops is made of waterproof paper. On the march the man carries only his rifle, his cartridges, his crushed rice, the coolies, Chinese and Korean, carry the rest far in the rear.

The bivouacs are arranged in a manner to procure the greatest possible comfort. The officers and men are supplied with furniture made of braided straw, camp beds and carpets. For the generals regular little houses are set up in short order. A great number of women follow the army. They cook the meals for the soldiers, and care for the wounded. Among them are many Chinese.

The war mail, now organized for the first time, renders excellent service. The soldier is forbidden to mention the regiment to which he belongs or the place from which he starts. He can write from the field of battle, but without indicating the locality or giving the date. The military administration attends to the work of transmitting the replies.

Deer Hunting Regulations.

Some of our citizens are not thoroughly informed as to the length of the deer hunting season in this part of the province this year. The Ontario Government extended the hunting season for moose, caribou and red deer in the territory north and west of French River to Nov. 20, five days longer than usual, which action brought requests from hundreds of hunters in other parts urging that the extension be made general owing to the Dominion elections occurring at the beginning of the regular season. At a Cabinet meeting it was decided that, as the required extension could not be made without the authority of the Legislature, game wardens in all parts of the Province should be notified not to prosecute hunters who have their homes on or after Nov. 3rd and hunt up to Nov. 20th. Those who start their hunt on Nov. 1st will be subject to the old time limit of two weeks. Mr. John Short, License Inspector, is issuing licenses to local hunters, and reports that the demand is growing brisk.

The U. S. Navy.

By the end of this month the United States navy will be increased by the addition of three powerful fighting ships. These are the battleships, Ohio, the armored cruiser Colorado, and the protected cruiser Chatanooga. There are also three new battleships of the first class rapidly approaching completion, the Rhode Island, Georgia and Connecticut. Why the United States should make this lavish expenditure in building warships when there is no prospect of war, and all the nations are displaying keen anxiety to keep on good terms with the great republic, is hard to understand. From 1902 to 1905 the naval and military expenditure will reach the enormous figure of two hundred and ninety-four million dollars, or more than either Germany or France will have expended in the same time on their armaments. Yet there is no nation on earth that has less cause for warlike preparation than the United States. She is absolutely invulnerable to attack except at the Philippines and Guam, and it would be sad to think that they were costing so much. The desire shown by the governments of Russia and Germany to win the good opinion of her people shows her to possess an enormous moral influence, which would be all the greater were she to refrain from the mad competition of armaments.—Montreal Witness.

PASSENGER STEAMER BURNED WEEKLY POST LETTER BOX

THE KENOSHA, OF THE KAWARTHA LAKES NAVIGATION CO.,

Caught on Fire at the Town Dock Early Last Saturday and Burned to the Water's Edge.

The finest vessel of Lindsay's fleet of steamers—the excursion steamer Kenosha, owned by the Kawartha Lakes Navigation Co.—was burned to the water's edge in the town wharf basin at an early hour last Saturday, and the blackened and charred hull now rests on the river bottom.

The steamer had been moored at the west end of the dock since the close of the excursion season, and was to have been taken to winter quarters in Bobcaygeon dry dock next week. At 2:15 a.m. a couple of the Flavelle Milling Co's employees crossed the pontoon bridge to the cars on the opposite side of the river, but saw no sign of life, yet five minutes later Mr. Geo. Doig, head miller, who happened to be in the third story, noticed a blaze and gave the alarm. Mr. Geo. Cornell rang up the fire hall from the box at the Y.M.C.A. corner and although the brigade res-

ANOTHER PARLOR CAR WANTED.

(To the Editor of The Post.)

Dear Sir,—Will you kindly permit me to use your valuable paper as a medium to publicly express my opinion of the present Grand Trunk Railway service on our branch lines. I spend the greater part of my time on the railroads of Ontario, and I wish to say the service on this branch of the G.T.R. is unexcelled, and with the addition of a parlor car on our mail train from Port Hope in the morning, and from Toronto in the evening, would attain perfection. The Peterboro Flyer has one, we know, and it wouldn't be complete without it, but that train makes no connections anywhere, and stops at few stations, so it fails to accommodate the vast majority who travel on the mail. Again, the Flyer is never crowded. Its day coach is so much superior to that on other trains that the general public are satisfied with the accommodation it affords, but not so on our mail trains. On these a parlor car is a necessity; would be extremely popular; and no doubt the revenue to the company would be

Mr. John Twohey, another brother, left last Friday morning. At last accounts Mr. Twohey was resting somewhat easier. His many friends to town and county will hope for his recovery.
- Globe: Mrs. J. W. Flavelle gave a very rare reception Thursday at her residence in Queen's Park to introduce her daughter, Miss Flavelle. The beautiful rooms were massed with chrysanthemums, and the refreshment table bore great vases of roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Flavelle wore a beautiful dress of cream all-over lace on silk. Miss Flavelle being in a dress of pearl white silk Brussels net, over white satin; she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. An orchestra played delightfully, alternating with charming selections on the great pipe organ in the library.

AN AID TO MOTHERS.

It doesn't help a sick baby to give it "soothing" drugs. On the contrary, it lessens baby's chance of recovery. If your little ones show any signs of being unwell promptly give Baby's Own Tablets and see how speedily they will be bright, cheerful and happy. This medicine is sold under a guarantee that it contains no poisonous soothing stuff, or harmful drug, and it cures all the little ills of babyhood and childhood. Mrs. W. H. Austin, Farmington, N. S., says: "Baby's Own Tablets are just what every mother needs when her little ones are getting their teeth. When my little one cries I give him a Tablet and it b-tips him at once. Mothers who use the Tablets will have no trouble with their babies." Baby's Own Tablets are sold by all medicine dealers or can be had by mail at 25 cents a box by writing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Canadian Shoes vs. American Shoes.

Rapid construction, exterior beauty, and instability are characteristics in the production of U. S. Shoes.

In addition to the extra freight charges, U. S. Shoes must pay 35 per cent duty before they can be sold in Canada. The dealer must either raise the price or the quality or the dealer must raise the price in proportion.

The characteristics of Canadian Shoes are solid service, comfort, and necessary but not at all at the expense of the cost of labor in producing Canadian Shoes is less than that of the U. S., on account of the lower cost of living.

Canadian Footwear lends the world for wear, comfort and style combined. Wear, please patronize a foreign industry!

A Splendid New Stock of Women's and Children's Outer Garments at Lower Prices Than Ever . . .

A great big and fine Stock of Outer Garments for Women, Misses and Children have been gathered here and are ready to step into.

Every store has its hobbies—dyes it may. And hobby goods get best attention. This ready-to-wear department is one of our hobbies and the business centered there is nearly twice as much as any other department in the store. And this season we are prepared for more business than ever. There is nothing like thoroughness in planning a crop or starting a business.

Our syndicate order for coats alone numbered up into thousands, and mostly all these were personally selected in Germany among such renowned makers as Mannheim, Kruger and Felix Lay, of Berlin and Vienna. A big stock of Women's Raincoats were also bought in London, England, and are now offered you at lower prices than ever. Our Costumes, Waists, Dress Skirts, Wrappers and Underskirts were bought from the biggest and best factories in Canada, and they represent the best styles, qualities and values you'll find anywhere. Prices were never more in your favor, for proof of which read the following.
